Snow Here Soon?

Rival Air Presses Race to City

A large-scale war between two conflicting weather systems could mean snow within "a day or two," weatherman William Mackie said today.

Participants are the cold air that is making most of the Prairies miserable today, and a storm centre over the eastern Pacific Ocean.

"Both are heading for the coast, and the cold air has reached the Cariboo," he said. "If the cold air gets here first, then the onset of the storm over it will mean snow for us."

The forecast, however, is for some cloud tonight and partial clearing with sunny periods Friday. Winds will be light, and temperatures will range between 25 degrees in the coldest areas tonight, and about 45 degrees Friday.

Unstable weather conditions today accounted for a smattering of sleet in mid-morning, Mr. Mackie said. Minimum temperature recorded here Wednesday night was 26 degrees.

Trail Voting Registrations Down 1,873

Chief Electoral Officer Fred Hurley expressed surprise today at a big drop in the list of registered voters for the Dec. 15 Rossland-Trail by-election.

"We gave the voters in that riding every chance to get on the list before registrations closed Nov. 22," Mr. Hurley said.

At Trail today it was stated a total of 13,024 citizens in the riding are eligible to vote for a new MLA—a drop of 1,873 from the 14,897 who were on the list at the time of the 1956 provincial general election.

In 1956, Mr. Hurley said, 10,148 or 68.5 per cent of the eligible voters exercised their franchise.

He added that the total vote among those registered this month could still reach a record level because of the interest shown in the election.

OFF LIST

"We sent out a letter to all persons in the riding who did not vote in the last election warning them their names would be taken off the list unless they registered by Nov. 22," Mr. Hurley said.

A government spokesman pointed out that at the time of the 1956 election a large number of people were employed on the Waneta dam, which has since been completed.

A number might therefore have moved out of the area.

At the same time, Mr. Hurley said, a large number of young people in the riding have reached the voting age of 19 since the 1956 election.

Nominations for the by-election close Dec. 8. The advance poll will be taken on Dec. 11, 12 and 13 with polling day on Dec. 14.

70 GIRLS FLEE BLOCK FIRE IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seventy girls, most of them in their nightclothes, escaped early today when fire shot through a west-end apartment block.

A fireman said later: "Five minutes more and it would have been a tragedy."

The working girls live in four-bed suites in the block, the Stadacona Business Girls' Residence.

Cause of the fire was not yet known. Wardens believe the furnace blew back and flames shot quickly up a light well to the roof.

SPECIAL POLICE GUARD MENZIES, DIEFENBAKER

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Special security precautions have been taken to protect Prime Minister Diefenbaker during his Australian visit because of a threat against Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies.

A man telephoned an Adelaide newspaper Tuesday saying he was going to shoot Menzies. A bodyguard has been added to Menzies' staff.

SAANICH IN TAPESTRY

Ingenious centennial project of McTavish school grades 4, 5 and 6 is colorful tapestry mapping Saanich peninsula, showing original pre-emptions, decorated with historic mural. Needlework, here admired by Mrs. Marjorie David and Barbara McLennan, will be hung in honored place in provincial library soon. — (Times photo by Strickland.)

'GORILLA-LIKE'

Fuss Raised Over Statue Of Churchill

LONDON (Reuters).—A two-ton statue of Sir Winston Churchill today was described as "gorilla-like" and a "disgrace."

The eight-foot-high statue, costing £5,000, will be unveiled next May in Woodford, the London suburb represented by Churchill in Parliament for more than three decades.

But some of Woodford's citizens, who raised the funds for the statue, took a preliminary peek today—and raised a howl. A delegation will visit sculptor David McFall's studio Saturday to discuss whether his statue does honor to the elder statesman.

Careless Driving 'Out' in Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—No arrests for careless driving are to be made pending an appeal of an Ontario Supreme Court ruling that the charge is invalid, Deputy Attorney-General W. B. Common announced today.

He said police have been instructed to issue summonses for the offence instead of arresting violators.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said in a ruling handed down Wednesday the province's careless driving law is invalid because it trespasses on criminal legislation passed by Parliament.

The Chief Justice said in his written judgment that every case coming under the careless driving section could be prosecuted under the criminal negligence section of the Criminal Code of Canada "even where death ensued."

Coalition Government In Iceland Resigns

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—The coalition government of Premier Hermann Jonasson resigned today in face of increasing economic difficulties.

Heavy Fog Ties Up London Area

LONDON (Reuters)—Trains ran late, planes were grounded and motorists crawled to work this morning when fog blanketed large areas in the midlands, east and South England.

Both London Airport and its reserve field at Gatwick in Surrey were shut down. For the third day shipping was halted in the Thames.

The port of Liverpool and the River Mersey area was clear for the first time for nearly a week. Liverpool Airport resumed normal operations.

Homes, Markets Ravaged By Starving Brazilians

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Three shiploads of supplies were being sent today to northeast Brazil where 4,000 starving victims of a drought were ravaging Caninde City in search of food.

Other cities in the stricken states were preparing to defend their stockpiles against men, women and children swarming in from country areas where fields are barren and cattle have died from thirst and starvation in the two years of drought.

The mayor of Caninde—population 50,000—appealed for federal and state troops to reinforce local police as the marauders, known as Flagellantes, (The Beaten Ones), sacked stores, homes and markets.

The desperate Flagellantes were trekking through the coast and the bigger Brazilian cities in hope of finding employment and food there.

The supply ships now sailing are carrying rice, beans, dried beef and flour.

Meanwhile, Congress investigated alleged misappropriation of special relief funds allocated to the national highway department and national anti-drought works department to provide emergency jobs for the Flagellantes.

The funds, which have dwindled, were reported spent on political campaigns in October's elections.

The government now is putting thousands to work on the construction of the new capital, Brazilia, and others are being employed on government projects and plantations.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Help us, O God, to take seriously Jesus' admonition to avoid all covetousness. In our gratitude to Thee for material blessings keep us from attachment to things. May we sit loose in relation to gadgets and conveniences and cling closely to compassion and concern for the well-being of others. Grant unto us in profusion the grace of generosity; in the name of Him who gave His life for us. Amen.

A few more of these visits an' our gals'll hev that curtsy down pat.

People and Things

LONDON — For six years Mrs. Margaret Lingham-French took husband John his morning cup of tea in bed. She was still doing it this morning though they were divorced nine days ago.

"It's hard to break the habits of six years of marriage," explained Mrs. Lingham-French, dark-haired and 36. "Even though we are divorced, I still cook his meals and do the washing up. And when I've done the washing up, I'll be darned his socks."

Mrs. Lingham-French won her divorce on the ground of cruelty and moved into another bedroom. But she can't move out of the house because she hasn't yet found an apartment she can afford on the £5 a week he agreed to give her for herself and their three children, Margaret 5, Hillary 4, and Katrina 2.

Wednesday she went back to the divorce court and got an order forbidding John from molesting her while they are under the same roof.

"I'm still very fond of him," she said. "When he's being pleasant, he can be very good company."

LONDON—Mrs. Jean Barnes won a divorce Wednesday after the judge said her husband's refusal to speak to her from October to January was "enough to drive any woman round the bend."

LATINA, Italy — A young bride swallowed her husband to stop her husband going out with the boys.

"My husband wanted to go out with his friends for the first time since we were married a month ago," 21-year-old Adriana Segala tearfully told doctors at hospital, where she was taken for surgical treatment.

"I wanted him to stay at home with me. He insisted on leaving so I grabbed the key and swallowed it."

The husband had to break down the door to take his wife to the hospital.

AUSTIN, Tex. — President Eisenhower has been asked to write a happy ending to the life story of author O. Henry. The Texas Heritage Foundation appealed to the president this week to grant a full pardon for the short story writer, who served a five-year sentence on a charge of embezzling $851.08 from an Austin bank. He died in 1910 at the age of 48.

CHICAGO—Four children cheered on by mobs of Christmas shoppers, were turned loose in the dazzling world of downtown toy departments Wednesday with permission to "take all you can in five minutes, free."

The haul? Bicycles, dolls, trains, balls and a wagon amounting to more than $1,379 retail.

The kids, three boys and a girl, aged 9 to 12, won a State Street council contest to name the elf-like figures atop new light poles down the loop thoroughfare. The council footed the bill.

YUGOSLAV government has turned down any reduction in prison term of Milovan Djilas, former vice-president. Djilas was imprisoned for hostility to the Tito regime and recently there were rumors his sentence might be reduced. Djilas is serving a nine-year sentence imposed in 1957.

Fire Victims
Final Rites

CHICAGO (UPI)—Funeral services were to be held today for three nuns and three of their 87 young charges who perished in Monday's fire in the Our Lady of The Angels School.

Services will be held Friday for 57 of the boys and girls killed in the fire, including a requiem-mass to be offered by Archbishop Albert G. Meyer at the northwest armory. Twenty-eight families agreed to the mass services to be held at the armory, while 29 arranged for private services.

Manitoba Area Belted
By Another Blizzard

WINNIPEG (UPI)—Blocked highways and gale-force winds plagued southern Manitoba today in the wake of its third blizzard in 17 days.

The latest snowstorm was driven by winds up to 70 miles an hour and dumped as much as six more inches of snow in parts of the province overnight.

Canada Bond Issue
Sold Out In Hour

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Bank of Canada Wednesday night reported that books were closed on the new $400,000,000 issue of Government of Canada bonds one hour after they went on sale.

The issue was over-subscribed, the bank said. Finance Minister Donald Fleming said the bond sale would be used to pay off a $400,000,000 short-term bank loan obtained last July.

The snowfall ceased today as the storm swept eastward into Ontario, but winds up to 50 miles an hour continued to cause serious drifting problems in both rural and urban areas. Police reported today that many of the province's highways were nearly closed to traffic because of extreme drifting conditions.

The RCMP said that abandoned cars added to the traffic hazards and, again, urged motorists to keep off the roads. Two more inches of snow fell on Winnipeg during the night, but 6.2 inches was reported at Gimli, Man.

No further snow was forecast for the Manitoba storm belt today, but continued northeast winds were forecast along with falling temperatures. Readings as low as 15 below in the Carman area and five below zero in Winnipeg.

A-ARMED PLANE CRASH
COULD TOUCH OFF WAR

LONDON (AP) — Russia claimed today that an accident to a nuclear-armed U.S. plane—such as took place last week at Lake Charles, La.—could one day accidentally touch off world war.

An air force B-47 medium jet bomber caught fire on the flight line at Chennault Air Force Base Nov. 26 while carrying a nuclear weapon. The fire did not reach the weapon. The U.S. government has said repeatedly there is no possibility of an atomic or hydrogen bomb being exploded accidentally.

"Accidents of this kind have become routine events in the U.S. Air Force," said Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, as quoted by Moscow Radio.

ILLEGAL GIFTS UP TO ONTARIO

Bonner Mum on Liquor

Attorney General Robert Bonner declined comment today on a statement by the Ontario Liquor Control Board that accepting a bottle of liquor as a Christmas gift is just as illegal as giving it.

"This is an Ontario matter and I do not wish to be quoted on it," Mr. Bonner said.

The attorney-general made the same reply when asked concerning a statement from Toronto that the Ontario attorney-general's department is prepared to fight an Ontario Supreme Court judgment which could eliminate the careless driving charge—one of the most widely used sections of the Highway Traffic Act.

"That again is an Ontario matter," Mr. Bonner said.

The Ontario Liquor Control Board spokesman said under the Liquor Control Act the onus is on the person with the liquor to prove it has been obtained legally.

The question came up when one of Canada's major distilleries mailed thousands of illustrated brochures to Ontario residents suggesting its products for gifts.

In regard to the careless driving charge, Ontario Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said the province's careless driving law is invalid because it trespasses on criminal legislation passed by Parliament.

Crisis in Finland
As PM Resigns

HELSINKI (AP)—Finnish Prime Minister August Fagerholm resigned today.

Fagerholm quit after the five Agrarian party members of the cabinet resigned, taking away the coalition government's majority in Parliament.

Fagerholm handed his resignation to President Urho Kekkonen, who asked him to stay on until a new government can be formed. Fagerholm agreed, at least for the remainder of the week.

Fagerholm also will take over the post of foreign minister in the interim. Foreign Minister Johannes Virolainen led the walkout of his Agrarian colleagues.

BRING PRESSURE

Soviet economic pressure has been brought against Finland since Fagerholm left the Communists out of his government although they had become the largest parliamentary bloc in the elections last July.

To pay war reparations, many Finnish industries were adapted to Russian needs and now lack of western markets. Early last month the Russians cut off some imports from Finland and since have refused to receive a Finnish trade delegation.

Unemployment has been increasing recently by about 6,000 a week and now stands at 65,000 in a nation of 4,315,000. At this time last year there were 44,000 jobless.

Payoff For Safe Drivers

Accident-free Victoria drivers may pay as much as 10 per cent less for "pink slip" auto insurance next year.

Overall average drop here will be three per cent. This was disclosed in a survey of B.C.'s 200 car insurance firms.

In contrast to Victoria, Upper Island rates will increase an average 1 per cent. In Vancouver the average hike is 2 per cent.

An industry spokesman said third party liability covering bodily injury and property damage will be down as much as 10 per cent here. Third party liability is the "backbone" of auto insurance coverage and the minimum required for a pink slip.

In other parts of B.C., most motorists will pay the same third party liability premiums but collision, fire and theft and comprehensive premiums are up.

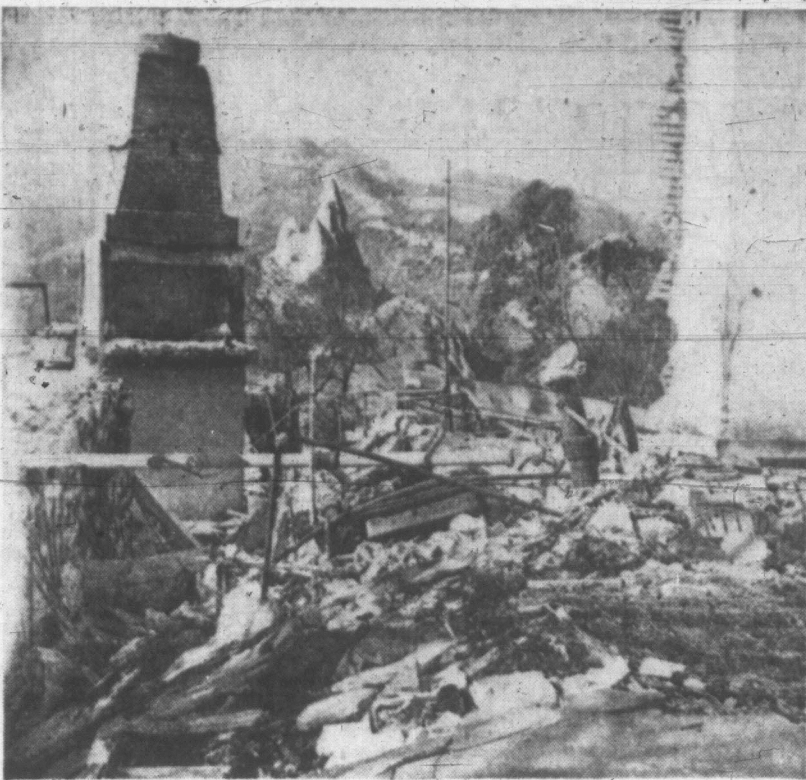

Comprehensive premiums will rise from 10 to 30 per cent in areas where autos roll over predominantly gravel roads.

This year underwriters are introducing a mandatory $25 deductible clause for glass coverage to comprehensive policyholders. Last year the $25 deductible was optional.

The spokesman said the new clause follows the increasing cost of replacing windshields and rear wrap-around windows prone to rock injury. As an example, the spokesman said the rear window of the 1959 Oldsmobile costs $340 to replace.

Drivers boasting one-year accident-free records will get a 10 per cent discount on their 1959 premiums. The discount jumps to 20 per cent for drivers with two-year accident-free records and to 35 per cent for those motorists who have gone three years without mishap.

Motorists living outside Victoria, Vancouver and the Upper Island will pay overall average increases of 5 to 7 per cent.

OVER SWEDEN?

Sputnik Rocket Down

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Scientists today assumed the rocket which launched Russia's Sputnik III into orbit last May 15 has plunged to a fiery death.

The rocket, weighing between two and five tons, was last seen in orbit Wednesday morning. There have been no sightings of it since.

From Oslo, Norway, came a report some people said they saw the last ride of the Russian carrier rocket moving in the direction of Sweden.

Reports from near the Swedish border said a burning rocket was seen in mid-afternoon Wednesday.

The plunge of the Sputnik III rocket leaves four satellites still circling the globe—Sputnik III itself and three American satellites.

Firemen Check Malibu Blaze

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A huge brush fire that ravaged the hills behind this beach colony appeared to be burning itself out today after a furious three-day assault.

Firemen were firmly in control of more than half of its 37-mile perimeter. They had hopes of completely subduing the blaze some time today or Friday.

Pockets of flame in the deep canyons of the Malibu

Hills still offered fierce resistance, however, and fire officials warned that rising winds could set the whole front ablaze again.

In its terrifying eight-mile rush across the hills to the sea shore, the fire charred 18,000 acres and destroyed 29 homes.

Upwards of 300,000 persons spent from one day to a couple of weeks at campsites in Ontario's provincial parks in 1958.

'Let's Act, Not Just React'

NEW YORK (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson of Canada suggested Wednesday night East and West should get together to discuss Berlin, German reunification, central European disengagement and West Germany's position in NATO.

Mr. Pearson said the West should resist any effort by Russia to change the status of Berlin by force. But this in itself was not enough.

"We've got to make our own counter proposal," he said. "Why is it that we are always reacting (to Soviet proposals) instead of acting?"

Mr. Pearson made the comments on the live CBC program Close-Up in a talk with Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the United States Democratic Party. The program was televised nationally in Canada.

In their half-hour chat the two statesmen talked about Canadian-American relations, the differences in the political systems of the two countries, and other topics.

Mr. Stevenson pointed out that Canada's trading problem with the United States was only one of many things the United States has to worry about, while Mr. Pearson noted that to Canada it was possibly her biggest difficulty.

Mr. Stevenson, who recently returned from a visit to Russia, said the Soviets are apprehensive about East Germany.

Berlin was a hemorrhage in the heart of Communism and the Communists therefore wanted to snuff it out.

Music Best Universal Language

Music, profoundly related to human experience, is perhaps the most successful universal language so far created. Dr. Gordon Tracy of Victoria College told a recent meeting of the Victoria branch, B.C. Music Teachers' Association.

This is because music is chiefly concerned with expression of moods and feelings, he said.

Related to the spoken word, harmony and counterpoint have their counterparts in grammar and syntax, he said.

Music, while not unlike linguistic activity and mathematics, is more intimately related to man's experience, he maintained, because it is not as abstract.

To the Well Too Often

NOBODY WANTS TO SHOOT Santa Claus. Nobody wants to deny any worthy cause the financial support it seeks.

But the appeals are coming too thick and fast in this community.

This is the condition which the Community Chest was organized to avoid. It was founded on the principle that better results could be achieved by going to the public in one big campaign, asking for substantial donations, and leaving the householder alone during the rest of the year.

This principle did not, of course, prevent the individual from giving assistance to causes of particular interest to him. No effort was made to discourage anyone; contributing to his church, to any association or organization close to his heart, or to individuals in serious need of immediate help.

The Community Chest attempted, rather, to protect the householder from constant dunning.

The success of the united appeal has been strictly limited. It managed to combine the approach of a score of groups into one campaign that was to extend over a month. And by so doing, it left the 11 other months in the year open.

In effect, it created a partial vacuum. An increasing number of worthy causes have flowed into the vacuum and the results are obvious.

Mr. Justin Harbord, campaign chairman of the Community Chest, has detailed some of the difficulties faced by this region—difficulties which left the Chest about 10 per cent short of its $300,000 objective.

"It is apparent," said Mr. Harbord, "that there are too many fund drives in this area and too many charitable agencies, for one reason or another, refusing to join the Chest. There are so-called charitable organizations raising money from the citizens of Lower Vancouver Island with no real justification at all for their existence. There are organizations appealing to the public for funds and spending up to 50 per cent of the moneys collected for expenses, as compared to the 9 per cent expense factor of the Community Chest.

"There are organizations raising funds which are misleading the public as to what use they intend to put those funds.

"There are professional canvassers collecting funds in the city by mail and by solicitation, virtually every week, on behalf of organizations in Eastern Canada and the United States, about which absolutely nothing is known at all. The retail merchants have reported to our canvassers that there are as many as five to ten calls a week made upon them for merchandise or cash donations—in many, many cases there is little or no apparent justification for the existence of the organization making the appeal."

This is the forthright statement of a man in a position to know the facts.

In Victoria the pitcher is being taken to the well too often.

The remedy is harsh — some legislation which will cut down on the number of appeals, perhaps by insisting on more stringent requirements from those making the appeals. What is needed is deep surgery on the body of demands now being made on the private purse.

It will be painful. It will be unpopular. But unless it is performed, appeals for worthy causes will languish to a greater degree than they are languishing now.

Another Look at School Safety

CHICAGO'S TRAGIC SCHOOL fire has inevitably caused concern to adults in virtually all other communities. How safe, they want to know, are their children in the schools they attend?

Victoria's fears have been allayed to some degree by the words of the mayor and the fire chief. They express belief that reasonable precautions are taken to avoid danger.

It may be said with some justification, moreover, that children in school are generally safer from fire risks than they are in the majority of their homes.

That may be true, but no building is 100 per cent safe under all imaginable circumstances.

It is conceivable that fire might cut off existing escape routes for students in top-floor classrooms. If the corridor were blocked, how then would the children make their ways out of the buildings? Those trapped in their upper floor rooms might have to jump, with possibly fatal results, unless some device were provided to ease them to the ground below.

In certain Canadian schools chutes are furnished for just this eventuality. Whether or not they are feasible here is a question for the authorities to decide.

At all events, it seems the course of prudence to provide, knotted ropes, or rope ladders, suitably boxed, for such classrooms.

To offset the possibility of corridors being blocked by flames or choking smoke, the school board might consider the installation of sprinkler systems. The cost entailed would be nothing in comparison to the cost of a human life.

How the authorities may go about training teachers and students against panic is a matter that deserves very serious study. It is not one for snap judgment. Conceivably present fire drills help to establish discipline, which is a safeguard against panic. But it will be generally admitted that, to date, those drills have proved only how quickly schools can be vacated when there is no fire.

Ready on the Job

IT IS DIFFICULT TO SAY AT this distance just how serious was the outbreak of artillery fire on the Israeli-Syrian border yesterday. The general situation in that area, however, is dangerous enough. It is not difficult to imagine the probable results if the shelling had been continued for any time, with a heavy casualty list and outraged national feelings.

As it was, the incident provided an excellent example of the benefit of the United Nations system of neutral observers. Without arms or any support save that of world opinion and the prestige they have already built up, the U.N. officials were able to effect a cease-fire before extensive damage had been done.

This example alone justifies the principle and practice of United Nations "keep the peace" teams. And it points to the desirability of a further extension of U.N. peace forces for use in more serious situations where more weight may be needed.

Family of Man

IT IS DISTRESSING TO HEAR that color prejudice has prevented a young East Indian from renting a home in a certain Victoria neighborhood — encouraging to hear the indignation this show of prejudice has aroused.

The conscience of the community is soothed by the offers of other property owners to make accommodation available to him, and it is encouraging to note that residents of the protesting neighborhood, on second thoughts, have recognized the young man and his family as human beings, too.

A Popular Form of Recreation

EVERYONE WHO HAS HAD any experience of British Columbia's provincial camp and picnic sites will approve the Federal Government's decision to establish a system of similar sites across Canada on the route of the Trans-Canada Highway.

With just enough amenities provided to make camping easy for family groups, such locations give citizens an opportunity to enjoy their own natural resources at first hand. Strategically situated along a main route they are convenient for travellers who wish to enjoy the outdoors while on holiday.

The present plan, which divides costs between the Federal Government and the provinces, will see a camping ground every 100 miles and a picnic site every 50 miles along the national highway. The funds could hardly be better spent — a fact borne out by the increasing use of all available camping sites by a public increasingly alive to their value.

"He may think it's complicated ... but I have a simple answer..."

Concerning Two Men in a Dark Doorway

THE aging democrat, who remembers the bad old days of Canadian politics, western style, will be deeply encouraged, I'm sure, as he contemplates the elevating by-election in Rossland-Trail — certainly the most important in British Columbia's modern history, one of the most important of its sort in Canadian history. It is important nationally, I mean, because its real issue (whether the local voters know it or not) is the future of the nation's major hydro-electrical resources. It is elevating because the methods of the bad old days are no longer in use.

Hutchison

This vast change in our political morals can be discerned at once by anyone who recalls the once famous but now forgotten by-election of Nelson, in 1924, when a defeated Liberal premier, the late John Oliver, was looking for a seat.

On a certain dark night the premier's political manager (a fine man personally, long dead, whose name I shall omit) could have been seen walking discreetly through the back streets of Nelson to a certain rendezvous. In fact, he was seen, by an unlikely coincidence, and the man who saw him was the late Harry Pooley, another prince among men, who was then managing the Conservative party.

Mr. Pooley had also gone out for an evening stroll, to escape the fetid atmosphere of the political back-room, and the sight which met his eyes was never forgotten.

As he must have told me a dozen times afterwards, he watched the premier's manager sink into a doorway, another vague figure emerge from the door and speak softly in a foreign accent. The conversation was brief and muffled but its meaning was clear.

WITH adequate money, certain foreign-born voters could be persuaded to see their duty and elect the premier. And then Pooley saw a fat roll of bills pass from the hands of the manager to the mysterious stranger who vanished through the doorway.

Pooley walked away meditating the science of practical politics as practised in those days. As he expected, Oliver was elected and of course that scrupulously honest man, probably the ablest premier British Columbia ever knew, never heard of the conversation in the dark doorway. Pooley, who fought and loved Oliver, told no one of these things until long after all the other participants in this interesting affair had gone to a better world.

TODAY, in the adjoining constituency of Rossland-Trail, a new and higher morality is practised. No political managers stroll through the back streets at midnight, their pockets weighted with folding money. No mysterious strangers appear in doorways to receive it. There is no Pooley, alas, to observe and, by his gentleman's strict code, to conceal the seamy under-side of politics. In fact, politics no longer has a seamy under-side. Everything is in the open.

Governments in our enlightened age do not distribute five-dollar charities to individual voters. They distribute public works, roads, bridges and buildings, to the voters collectively. Or if the election is in the federal field all parties distribute promises of every sort which can be redeemed cheaply, painlessly and honestly by debasing the currency.

WE no longer play a cheap, piker's game in dark doorways with a few thousand dollars, cash. We operate in full daylight with billions, in credit. Our complete moral reformation is certainly encouraging to any democrat.

Yet there are still a few veteran democrats who long ago began to wonder if the new system were really much better than the old.

Thinking of current events in Rossland-Trail and other places, I remem-

Trained Men

A WAR Office advertisement which appeared in the London Evening News the other day marks the biggest blow to the illusions of cloak-and-daggerophiles since the Encyclopedia Britannica classified Intelligence "as being of three kinds—human, animal, and military."

It asked for "ambitious young men with qualities of personality, integrity, resourcefulness and initiative to train for Military Intelligence in the Regular Army."

What seems particularly shocking, apart from the appalling openness of it all, is the very meagre requirement in the way of qualifications. "Applicants must be between the ages of 17½ and 30 and physically fit. A GCE standard of education is desirable but not essential."

Anyone slightly acquainted with the literature on the subject will know that the successful employees of the sad grey-haired, steely-eyed men in the small back rooms of the "War House" must, at very least, be able to drink vodka, tokay, brandy, and scotch in sufficient quantity to cause "all about them to be losing theirs."

Nor is any mention made of the necessity of being a vintage Bentley owner or even that most elementary qualification, charm, which has allowed our good "club-men" to love or leave the Marys and the Irmas to the detriment of the "other side" for so many years.

What chance will this new generation of Welfare State Kims stand when pitted against the brutal Teutons, the silent Slavs, and the sinister Orientals who have been hammering at the gates for so many years?

By special arrangement with The Manchester Guardian.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Time, Pleadse

May I use your columns to request the young people who removed a Zenith "Sports" watch and two ladies' watches from the window of The Clock Shop on Monday afternoon to return them? They did not look like "professionals" and I am sure they would not like to have this matter on their minds during the season of good will.

Anonymously in the mail is the easiest way to return them.

GORDON PETTER

Inherent Right

The defeat of fluoridation in Regina and in Calgary last year, proves that Canadians, who think for themselves, refuse to be pushed around by the U.S.A.

Freedom from coercion by others is our inherent right. To compel a person to swallow a substance (poison) and also contribute to the expense of a thing which is abhorrent to him, is depriving him of his constitutional liberty; the liberty or freedom of choice.

Coercion always has been the mother of rebellion. Each individual should view with alarm all efforts to deprive him of any of his hard-won freedoms or to cause him to surrender the precious right of personal preference.

J. E. W. COLLIS.

Fire In Schools

astrosus school fire in Chicago and noting our local Fire Chief's statement that our children are comparatively safe in the event of fire, I feel that those responsible for fire safety have missed two vital elements in their plans and procedures.

1. Reducing panic to a minimum.

2. Escaping via alternate routes and exits.

Panic destroys all the preconceived plans for safety in schools and is probably the largest factor in the cause of accidents and deaths. Panic is one of the most difficult conditions to avoid and control, and panic overtakes adults as well as children. Experience undoubtedly is the best remedy for panic, but I don't think we should be setting fires, real or simulated, in schools every couple of months just to gain experience.

Escape via alternate routes and exits is something that can be controlled and practised. If fire drills are still arranged in the same manner as when I was in public school some 20 years ago, the siren blew, the teacher gathered up the pupils and then—without checking or looking out the door to see if there was a fire and where it might be—we made a beeline for the nearest exit.

Of course, the teacher knew it was only a drill and the whole object was to beat the fire chief's stopwatch (two minutes for a three-storey school of 700 pupils) and all the exits were used. I wonder what would have happened if two or three of the stairwells and exits were blocked?

Without going into details, for that involves local conditions, school fire drill programs, I consider, should incorporate the following:

1. Planning of alternate escape routes.

2. Fire drills should all be spontaneous.

3. Barricades at some unannounced exit or stairwell—to force use of alternate routes (maybe smoke bombs?).

4. Rope ladders in each second or third floor classroom.

No doubt some of these items are already practised in Victoria schools but possibly a reappraisal of the school fire drill may be justified with a view to reducing panic.

Freedom of Opinion

I have just read the letters referring to the "scandalous way" in which the premier, Mr. W. A. C. Bennett, was treated when he visited Victoria College last Wednesday.

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

Dec. 4, 1898 — With the advent of winter the vagrants are beginning to gather in the city, giving the police considerable employment in rounding them up.

Dec. 4, 1918 — London: Chancellor of the Exchequer, Andrew Bonar Law, confirms that the British Government has decided to press the Allies to bring the Kaiser to trial.

Dec. 4, 1938 — Bradford, England: Cabinet member Earl De La Warr today warned Germany not to repeat the 1914 mistake of thinking Great Britain decadent.

Mr. Briggs to lie and smear the Social Credit Party.

To me, and evidently to many of the college students, this evasiveness was rather suspicious.

As far as I was concerned, it had been a great deal of fun. I had seen democracy and freedom of speech at work, and had seen lots of high spirits and excitement. The whole meeting had been perfectly harmless. No one was hurt. If B.C. had been Russia, and Mr. Bennett, Mr. Khrushchev, as one of our profs told us, we would be heading towards Siberia...

It seems silly to me that people should object to that meeting. University students all over the world are known for their liveliness and interest in public affairs. Maybe we don't know as much about it as our elders, and maybe we aren't as polite, but still we believe in freedom of opinion, which, evidently some of them don't.

INDIGNANT
COLLEGE STUDENT.

University In Five Years

I noted with great interest that last week Premier W. A. C. Bennett had made the promise to the student body that within five years Victoria College would be given degree granting powers.

A tremendous amount of credit should be given Mr. Ron Cook and the students for this real accomplishment towards the further development of Victoria College to University status. These particular young people can be remembered by future generations as those who obtained that commitment. Let us salute them for it, and let us hope that they, the college board, and indeed all the people of Vancouver Island and other parts of the province will ensure that the promise is fulfilled.

Let no person imagine that such a privilege would be the most remote reflection upon our own great University of British Columbia. Each year the UBC is making new records and moving to greater things. Long before now its future was assured. But there is no valid reason why higher education in British Columbia should be poured in a single mould. A Victoria University specializing in certain courses is complementary to, not competitive with, the other greater institution of learning.

Heigh Ho! Heigh Ho!

WHAT'S THAT? You haven't made your Christmas cake? My dear, how sloppy. The best wives made their cake days and even weeks ago.

I quite agree. Domestic pacesetters are a pain in the neck. But we must do our bit. The spirit that made the Empah, and all that stuff you know!

So let's get at it, and stop this dilly-dallying. Gird up the loins to put fat on our hips! Confound those blinking calories. Though, actually, I can't eat the way I did when I was a girl.

Okay. You have all the ingredients, I suppose? It's so maddening to find you're out of something when you're half way through.

Let's line the baking tin right now! It's such a fiddling, tiresome task that it's best to get it over.

Now then—the three big basins, for dry ingredients, for fruits and for the batter.

No wilting now. I have my sleeves rolled up and my apron on. Get at it, girl, get at it.

Dry ones first—5 cups of flour, 2 teaspoons of BP, 1 teaspoon of salt, 2 of cinnamon (oh what a lovely smell) and ¼ teaspoon of nutmeg. Sift and measure twice, the recipe says. So I guess we'd better do it.

Now, Basin No. 2 for the fruits.

1 pound of 'glace cherries, 1 pound of mixed peel. (You have Cake Fruit instead of peel? That's okay with me. Slap her in.) 2 pounds of raisins, ½ pound of walnuts or almonds, 4 rings of candied pineapple. (I wonder what they use to dye them those bright colors? It probably plays hob with the lining of the stomach. But let's not get too technical.) Now dredge the fruit with 1½ cups of the dry ingredients.

Ruth

Oh, toss in the grated rind of this large orange. What a mercy we didn't forget!

Now Basin No. 3 and a workout for the biceps. 1½ cups of butter. Cream it well. Gradually add 1½ cups of brown sugar, and cream till fluffy. Add 7 unbeaten eggs two at a time, and beat well after each addition. Isn't that stupid when 2 won't go into 7 evenly. Beat it, girl, beat it. Sweated labor? Don't be silly. It's just part of marriage!

One more thing, ¼ cup of fruit juice. Well, juice from the orange, dear, and anything else you have on hand. It says 2 teaspoons of brandy flavoring. You have REAL brandy? My goodness, you do live high. Slish her in then. We might as well do the thing in style.

Now just keep calm for another 10 minutes. Here, in front of you, are the three basins and the cup of fruit juice.

Now, add Basin No. 1 (sifted dry ingredients) to Basin No. 3 (the sugar and butter and egg mixture.) Add it alternately with the fruit juice. Flour goes first and, last, of course.

Now, pour the batter over the fruit, and blend it with your hands. Don't squeeze, it says. Now dump in a little jar of home-made jelly.

No, don't lick your fingers. That's a filthy thing to do. My God, the telephone, and our hands like this. Let's not answer it. Probably just some pest with a magazine subscription or medical insurance.

Do I want a swig of brandy from what's left in the bottle? What a very fine idea. I'm all for having a little nip.

Heigh ho, heigh ho, it's into the tin we go, and off to an oven at 300 degrees. Two to three and a half hours, depending on whether we've used one tin, or two, or even three.

Better hide them in a safe place when they're done. But don't forget where the safe place is.

Piles Pre-Cancerous?

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many people ask if piles (hemorrhoids) or fissures in the anal canal are pre-cancerous. No! I have never seen them turn into cancer and I wouldn't expect them to. Piles are enlarged veins. However, no one who is bleeding a bit from his rectum should feel reassured and safe from harm until a physician has not only examined the rectum with his finger, but has looked in with a lighted tube. In many cases, also, the person must have his colon x-rayed after the injection of a barium enema.

Alvarez

A man watches the enema as it flows in; and then, after it is let out, he makes films; preferably two films that can be looked at in a stereoscope.

Then he can see what looks like a colon made of glass. With this technique he is more likely to see polyps if any are present. They are little lumps of tissue that look much like a small edible mushroom. If there is much of a question about polyps, some oxygen should be injected into the colon after the barium enema is let out, and again, stereoscopic films should be made. With this technique polyps or cancers often can be seen easily because they are outlined by a thin film of barium. Polyps should cause concern because many are likely eventually to become cancerous.

Sometimes when a polyp or two is found in the bowel of an elderly person who is frail or in poor health, the question arises, should he immediately be operated on for the removal of the nodule? In some cases I have waited, and for years have kept watching the polyp every six months or so with x-rays, and have found that it did not grow or turn into cancer. Recently, my good friend, Dr. C. W. Mayo, reported a case like this in which a man, found to have a colonic polyp, refused operation. Fourteen years later he returned with a cancer where the polyp had been!

When polyps are found in the rectum or in the "sigmoid" or S-shaped loop of colon, just above the rectum, an expert can easily burn them off with electric sparks. To do this he passes an electrode through an electrically-lighted tube. By getting an expert to do this, I have saved many a person from having an abdominal operation.

The important point for everyone to remember is that a person can have bleeding piles or a fissure, but he also can have a cancer a little farther up in the rectum! This must always be looked for.

I personally have an expert examine my rectum at least once every year. I don't care to wait until I get symptoms of a cancer of the bowel. (Usually discomfort or pain or a feeling of fullness, plus some slight bleeding.) When one waits until decided symptoms have come, it is often too late to get the cancer out in its entirety.

I am always on the lookout for inspiring and helpful and beautiful quotations which may lighten someone's load and cheer him on his way. So I think I shall include in this column a poem that appeared in that fine little magazine, Plantation Health, published in Hawaii and sent to me by Dr. Nils Larsen:

I thank Thee, Lord, that grief can't always last.

That's there's an end to sorrow's darkest day, Then give me gratitude for pleasures past, The joys Thou sawest fit to take away. The treasures that were lent me for awhile— And then recalled. Oh help me, Lord, to smile.

And say "Thy will be done," sincere and true, And give me work these empty hands to do. —Author not known.

A new foundation has been formed for the furtherance of research on a number of diseases which affect the nervous system. This is a move which should please my friend, Dr. Frederic Gibbs, who for long has felt that men who are doing research on such nervous diseases as multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's syndrome, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, epilepsy and polio should get together in one institute to study their related problems.

They should work in adjacent laboratories and operating rooms, and they should come together at lunch time to discuss their related problems. Now, a national neurological research foundation has been organized with offices at 3255 N. Street, N.W., Washington, 7, D.C. They are giving awards of from $10,000 to $12,000 a year to a number of men who wish to do research in the fields of neurology.

LABOR PARTY ASKS PROBE

Hassle on Suez Revived in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's Conservative government was under socialist fire again today for the Anglo-French intervention in the Suez crisis two years ago.

Several Labor members of Parliament announced they will question Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd on "the truth about Suez" articles by Randolph Churchill, now appearing in a London newspaper.

Lloyd will be asked Monday whether he authorized a foreign office spokesman's statement Wednesday that the articles "appear to be in many respects inaccurate."

Laborite Emery Hughes said he will ask Macmillan to start an official inquiry into the Suez operations because of "the damage to this country's military reputation caused by allegations of the unpreparedness of the armed forces."

In addition, to reporting Britain's "unpreparedness," Churchill, journalist son of Sir Winston, said there was collusion between Israel and France before Israeli forces invaded Egypt on Oct. 29, 1956.

Mrs. Barbara Castle, chairman of the Labor Party, said she would ask Macmillan whether he will publish a white paper on allegations the British government was informed in advance of the Israeli attack.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Five years ago last June, Arden A. Winn, 32, was taken unconscious from the scene of an auto accident. He died Wednesday and doctors said he had been unconscious the entire time.

Vote 'Yes' on Parking Business Group Urges

Victoria city's proposed off-street parking plan was given unanimous support by Victoria Downtown Business Association at a meeting Wednesday.

The association also urged ratepayers to approve the $1,000,000 money bylaw launching the long-range program when they vote next Thursday.

Mayor Percy Scurrell and Ald. Geoffrey Edgell told the association that the debentures for construction of the first project on View would be paid from increased parking meter revenues and not taxes.

Both stressed that the View Street parking garage revenue would provide the capital for construction of further projects.

"Some don't realize that this is only the beginning of a plan to keep the high assessment area up forever, so the tax burden won't fall on the homeowner," said Ald. Edgell.

Mayor Scurrell said high tax values of the downtown area must be maintained to prevent heavier burdens falling on homeowners.

"If the downtown area becomes like the foot of Yates, the difference in tax revenue will have to come from the homeowner, and we must not increase taxation of homes," he said.

Cost of the parking facilities and malls will be borne by motorists using the downtown area whether they lived in Victoria or the outlying municipalities, he said.

"There are probably thousands of people in this city living on fixed incomes who have no cars," the mayor said. "We must let them know they won't pay."

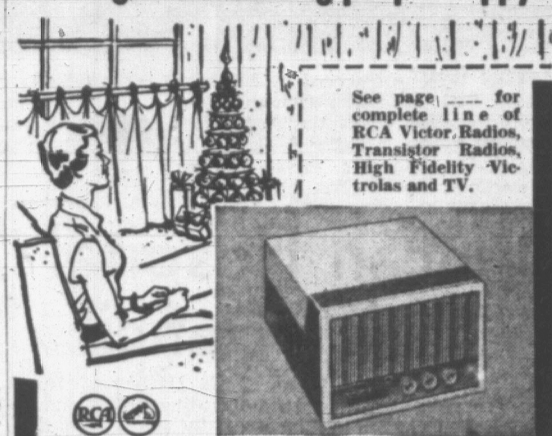

Association member M. A. Kent said homeowners could expect a reduction in their share of taxation if the program increased the volume of business in the city.

T. G. Denny said the parking facilities would benefit smaller stores by giving them a chance to offer free parking to their customers.

Duncan Hospital Whittles Deficit

DUNCAN—The 110-bed King's Daughters' Hospital, gradually paring its 1958 operating deficit, shows a book surplus of $600 at the end of the first 10 months of the year.

Administrator Kenneth Noton, reporting to the hospital board, said the deficit at the end of September was $2,200.

The hospital completed 1957 with an operating surplus of $9,192 before depreciation deductions were made.

Expenses for the first 10 months this year were $455,424, with salaries and wages making up $325,920 of the total, about $9,000 above the total on that account at the same period a year ago.

Operating revenue to the end of October totalled $462,147, with $345,359 coming from BCHS for in-patient care. Patient-days in October totalled 3,055, bringing the 10-month total to 29,721 as compared with 31,402 to the end of October, 1957.

Mr. Noton reported 143 cancellations of elective surgery from May 1 to Oct. 31, mostly because of lack of accommodation at the time for which the operations were booked. Children were involved in 120 of the cases, 114 of them being for the removal of tonsils or adenoids.

Family Still Hopes To Lift Iron Curtain

NANAIMO—The family of Mrs. Maria Baltz, victim of an incurable cancer, refuses to give up hope of a reunion before her death.

Negotiations have been under way to permit her daughter, Mrs. Viveia Vlasarev, to leave Sofia, Bulgaria, with her husband and children and come to Canada in time to see Mrs. Baltz alive.

On Wednesday it was learned that the Bulgarian government had refused to allow the Vlasarev family to depart.

Mrs. Oliver Fabris said her sister had written that her application for a passport had not been granted.

"We have not given up hope," Mrs. Fabris said. "Perhaps the authorities in Bulgaria are not fully aware of my mother's condition."

The family was divided by war in 1942, with Mrs. Vlasarev going to Sofia with her husband, and her parents and sister coming eventually to Canada. The Canadian government had cleared the Vlasarev family for entry into Canada.

South Africa had 1,761 persons killed in road accidents in the first eight months of 1958, against 1,467 in the same period of 1957.

Rerouting Road Depends On Budget

DUNCAN—Relocation of a section of B.C. Highway 18 between Duncan and Lake Cowichan depends on the availability of funds, Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi told a delegation from the Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce this week.

Relocating the highway to the north side of the E & N Railway between Tansor and Sahtlam crossings would eliminate 63 curves in a six-mile stretch of the old road which has only six short stretches marked for passing.

The Duncan-Cowichan delegation included Will Dobson, president of the chamber; Hector C. Stone, president of Hillcrest Lumber Co.; Herb Gray, president of Youbou Transport Ltd.; Don Berry, chairman and George Williams, secretary of the Lake Cowichan section of the chamber.

Mr. Gray told the minister his company uses 1,000 gallons of fuel daily with up to 1,600 tons of chips hauled in 60 to 70 trips in 24 hours.

Mr. Dobson spoke of the prospect of Crown Zellerbach (Canada) Ltd. using logging trains when the company opens its Nitinat lumber stands, and how such a move would increase motor traffic hazard on the present road.

The chamber presented a similar brief to the minister last March 5 when a survey of the proposed new route was promised.

FRIENDLY BUZZ NO EXCUSE, PILOT FINED

QUALICUM BEACH (CP)—A pilot's story that he was "just signalling to a friend" when he buzzed Qualicum Beach last summer failed to stand up in court here.

William Ralph White of Alberni was charged under the Aeronautics Act with low flying in and around Qualicum and fined $250 or in default 90 days.

Witnesses said White flew over a beach on which children were playing at heights as low as 30 feet and stalled the motor each time he passed.

Date Switched

SOKE—The three-act comedy "Are Teachers Human?" will be staged by Milnes Landing High School students at Soke Community Hall Wednesday, Dec. 10, instead of Dec. 12, as had been arranged previously.

The change in dates was made because of commitments for the use of the hall.

Candidate Withdraws But Deadline Passed

NANAIMO (CP)—Aldermanic candidate Jack Medforth said Wednesday that because of circumstances beyond his control which have arisen since nomination day, he wished to withdraw from the civic election contest.

However, his name will appear on the ballot because no candidate may officially withdraw unless he notifies the returning officer within 24 hours of close of nominations.

Mr. Medforth informed returning officer city clerk Howard Nicholson, Tuesday afternoon of his desire to have his name dropped from the ballot, but deadline for the notice had passed at noon.

Arbitration Set On Teacher Pay

Arbitration boards are being set up at Duncan, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, and Qualicum Beach to settle salary disputes between teachers' associations and school boards.

Deadline for settlements is Dec. 31.

Of the 81 school districts in the province, 70 reached salary agreements without arbitration, according to the B.C. School Trustees Association.

P. M. Hopkins, president of the association, said a feature of salary negotiations this year was "introduction into many discussions of merit rating or teacher evaluation."

He felt the trend would continue and stated the whole atmosphere of salary negotiation this year was "immeasurably better than a year ago."

Fire Chief Found Dead

YIOUBOU (CP)—William Good, 57, for many years B.C. Forest Products Company fire chief here, was found dead late Wednesday under the ambulance in the Youbou firehall.

BEWARE, SAYS BLAIR

Playing Possum Russia's Game?

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Manager Wren Blair of Whitby Dunlops warned Wednesday that Russia may be trying to lull Canada's world championship hockey entry into a false sense of security.

He said Belleville McFarlands, last season's Allan Cup champions who are to represent Canada in the world title series at Prague this winter, should pay no attention to the recent Russian tour by Kelowna Packers.

Russia was probably "playing possum" by losing three of the five exhibition games to the Packers, Blair said.

COLD WAR TACTIC

"It is the Russian idea of psychological warfare. I believe the Kelowna tour, with all deference to Jack Reilly and his Packers, was part of the plan to lull Canada into a false sense of security."

Blair, whose club won the world title from Russia last winter, noted that Packers did not meet the Russian national team in their tour. "The only team Packers defeated decisively was a junior team."

"And don't forget, all these Packers' games were played in enclosed arenas, something to which Kelowna was accustomed. Belleville will play in snowy outdoor rinks which gives Russia a 25 per cent advantage right off the bat."

AMALGAMATE

At the same time, Blair suggested that Whitby and Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the same Ontario Senior League form an amalgamated team to represent Canada in the 1960 Olympics.

The suggestion was made following Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen's refusal of a similar proposal.

"An amalgamation of two clubs is the only answer to the Olympic setup which bars reinstated professionals," said Blair. "No club can do it alone, least of all the Dutchmen."

"The Hull-Ottawa team is made almost entirely of members of last year's Memorial Cup champions. There isn't a reinstated pro on the team. They're champions and we're champions so we should be able to put together the strongest possible team."

Challenger's Stock Rising For Title Bid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Support mounted Wednesday for young Don Jordan of Los Angeles in his burning ambition to unseat world welterweight champion Virgil Akins of St. Louis here Friday night.

The pair wound up training for the national televised 15-rounder at the Olympic Auditorium and boxing people were impressed by the razor-sharpness of the 24-year-old Californian.

There was nothing wanting in the condition of the 30-year-old champion but the Jordan faction kept recalling Akins' two non-title bouts since he clobbered Vince Martinez last June to win undisputed possession of the crown.

AKINS WAS OUTPOINTED
Lanky Tombstone Smith had Akins beaten for nine rounds, only to blow up in the 10th and lose by a knockout. Later veteran Del Flanagan outpointed the champ in 10 rounds.

Jordan, abandoning the lightweight ranks for an all-out campaign in the 147-pound division, gained a title chance and the ranking of top contender by whipping Isaac Logart and twice out-pointing Gaspar Ortega.

Akins opened up as a 3-1 favorite to retain the title. The odds subsequently went to 2-1 but Wednesday were quoted at 9-5.

Wheaton Cracks Another Record

BAYREUTH, Germany (CP)—Margaret Iwasaki of Vancouver scored a double victory and Victoria's Bob Wheaton set a Canadian competitive record in a swimming meet here Wednesday night.

Miss Iwasaki won the 100-metre butterfly in 1:15.6 and then beat teammate Sandra Scott of Toronto in the 100-metre freestyle in 1:07.5.

A group of eight Canadians on a West German tour won five firsts in a meet with Bayreuth swimmers.

Wheaton swam the 100-metres backstroke in 1:04.6, faster than any Canadian in history.

Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., equalled the Canadian record of 1:13.2 for the women's 100-metre backstroke.

The Canadian team whipped the combined Bayreuth and Hof swimming clubs in the 300-metre freestyle relay. The Canadians, in 3:09.7, were well ahead of the Germans' 3:17.2 time.

The Canadian team winds up its German tour Friday with a match at Goettingen.

BUT FUTURE GOLF STARS...

Pay-Later System Eliminates Orange Stealing

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—There are two distinctive schools on how a young man should break into tournament golf, and the pay-as-you-go boys are lined up solidly today against the play-now, pay-later faction.

It is amazing how many of the current crop of young shotmakers are backed by financial syndicates in what, to all practical purposes, is a stock deal. On the other hand, you have those who grind it out by themselves.

And the top pros insist that the players who make it the hard way will be the real stars of the future.

Some of the brightest young names in golf are making the tour with the help of sugar daddies. These include such as Billy Casper, the hefty belter from Apple Valley, Calif.; Dave Ragan, Daytona Beach, Fla.; John McMullin, of Alameda Calif., and Davis Love of Eldorado, Ark.

McMullin, as an example gathered five friends to post $2,000 each year for two years. He gives them 75 per cent of his winnings during this period.

"It takes off the pressure," he says, "and you eat even when those three-foot putts don't drop."

Casper has a three-year deal with two wealthy friends. He

TAKING IT AWAY

Close checking of New York Ranger forward Larry Popein (19) enabled him to whip puck from Chicago defenceman Elmer Vasko. Popein chipped in with one goal-Wednesday as

Captain Takes Rangers Into Third-Place Berth

By Canadian Press

Led by captain George (Red) Sullivan, the spark-plug that fires their hockey machine, New York Rangers have climbed another rung in the National Hockey League standings.

Sullivan, now in his second season as Ranger captain, scored a third-period goal that broke the back of a Chicago Black Hawks rally Wednesday night and gave New York a 4-2 win that moved it into a third-place tie with Detroit Red Wings.

The 28-year-old veteran of nearly six NHL seasons got the goal that crushed Chicago hopes at 17:59 of the third after Eddie Litzenberger and Earl Balfour had scored for Hawks to cut the Ranger margin to 3-2.

He also collected an assist, his 15th this season, on the first Ranger goal, scored by Andy Hebenton in the first period on a 25-foot shot while Pierre Pilote was sitting out the Hawks only penalty of the game.

TWO-PERIOD SLUMP

In the second, Larry Popein and Jim Bartlett raised the score to 3-0 as Chicago was unable to score despite three Ranger penalties during the period.

But in the third the Hawks turned on the pressure, pouring 10 shots at Lorne Worsley in the Ranger nets before Sullivan came through.

Andy Bathgate, the Rangers' right-wing wonder, set up both Popein's and Bartlett's goals for his 16th and 17th assists this season and now has a total of 34 points, five more than Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau, the two Montreal Canadiens who are his closest pursuers in the NHL points-race.

Camille Henry also collected two assists.

Geoffrion will get a chance to overhaul Bathgate tonight as Canadiens are host to Toronto Maple Leafs. But Beliveau will have to wait; the big centre is sidelined with a torn tendon in his finger.

'Junior Olympics' Plan Long Overdue

VANCOUVER (CP)—A junior Olympic program designed to find and develop future Canadian Olympic competitors was approved Wednesday at the closing session of the 65th Amateur Athletic Union of Canada annual meeting.

The plan, to involve athletes under 17 years, is aimed at mass participation in every sport "to give the youngsters a taste of Olympic competition." But for the next year at least it will involve only track and field.

Similar to a plan now in operation in the United States, it will enroll, train and stage competitions for midget, junior, intermediate and senior boys and girls. However, each athlete will be limited by his age to the number of events he may enter.

Jack Davies of Montreal, president of the British Empire Games committee, said: "This is just the thing we've lacked for so many years. Together with the sensational times being set by many of our high school athletes, the future of Canada in international competition is getting brighter."

Davies, in his report on Empire Games achievements by Canada's team, said: "I don't know why people think our team did so poorly. We won 59 medals and 51.1 per cent of our team won a medal. Only one of our women athletes failed to get a medal and just three athletes finished out of the first six in their event.

"There was not one swimmer who failed to win a medal and I don't think any Canadian team, even the entry which won the original 1911 Empire Games, can boast a better all-round record."

The Empire Games committee chastised "a very few of the boys" on Canada's team who did not exhibit the deportment expected of a Canadian team representative.

SEEK TO BAR BOY

Bob Osborne, team manager, said he recommended to the national track and field committee and the British Empire Games committee that an Eastern Canadian track star be kept off Canadian teams for a few years.

He said the boy, not named publicly, would certainly make any Canadian team, but his actions at Cardiff revealed he was not mature enough to make any trips. The offence was not revealed.

Delegates worked eight hours overtime before clearing the agenda of the last resolutions and motions. The entire slate of officers, headed by president Jack Hirstead of Hamilton, was re-elected and Windsor, Ont., was named as the site of next year's meeting.

BORNASTAR RACING'S LEADING LADY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bornastar, owned by J. Graham Brown of Louisville, Ky., was chosen 1958 United States champion of the filly and mare division Wednesday by the selections board of Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

The five-year-old mare won her last six starts of the season. Four were stakes races. Brown bought the horse in 1954 for $21,500. He has picked up $245,446 in winnings since then.

Shabby Treatment By Prairie Teams

Finney's Goal Topples Spokane; Cougars at 'Peg

By The Canadian Press

Spokane Flyers can be excused if they don't speak too highly of Prairie hospitality.

In the course of a seven-game Prairie tour, which ended Wednesday night, the Western Hockey League club collected five losses, one win and a tie, topped off by Wednesday's 3-2 loss to Calgary Stampede.

The victory moved Stamps within three points of first-place Edmonton Flyers in the league's Prairie Division while Spokane remains in fourth place in the Coast Division, a single point ahead of last-place New Westminster.

ONE GAME TONIGHT

All other teams were idle. In tonight's only game Victoria Cougars visit Winnipeg Warriors.

Sid Finney's goal at 12:59 of the third, with Walter Bradley in the penalty box, broke up the contest. The clubs had previously split first-period goals and each added another within 44 seconds early in the third.

Billy Hay scored his first goal in professional hockey for Calgary and Rino Robazza added the third. Blinky Boyce and Benny Wolt were Spokane marksmen.

FRANCIS SHINES

Flyers pulled goalie Emile Francis, who played a standout game, with 55 seconds remaining but the anxious goalie skated back on the ice when the puck came close to the Spokane bench, earning his team a penalty for too many men on the ice.

Spokane drew four of the six penalties.

The result gave Prairie clubs a 25-14 margin over coast clubs in inter-sectional play so far this season.

WILLEY ARRIVES

Cougars Loaded With Extra Help

You can rest assured that, for the time being at least, Victoria Cougars will not starve for the want of an extra defenceman or centre.

... a handy type

Centre No. 5 and defenceman No. 7 arrived in Victoria this week.

Not two players, dear reader... only one.

Lyle Willey, a husky six-footer picked up as a free agent from Penticton V's of the Okanagan Senior League, will try for a spot in the Cougar lineup when the team returns from its current swing through the Prairie Division of the Western Hockey League.

A native of Flin Flon, Man., who sparked his hometown Bombers to a Memorial Cup (Canadian junior championship) victory in 1956, the 23-year-old Willey has had two seasons of Western League action under his belt.

A defenceman throughout his junior career, Willey broke into pro ranks as a blueliner with Brandon Regals. He shifted to centre when the Regals decided to make Saskatoon as their home base last year, and scored 18 goals and 34 assists in his first fling as a forward.

Although Cougar coach Pat Egan is well stocked with centres, he will try first to fit Willey in on a forward line. If Willey fails to dislodge either Gord Wilson, Gord Haworth, Stan Bialuk or Doug Anderson from a centre-ice spot, Egan may retain the 175-pounder as a utility player.

Saanich Schedule

Brentwood clubs clash with Sooke clubs at Brentwood Community hall Friday in a Saanich Suburban Basketball League tripleheader.

Play in the opener, at 7:30 p.m., will feature midget girls, followed by bantam boys at 8:30 and juvenile boys at 9:30 p.m.

Iowa's Passing Whiz Heads 'Dream Team'

NEW YORK (AP)—Quarterback Randy Duncan of Iowa, the 1958 No. 1 draft choice of U.S. professional football, heads the backfield of the Associated Press all-America team announced today.

Teamed with him are Pete Dawkins of Army's undefeated team; Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, top-ranked team in the country, and Bill Austin of Rutgers.

First team ends are James Houston of Ohio State and Buddy Dial of Rice. At tackle are Brock Strom, the key man of the surprising Air Force Academy, and Ted Bates of Oregon State. Zeke Smith of Auburn and George Diederich of Vanderbilt are the guards, and Bob Harrison of Oklahoma is at centre.

SECOND TEAM

The second team is composed of Carroll Dale of Virginia Tech and Monte Stickles of Notre Dame at end; Ron Luciano of Syracuse and Don Floyd of Texas Christian at tackle; Jerry Stalcup of Wisconsin and John Guzik of Pitt at guard; Jackie Burkett of Auburn at centre; and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist, Dick Bass of the College of the Pacific, Bob Anderson of Army, and Bob White of Ohio State in the backfield.

The backfield is versatile. Duncan, who led the Big Ten in passing with 66 completions in 111 tries for 898 yards and a .595 percentage, is called by his coach, Forrest Evashevski, "by far the best passer I have ever coached." He was drafted by Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Dawkins, stricken by polio in seventh grade, built himself into an athlete by using weights. During the last season he carried the ball 78 times for 428 yards and a 5.5 average.

centration makes a real champion."

Possibly you can point to Casper in rebuttal, because he won $40,000 last year despite the fact that he was comfortably backed. And yet the brightest young names in the golfing brigade are those of golfers making it on their own — Dow Finsterwald, Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, George Bayer, Art Wall, Gene Littler and Gary Player, to name a few.

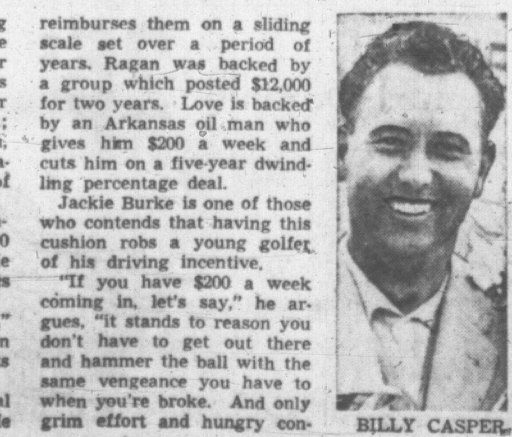

It is estimated by the pros that it costs a touring professional about $175 a week, or roughly $8,000 a year. Which means that he has to get in the money, and quickly, or his bankroll dwindles fast.

Jimmy Demaret recalls that, during his early days before the "play-now, pay-later" plan had been developed, eating and lodging often became a problem.

"We took turns hitting balls out of bounds into orange groves," he grins. "Then we'd go in there and fill our bags with oranges. And there were times we had to drop our luggage out the rear window."

Still, it looks as if the "play-now, pay-later" plan is here to stay. The only sure outcome is, it's nice work if you can get it.

Prairie Skip Boosts Stock

By ERNIE FEDORUK

It's always "open season" on champions. In baseball, for example, the rivals always go with their best against New York Yankees in hopes of gaining prestige by beating the world champs. In hockey, the opposition seems to save their best efforts for Montreal Canadiens, and this year's target for curlers who get the chance is Canadian champion Matt Baldwin's rink.

Baldwin doesn't happen to be with us at the moment, but Tony Gutski is. So local skip-pers have set their sights on the Victoria Curling Club ice-maker because of his triumph in last spring's provincial final.

And don't look now, but there's added company in the "Let's-Beat-Tony" club. One of the newest members of the Quadra Street rock-tossing club is Steve Hayhurst.

The quiet, easy-going, 39-year-old refugee from Saskatchewan hasn't made his presence known... yet. But his welcome addition will certainly boost the stock and fortunes of the club.

Hayhurst was ranked as one of Saskatchewan's top skips while a member of Saskatoon's Nutana Club. He reached the Northern Saskatchewan finals four times and two years ago missed the provincial title by the narrowest of margins.

Avonlea's famed Campbell brothers beat Hayhurst for provincial title on a sensational, extra-end shot by Garnet Campbell. They measured the rocks three times before deciding Campbell's was shot stone, by an eighth of an inch.

Hayhurst arrived too late for entry in the provincial playdowns, but you can rest assured that he'll be heard from before the season's over.

An extraordinary general meet of the club has been called for Dec. 13. Main topic of business will be the election of two new directors.

One vacancy on the board of directors has existed from early in the season. The second vacancy was created recently when Don Fisher resigned pending his move to Vancouver for business reasons.

All members are urged to attend.

It's about time for Gar Taylor came in for a few bouquets. Director and organizer of high school curling, Gar's hard work is starting to return big dividends.

Some 70 students are taking part in regular league play, more than twice the number which turned out last year.

Victoria High School rinks skipped by Gallagher and Bill Mundie swept top honors in a recent shorty 'spiel. Regular league games are held Wednesday afternoons.

RACE DRIVER DIES

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Humberto Castellanos, Peruvian auto race driver, died Wednesday in a hospital at Ica of injuries suffered during the Santiago, Chile to Lima race which ended Sunday.

AMERICAN VISIT SET UP FOR TOP-RATED ALBION

WINNIPEG, (CP)—West Bromwich Albion, first division English soccer team, will tour Canada and the United States during May and June next year, George Anderson of Winnipeg, secretary of the Canadian Soccer Football Association, announced Wednesday.

West Bromwich, only one point out of first place in league standings, will play in most of the major cities in Canada and likely in New York, he said. It will be the club's first trip to North America.

Dates and sites for the tour will be announced later.

Palmer President Of Bowling Group

Andy Palmer was elected president of the Victoria Tenpin Bowling Association at group's annual meeting Wednesday night.

Elected vice-president was Wilbur Webb, with Ron Wilson acclaimed secretary-treasurer for the 20th consecutive time. Jim Nicol is past president.

Committee members for the coming season are Bill Walker, Lloyd Chow, Charlie Marks and Norm Gamble.

Palmer, association vice-president last season, was in charge of the Canadian tenpin singles championships held here in May that was acclaimed by many as the most successful and smoothly-run tournament in history.

Only 53 of the 350-member association turned out Wednesday. In a surprise result, the meeting voted the return of the city handicap tournament to Strathcona Alleys for a second straight year. In past years, with one exception, the tournament has alternated between the Strathcona and Gibson's.

Dates of the event were decided on as Feb. 1 and 8, with the city zone finals to be held on the first two weekends in March.

One other change in the handicap tournament this year will see the all-events prize money divided equally between handicap and scratch champions.

Busby Resigns From One Job

GLASGOW (AP)—Matt Busby, Manchester United manager and survivor of the Munich plane crash in February, today resigned as manager of Scotland's national soccer team on his doctor's advice.

Busby combined both the Manchester United and Scottish jobs.

"His doctors feel he is trying to do too much," William Allan, secretary of the Scottish Football Association, said. "Travelling is particularly bad for him."

Eight Manchester United players were killed in the Munich plane crash Feb. 6. Busby was released from hospital after 2½ months. He suffered a punctured lung and multiple injuries.

Coast Rugby Loop Planned

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver newspaper says it has learned that Los Angeles professional football promoters have formed an international rugby league which will open in January and use pro football players.

Vancouver was being considered as a possible entry, the paper said.

Teams from England, Australia, New Zealand and France are to visit the Pacific Coast each year and play four games," the newspaper said.

"Clubs expected to comprise the American Rugby League are the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, and Anaheim, Eagle Rock and Venice, all members of a California semi-pro league.

BIG INTEREST

"Reports indicate there is tremendous interest in the Los Angeles area. The promoters expect to gross $100,000 the first year. Television rights for games already have been signed."

The newspaper says there are rumors that the league is proposing to expand to Portland, and Los Angeles officials had made inquiries about Vancouver.

"If the new rugby league is successful the first year, chances are excellent that Vancouver will join in 1960."

The proposed game would involve 13 players per team—against 15 on amateur Rugby Union teams—and would be similar to the game played in the United Kingdom's Rugby League.

Yvon Durelle Scores Knockout in First Round

"This is always my easiest fight of the year... a knockout against winter in the first round of cold temperature," said the burly New Brunswick fisherman-fighter. "And the most conclusive, too! Because, once I've filled the radiator of my car with 'Prestone' Brand Anti-Freeze I know that I'm fully protected for all of winter. It'll pay you to knock out rust, corrosion, frost, foaming and clogging with 'Prestone' Brand Anti-Freeze, too."

Good advice, Yvon! Because only "Prestone" Anti-Freeze has magnetic film—which coats every rubber and metal surface in a car's cooling system—gives it persistent protection against rust and corrosion. Insist on "Prestone" Brand Anti-Freeze—and make sure you get the Green Tag affixed to your radiator... that's your assurance there's "Prestone" Brand inside.

Till 'Explosive Type' Psychologist Tells Court

(See Wednesday afternoon trial report Page 21)

Murder suspect Matthew John Till was described in assize court today as "above average intelligence but liable to erupt explosively if aroused or severely frustrated."

Victoria College psychology professor, Dr. W. H. Gaddes, who examined the 16-year-old boy, said the effect of alcohol on the accused "in certain circumstances" might bring "his more primitive drives to the surface."

The jury also heard that Till's father, an alcoholic, escaped while on parole from Essondale mental institution and accused his wife of trying to poison him.

Later, during questioning of college professor by Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie, defence counsel Joseph McKenna stood up and told the court: "My defence is not insanity."

Till is charged with the Sept. 13 murder of his foster father, Charles Mudge, 38, found shot at their 3460 Metcoshin Road home. John Brand, 69-year-old father of Mudge's wife, Phyllis, was also slain by gunshots the same day.

No 'Cracks'

The boy listened attentively with head slightly cocked as evidence of his mental condition and that of his father was given on the eighth day of the trial.

A packed public gallery strained to hear every word as first the superintendent of Essondale, then the psychologist, took the stand. Once, when Mr. McKenna commented that "we might all be psychopaths" Mr. Justice J. G. Rutland warned he would clear the court "if there is any further levity."

Dr. Thomas Gilbert Caunt, Essondale medical superintendent for six years, told the court Curtis Anthony Till, the boy's father, was committed to the institute Aug. 1, 1951, when he was aged 58.

He was discharged on probation for six months July 11, 1952, and discharged in full Jan. 11, 1953.

Dr. Caunt described Till senior as a "psychopathic personality without psychosis, with evidence of chronic alcoholism."

Mr. McKenna: "What is a psychopathic personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "There are many definitions. This man was not psychotic. He did not have delusions or hallucinations. He knew where he was all the time. You could talk to him, he was not confused. He was aware of a situation or an environment but indifferent to the generally accepted rules of society."

Lots of Them

Mr. McKenna: "Is not this a commonplace type of personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "It is not uncommon."

The prosecutor asked whether it was not true that "there are very many psychopathic personalities running around who have never been exposed to mental treatment."

Dr. Caunt agreed that such "advanced cases" were committed only when they became difficult or abnormal.

Mr. McKenna then suggested "ne'er-do-wells—a husband and father who drinks too much" might be a psychopathic personality, and that high-pressure salesmen "who will do anything to sell their products" could be classed in the same psychopathic group.

Dr. Caunt: "Not necessarily."

Mr. McKenna asked whether many psychopathic personalities were also chronic alcoholics.

Dr. Caunt: "I don't know."

He said a psychotic person was different from a psychopath in that a psychopath might commit an act but not care about the consequences. A psychotic, he said, would care.

A report made by Essondale authorities revealed that Till senior escaped from the institution while on parole. He sent the hospital a letter saying he had obtained $150 from a finance corporation and was "taking an airplane out of B.C."

In his letter Mr. Till said he had "waited too long for discharge." Later his wife phoned from Squamish to say her husband was standing on the doorstep "and what was going to be done about it?" He was returned to Essondale by the RCMP.

'Poison Bid'

The intuition described Mr. Till as "unpleasant" in character on April 17, 1952. In July of that year he was graded "reasonably pleasant and co-operative," but "you cannot believe anything he says."

Officials said he was a "nuisance" to his wife and family but that he was worthy of discharge.

In January, 1953, they reported that Mr. Till had "complained his wife had tried to poison him."

Dr. Gaddes testified he examined Till "with tests" on various occasions between Sept. 16 (three days after the killings) and Oct. 8, including a three-hour session at Oakalla Prison.

He based his examinations, he said, on intelligence and personality, with emphasis on personality.

MATTHEW JOHN TILL
... "If aroused"

could not believe anything he says."

Officials said he was a "nuisance" to his wife and family but that he was worthy of discharge.

In January, 1953, they reported that Mr. Till had "complained his wife had tried to poison him."

Dr. Gaddes testified he examined Till "with tests" on various occasions between Sept. 16 (three days after the killings) and Oct. 8, including a three-hour session at Oakalla Prison.

He based his examinations, he said, on intelligence and personality, with emphasis on personality.

"I found him above average intelligence, with good ability to reason and good ability in mathematics. His verbal abilities, including imagination, were only average."

Not Cold-Blooded

"He seemed to be suffering from a basic personality conflict. He had a strong need for affection and the conflict arose from his ability to get it, to get acceptance."

"I felt he would erupt explosively if aroused and seriously frustrated. It would be in the nature of a spontaneous outbreak, not a cold-blooded vicious attack."

"He was completely co-operative, but with difficulty in showing feelings of any depth."

In reply to Mr. McKenna, Dr. Gaddes said there was no evidence of psychosis in the boy's make-up.

Mr. McKenna: "Wouldn't you expect him to do everything to please his foster parents?"

Dr. Gaddes: "I am not qualified to infer that. I have never met his foster parents."

He added that the accused "in certain situations and circumstances" might not be able to govern his emotions.

Mr. McKenna: "Would his passions be inflamed in those certain situations?"

"Yes."

"Would his audacity be increased?"

"Yes."

"Would his self-control be reduced?"

"Yes."

The psychologist said he did not question Till about his drinking habits.

Effect of Alcohol

Mr. McKenna: "What would be the probable effect of alcohol in such a situation as you mention?"

Dr. Gaddes: "It might bring his more primitive drives to the surface."

In reply to further questioning, he agreed the youth might also take excessive risks, readily yield to an influence and maybe prone to commit a crime.

He said the youth was not "in a state of natural imbecility, and had no disease of the mind."

"When the prosecutor began to read an interpretation of insanity from the Criminal Code, section 16, subsection 2, Mr. McKenna said that was a matter for the court to decide, not for Dr. Gaddes to decide."

The judge said that at one time—until fairly recently—Mr. McKenna's objection would have been in order but that the law governing the matter had been changed.

Mr. McKenna then read the description of insanity as defined by law:

"... subject to be in a state of natural imbecility, or disease of the mind to such an extent that he would be incapable of realizing the nature and quality of an act, or its omission, or to know that it is wrong."

At this point Mr. McKenna got up to point out that "my defence is not insanity."

Civic Race Entries Closed Off

No dark horse candidates were expected to enter the city election races before nominations closed today.

Two Victoria trustees on Greater Victoria school board were expected to be re-elected by acclamation. They are Mrs. E. M. Maunsell and Walter Thomson, only ones to take out nomination papers by noon.

Seven previously-announced candidates filed their nomination papers for the aldermanic contest where four seats are at stake.

No others took out nomination papers by noon. Nominations were to close officially at 2 p.m.

Nomination forms for the council elections were filed early by: Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. A. I. Curtis, Ald. Hugh Ramsay, Ald. Elmer McEwen, Victoria Labor Council official A. W. Toone, housewife Mrs. Sally Rogers and commercial fisherman Elgin Neish.

'Zorro' Car Slashers Hit 3 Times

A gang of juvenile slashers are suspected responsible for a spate of property damage in the Rockland area Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Two car owners reported seat upholstery slashed and a third found a hat left in her car had been cut.

Mrs. Laura Diamond, Apt. 4, 1575 Rockland, told police her car seat cover was cut between 5 and 7.15 p.m. Wednesday as the auto was parked in her driveway.

A calling card which said "Zorro Will Travel," was left in the car.

A half hour earlier, at 6.55 p.m., John Spoor, 1021 Pemberton, complained his car seat covers were ripped between 5 and 9 p.m. the night before.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, 941 Darwin, said a hat left in her car which was parked at Rockland and Gonzales between 7 and 10 p.m. Wednesday was slashed and a note indicating juveniles was left behind.

Man Fined $300 For Taking Car, Impaired Driving

A 26-year-old itinerant with no fixed address was fined a total of $300 in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday when he appeared for sentence for impaired driving, taking a car without the owner's consent and driving while suspended.

Lionel James Scott pleaded guilty to all charges last week and was remanded in custody for sentence.

Police said Scott took the car from outside a Happy Valley home where an auto salesman had driven to see a prospective customer.

Scott was stopped by an RCMP patrol at Colwood Corner a few minutes after the salesman reported his car missing.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: E. H. Campbell, 1075 San Marino, $10 for making an illegal right turn on a red traffic light.

Philip D. Martin, 3684 Cottonwood, $15 for speeding over 30.

Joseph Carl Pollard, 3214 Glasgow, $15 for driving through a red light.

Tony Pastro, Sidney, $10 or three days for driving without one headlight. (Elected to serve time.)

Martin H. Smith, 3163 Gamble, $10 for careless driving; Ronald J. Johnston, 3576 suspension, for careless driving.

Robert Thomas Kellington, 3025 Balfour, $10 for driving without a rear plate light.

House Committee Urged by Labor

Victoria Labor Council jumped feet first into the current B.C. power controversy Wednesday.

It labelled the proposed royal commission "a whitewash commission," called for a special house committee of the legislature to investigate power matters in the province—then decide to invite former B.C. Power Commission manager H. Lee Briggs to address the delegates.

(Mr. Briggs said Tuesday he would not accept any further speaking engagements other than those he had already promised.)

NELLES SEES SAANICH TAX UP SHARPLY

Saanich taxes will jump "at least 25 per cent" in 1959 on the basis of its provisional budget, Coun. Charles Nelles revealed today.

He said he would take the newly-completed provisional budget to an amalgamation forum tonight at 8 in St. George the Martyr Church hall, Cadboro Bay and Maynard.

Coun. Nelles and Coun. Leslie Passmore, hard-hitting opponents in amalgamation debates, are scheduled for a return match at the Saanich Voters' Association-sponsored meeting.

"I just got hold of this provisional budget today," he said.

"And, although it's much too modest for our needs, it still indicates in black and white that there will be a tax increase in Saanich next year."

City Anxious? Nonsense, Says Mayor

Mayor Percy Scurrell today angrily denounced "nonsense talk" from Saanich anti-amalgamationists.

"I'm getting tired of all this nonsense talk from certain people in Saanich that the city is anxious for amalgamation," he said.

He said the city agreed to having a study of amalgamation "only at the insistence of the reeve and council in Saanich."

"It wasn't us who started the ball rolling, it was Saanich. We agreed to go along only after months of campaigning for the study by the reeve of Saanich," he said referring to efforts of former reeve Arthur Ash.

Although he made no reference to Saanich Coun. Leslie Passmore, the mayor's criticism seemed directed at the councillor's repeated suggestions that Victoria was pushing amalgamation on Saanich.

Some council members also suggested Premier Bennett be asked to speak to the council, but this proposal was not acted on.

The invitation to Briggs came after council secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone reported the premier's secretary had acknowledged a council letter calling for wide terms of reference for the royal commission.

The council executive recommended the acknowledged be "received as progress."

'Progress' That Premier Answered

Protested a delegate, "I see little progress in the receipt of an acknowledgment. It is an explanation from the premier that we want."

Council vice-president E. T. Staley said the executive used the expression "received as progress" with some cynicism.

"Some of our letters to the premier never got an answer at all," he explained. "The fact that he has even acknowledged this one instead of waiting six months must be considered progress."

The description "whitewash commission" came from builders' delegate Percy Rayment, who charged the premier "was trying to avoid a full power investigation."

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie agreed the terms of reference of the royal commission "fell far short of what this council asked for."

(The council wanted the commission to probe cost of obtaining and distributing power, along with an investigation into its financing.)

With two public addresses left before he quits his grass-roots "politicking," former B.C. Power Commissioner H. L. Briggs stated today he has no quarrel with any political party, but "certainly with the leaders of the Social Credit Party."

Mr. Briggs will make his last scheduled Victoria speech at Victoria High School tonight at 8. The meeting is sponsored by a non-partisan citizens' committee and is open to the public.

Friday night he will address the Farmers' Union at Chilliwack.

"This winds up my present speaking campaign," Mr. Briggs told The Times today, "but if circumstances arise I still have the right to get up and express my views."

Mr. Briggs reiterated his former statement that the only solution for rank-and-file Social Crediters is to cross the floor of the legislature.

"Otherwise they will get caught in a landslide that will put them where they belong," he said.

Realistic View Urged

Mr. Briggs addressed an enthusiastic crowd of nearly 300 in Nanaimo Wednesday night. He appeared a trifle worn by events since he was fired Nov. 14 for criticizing Social Credit policy. But he spoke decisively on the need for "a realistic view" on power and development of the North country.

In his address he publicly apologized to Premier Bennett for falsely estimating cost of a Social Credit booklet, but said he had spoken in good faith on information from a publisher.

Earlier, Mr. Briggs had said that the booklet "Six Years of Social Credit" cost one dollar a copy for the 400,000 copies circulated.

Since then he had been told the cost would be 11.7 cents a copy.

In an angry rebuttal to the $1 a copy charge, Premier Bennett said Tuesday the cost of the booklet was 6½ cents a copy.

Mr. Briggs also stated that he will insist that Premier Bennett testify before the Shrum Royal Commission into B.C. Power Commission financing.

"I shall engage a lawyer to represent me when I appear before the commission," Mr. Briggs said.

Of the premier, he stated: "It was his politics which were involved. Of course, he should be called."

Labor Adds Voice to Battle Against Sikh 'Discrimination'

Alleged racial discrimination against a young Sikh couple by some Westall Ave. residents was angrily denounced Wednesday night by Victoria Labor Council.

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie said Ajeet Bawa, 28-year-old Canadian-born East Indian, was a member of the International Woodworkers of America—"and I defy anybody to say he is any worse or any better than any one of us."

Hundreds of citizens and many organizations continue to protest the action of the Westall residents.

Meanwhile Ajeet, forced to leave his Westall Ave. home because neighbors didn't want him, has had offers of accommodation in several other Victoria areas.

"I got an offer of a house on Rockland Avenue," he said, "but it was much too large. I also had an offer of a house on Moss Street."

Col. G. S. Scott, 4412 Wilkinson, who commanded tough hillmen troops on the north-west frontier of India and was a recruiting officer in the Punjab, home of the Sikhs, said: "I know the Sikhs well. They are among the most hospitable and friendly people I ever met. They are hard working. I used to mix with them in their villages."

Col. Russell B. Ker, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, said: "We had nothing whatsoever to do with this."

Mrs. G. Howland, an official of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, said she was not surprised that racial discrimination existed in Victoria.

"There is certainly racial discrimination against our own native Indians," she said. "It also exists against other races to a lesser degree. The society is against any racial or color discrimination."

Red Reid, social studies and English teacher at Victoria High School, said it was unfortunate that such a case had arisen in Victoria.

"High school students don't suffer from race discrimination," he said. "This sort of thing comes from adults."

Lew Baxter, 1459 Westall, a Yorkshirer, said he was not a member of the group that opposed Ajeet.

"I never knew a thing about it until I read it in the paper," he said. "I favor the Sikh family coming into our district."

Q.—After touching a designated point on a sheet of paper which embodies a "horse race" game, sparks proceed away from the point along definite routes, leaving behind trails of burned paper. What specific chemicals could one apply to paper to prepare routes for such sparks? H.M.M.

A.—Brush on a solution of potassium chlorate or potassium nitrate along the route you want the sparks to take.

Q.—What is the national unemployment insurance fund total?

A.—As of March 31, it was $741,500,000.

... HERE AND THERE ... With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Just dropped into a store on Yates to watch people recording Christmas greetings for shipment to friends and relations in distant places.

The drill now is you enter a mechanical recorder resembling a phone booth and put 50 cents in the slot. The robot whirs and clicks and then shows a green light which means you are "on the wax."

A red light flashes 20 seconds from the end. Total playing time: 75 seconds.

I notice, incidentally, that canny Victorians usually write out their greetings first.

Visiting here from Idaho, J. G. Blandish commends this safety-first sign to motorists everywhere: Arrive Alive, Don't Drink and Drive.

Mrs. Mildred Hudlin of 2727 Douglas, has identified the tiny tot whose picture appeared in this column Tuesday.

She is Debbie Lawrence, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence who lived in Victoria until Sept. 26 last. They are now at 1833 Barrington Street, Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. Dolly Perry of Sartia River, Vancouver Island, took a colored snap of Debbie in Victoria last summer and wanted to send a print to the family. She had lost their address and asked us to find it.

Just part of the service.

H. N. Simmonds of 8002 Edmund Street, Crofton, thinks I under-estimate the number of veterans of the 30th Canadian Battalion now living on the Island.

"I don't know who gave you the figure 27, but I'm sure there are many more around. . . . The trouble is we are getting too old to turn up at reunions," writes Mr. Simmonds.

I see the Empress is getting ready for another of its Olde English Christmases. As usual most of the bookings are from the United States, but a few Victoria couples with grown-up families regularly move into the hotel during the Yule season.

Seasoned regulars are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lougheed of 902 McClure, who have spent the last seven or eight Christmases at the Empress.

Mr. Lougheed arrived in Victoria from eastern Canada just 51 years ago and has never regretted it.

Lloyd Belfry, 28, of 1137 North Park, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with a deep cut over the eye after falling 10-12 feet to a concrete driveway Wednesday at 9.20 p.m.

Police said the man had a possible leg injury also after his tumble from a porch.

George Seaton, of Langford, was fined $25 and $5.50 costs in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday on a charge of failing to file 1956 income tax return.

Annual dinner of the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Authors Association will be held in the YWCA on Friday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m.

Annual Fall Fair of the Craigflower School PTA realized more than $500 which will be devoted to the group's fund for school improvements.

A dining lounge licence for the sale of wine, beer and cocktails has been granted to the Thistle Room at the Glenisiel Hotel in Victoria the B.C. Liquor Control Board announced today.

A meeting of the Sangster School PTA will be held Friday at 7.30 p.m. in the school.

Trans-Canada Air Lines publicity officer Ross Smythe will speak on "Past and Future of Commercial Aviation" at a Lions Club meeting Friday noon, in the Empress Hotel.

Fred Mannig, vice-president of British America Paint Co. Ltd., will address the Kinsmen Club today on his son John's lengthy trip through the South Pacific and Japan.

The meeting will be in the Pacific Club, at 6.30 p.m.

Former Victoria Railwayman Dies In Ontario

G. Eric Whitehead, 59, who started a long career with Canadian National Railways here, died Tuesday in London, Ont., where he was district freight agent for the company.

Born in England but educated in Victoria, he was well known as a baseball player, having pitched in senior ball in the city during the 1920s. After working in the east for the CNR, he returned here from 1932 to 1939, then was transferred again.

Surviving are the widow, Barbara, in London, and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Whitehead, 501 Niagara Street.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to say a few words to the sixteen-year-old girl whose father wouldn't allow her to date boys other than those of her own religion: Please listen to him. He is trying to save you lots of heartbreak. I dated a boy out of my religion. It all started with just a casual date. I enjoyed his company and we dated again and again. Before we realized it we fell in love. We were both strong in our own religions so there was no way out. We broke up. Although I'll never forget him, I know it is best. Please listen to your father. He is a wise man. SORRY.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has been coming to visit us every year around Christmas for the past three years, ever since she lost her husband. Last year I don't remember when I have put in three more miserable days in my life. She gets "hot flashes" and would take off her blouse or dress wherever she happened to be. I have a ten-year-old son. I didn't want her undressing in front of him so I had to watch her like a hawk and when she looked like she was going to start undressing I would get my boy out fast. Furthermore, she'd mention fifty times a day how much my son looked like HER deceased husband, which he does not. He is the image of MY father. Christmas is coming. Should I invite her back? BURNED UP.

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW. DEAR BURNED: I have a "flash" for you. Your home is also her son's home and you should make her feel welcome. Three days a year is not much of a sacrifice.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a best friend who talks big but acts small. I recently had a baby and this best friend and his wife sent me the cheapest gift I ever saw. I am ashamed to show it to anybody. The wife of the best friend is going to have a baby in March. Should I wrap up this cheap gift and send it back to them just to show them how cheap they are? ANGRY.

DEAR ANGRY: Forget that little scheme. It would only show them how cheap YOU are.

Young British Columbia Girl Is Dancing Way to the Stars

By ELIZABETH FORBES

A few weeks ago in Melbourne, Australia, a Canadian flag rippled proudly over Her Majesty's Theatre—in tribute to a charming 19-year-old British Columbia ballerina.

Hoisting of the ensign coincided with the triumph of Lynn Seymour in her first major role with the London Royal Ballet (formerly the Sadler's Wells Theatre Ballet) then touring Australia.

The dainty, dark-haired beauty—who spent part of her childhood in Victoria and also in Nanaimo—is Lynn Springbett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Springbett, now of Vancouver.

She was dancing the difficult dual role of Odette-Odile in "Swan Lake". And her partner was David Blair, one of the leading male dancers of the Royal Ballet.

After the performance, critic H. A. Standish of the Melbourne Herald, Australia's largest circulation paper, wrote that the audience had seen "the birth of a new Swan Princess."

"She is strong and beautiful, with a sure perfection of line. . . . Everything was on her side—youth, beauty and skill. But the Odile pas-de-deux was the surprise.

"She showed real strength and brilliance which, with the coming of more finish and speed could make her one of the small company of world dancers who can encompass both roles happily."

Mr. Standish added that following the performance one of the company's administrators told him:

"She will be wonderful!"

In a letter to her parents before the performance, Lynn said that she had been overwhelmed to learn she was to dance the important role.

"It will be the greatest moment of my life," she wrote.

She said she was wearing out two pairs of shoes a day in practice for the role. And it is no wonder, for it was the famed Nina de Valois herself who was training her.

It is not often given to a young girl of 19 years to see her dreams come true but Lynn Springbett seemed destined for this from the time she could point a toe.

Success Predicted When She Was Seven

Wynne Shaw, Victoria dancing teacher, picked her as a future ballerina when she was only seven. Even then she was winning awards in the British Columbia dance festival and soon after carried off the coveted June Roper trophy.

In 1953, when she was 14, she was auditioned by Aline Phillips, personal assistant to Nina de Valois, when the Sadler's Wells Company was appearing in Vancouver.

Result was a two-year scholarship to the Sadler's Wells ballet school in London.

Early in 1954 she travelled alone to England to study at the school.

At the age of 18, in August last year, Lynn became a member of the Royal Ballet. Her first role was in Howard's Le Fete Etrange followed by a great personal success in the created role of the Adolescent in MacMillan's The Burrow (the story of Ann Franks).

Then came the Australian tour and the Swan Lake role.

Lynn was home in Vancouver this summer for a month and Wynne Shaw, who was teaching in the mainland city at that time saw much of her.

"She is still the same wonderful little person she was five years ago," Wynne says, "and I'm sure she will never change."

"When she was home, Lynn had no idea at all of what was in store for her."

When Wynne was in England two years ago she stayed with Lynn and went to Covent Garden to see her in a walk on part of a page in Swan Lake. She was still at the Sadler's Wells School then.

"Now she is dancing the role that every dancer dreams of and with the best company there is!" Wynne tells you excitedly. "Progress, eh?"

Victoria Daily Times THURSDAY, DEC. 4, 1958 19

Dolls, dolls and more dolls have filled the Dewdney Ave. home of Mrs. T. W. McPherson in the past few months. They are ready now to go under many Xmas trees.

Dressed Ready for Goodwill Sale

Some little girls will get a big thrill come Christmas morn. And all because of the many hours spent by Mrs. T. W. McPherson, who mends broken dolls and makes them bright, new clothes!

Mrs. McPherson has, for the past two months, taken dolls donated to the Goodwill Enterprises and repainted their faces, given them new clothes. Now they are ready for the big Goodwill Enterprises sale to be held this Saturday at 560 Yates Street.

CLUB CALENDAR

St. Saviour's Winter Fair, Saturday at 2 p.m., parish hall, Henry Street at Catharine. Stalls of home-cooking, needlework, candy, superfluties, fruits, vegetables and flowers and children's wear. Afternoon tea will be served.

So far, Mrs. McPherson has done over 26 dolls.

"It's really fun making dresses for the tiny mannequins," says Mrs. McPherson, "and I get an added delight when I think of the enjoyment some child will have playing with one of my prizes."

She makes lacy ball gowns, sun suits, nighties and wedding dresses all out of scraps . . . and the result is amazing! The dolls all appear brand new and extremely expensive looking!

"I was a coat dressmaker many years ago in my old home in Scotland," explains the energetic Mrs. McPherson, "so I suppose that's why I not only find enjoyment in dressing the dolls, but it's also something I can handle in my spare time." Most of all, cheery Mrs. McPherson enjoys the work . . . for it gives her the true spirit of Christmas!

Visiting Engineers Wives Honored

During the two-day convention of the British Columbia Association of Professional Engineers to be held in the Empress Hotel, Friday and Saturday, the wives of delegates attending the meetings will be entertained at several gatherings.

Visitors will be greeted during registration on Friday morning by Mrs. R. E. Potter, wife of the president of the local branch of the association and Mrs. R. C. Thugher, wife of the president-elect.

In the afternoon they will be taken on a sight-seeing tour and then to afternoon tea in the Upper Terrace home of Mrs. A. B. Sanderson

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is an anecdote from the old Greeks about a husband and a wife who could not get along together. Turn of mind had been going on through years of marriage. Finally the husband could stand it no longer. He sought out someone to help him. He did not know just who this was but he was no doubt some sage of the time and a forerunner of our modern psychiatrist.

The husband said to the wise one, "My wife nags me constantly; she goes into tempers at the slightest provocation; she is unappreciative. I could stand all of this if she did not talk and talk and talk when she is upset."

The wise one answered, "My dear, unhappy man, the solution is simple. Whenever your wife starts on one of her tirades, just fill your mouth with water and keep the water in your mouth until she stops talking."

The knowledge that no retort would be forthcoming must have been frustrating to the woman who was "running off at the mouth." How many problems in marriage this would solve! Answers and reprimands only add fuel to the fire.

In times of emotional stress we all say things we really do not mean but which may still leave a scar on marital bliss. Misunderstandings and misinterpretations take their toll. What we mean to say can turn into something entirely different when interpreted with sensitivity or fatigue.

Many a marriage would be saved by the habit of holding water in the mouth through tense or emotional times. I have told you about the woman who decided that whenever she and her husband had any sort of an argument or misunderstanding she would not insist on "talking it out" at the time. If, after 24 hours, she still felt that it was important enough she would write him a letter which he had promised to answer. Usually after 24 hours it didn't seem important enough, or she didn't care enough or it was just too much trouble.

This is somewhat the same idea as counting to 10 before you speak when you are angry. However, it is much more difficult to get rid of the water in your mouth than to stop counting. Friendships and marriages have been ruined by popping off when the individual is upset.

On Etiquette

WHEN THE ORCHESTRA STOPS PLAYING

Occasionally I am faced with an awkward situation at a dance. When the orchestra ends one dance, then starts another about a half minute later, what does one do during that pause? Should I expect my partner to continue dancing with me, or should he lead me to the sidelines? Or should I be the one to start leaving the floor? That half minute seems barely enough to get back to our party.

Louise Davis Answers:

There can be too many little situations for me to steer you in the right direction, except to say that both must get back to your original partners as best you can. It depends on

WCTU PRESIDENT SAYS

Alcoholism on Increase in Province; Time Public Conscience Was Aroused

The Christian educational approach to drinking which is a major problem today in Canada, was presented in Victoria last weekend at a series of meetings by Mrs. W. S. Watson, Vancouver, provincial president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Watson pointed out that 70 per cent of the adult population of Canada and more than 80 per cent of the population in British Columbia, drinks.

Press releases point to the fact—"that British Columbia has one of the highest rates of drinking per capita, the highest incidence of alcoholism, of crime, of juvenile delinquency and divorce of any province in Canada."

It was recently stated, the speaker said, that "there are 37,000 alcoholics in British Columbia and that they are increasing at the rate of four a day."

Statistics indicate, she said, that Canada is spending $1,042,000,000 on liquor in a year, and only $9,000,000 a year for church work and $140,000,000 on community services.

British Columbia spent over $100,000,000 in liquor last year—"yet the province could not raise $3,000,000 for community chest work."

When drinking becomes too bad, Mrs. Watson pointed out, the conscience and thinking of the public is challenged, with the result that such undesirable conditions generally are modified.

"This is already happening in the United States," she said, "where in the past few years a 12 per cent decrease in drinking is shown. A public poll last year shows 2,800,000 more abstainers than the year before."

"A fact that is not generally known is that one quarter of the United States—by area, not population—is dry by local option voting."

Crib Display to Compete In Second Annual Festival

More than 1,000 Catholic school children of the Greater Victoria area will take part in the second Christmas Crib Festival to be held in the Chinese Catholic Mission, 866 North Park Street on Dec. 13 from 2 to 9 p.m.

The festival was originated in Victoria last year by Mrs. Dennis Hartman to give children something of the true meaning of Christmas and, at the same time, encourage them to develop their creative talents.

Last year more than 400 manger sets were made with 160 chosen for festival display.

Originality may be used in methods and materials for making the mangers.

Last year, plaster, brick, clay, wood and even soap were used. In one instance tobacco was used for the hair of the miniature shepherds. One group made a cave for the display which gave the tiny figures and little animals a realistic appearance.

Rules for entry will be the same as for the first festival, with judging on the points system.

Judges will be Mr. and Mrs. K. Alexander, Mme I. F. Terrien, Mrs. J. A. Yuen, Mr. J. di Castri and Mr. A. Ritz.

Another highlight of the festival will be the carol tea with a program in the afternoon by students of Sacred Heart and St. Patrick's schools and, in the evening by students of St. Ann's Academy and St. Louis College.

Mrs. R. Martin and J. Kennedy are in charge of the crib displays; Mrs. L. Gill, choral groups; Mrs. S. Janis, Mrs. S. Haney and Mrs. R. Grubb.

Homemade candy is popular with youngsters of all ages, and Ottawa children are no exception. When two enterprising girls held a candy and comic book sale on their front porch, enthusiastic customers from their neighborhood block cleared out the complete stock in a matter of minutes. # Widow of Slain Man Recounts Night of Terror

A weary, pale-faced young widow denied in Criminal Assize Court, Wednesday, afternoon that her husband had been drinking previous to the day he was murdered in their home at 3680 Metehosin.

Mrs. Phyllis Owen Mudge, 30, gave evidence for four hours at the seventh day of the trial of Matthew John Till, 16, who is charged with murdering his foster father, 38-year-old Charles Mudge.

Neatly dressed in black, Mrs. Mudge answered questions put to her by Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie and Joseph McKenna, Q.C., Till's defence counsel. She spoke quietly and calmly, but occasionally a note of weariness crept into her voice.

Under questioning, Mrs. Mudge tried to recall what happened between 2.30 p.m. following lunch and 8.40 p.m. when she stumbled battered and unrecognizable into a neighbor's house and cried: "Johnny has gone crazy... he's killed Chuck and my Dad."

Dazed and half-stunned from repeated assaults, she said she could remember only parts of what happened.

In the afternoon, she said, her husband and Till were in the basement putting away the grouse they had shot that morning and hanging up tools. Her father was having a nap in the den.

"I was washing my dishes and went in to have a look at Dad... he was asleep on the chesterfield with his feet up."

(Mr. Brand later was found dead, sitting up on the couch.)

In his cross-examination Mr. McKenna asked Mrs. Mudge: "Did you go swimming one evening last June at the Sooke Potholes with Johnny... you two alone, when your husband had come home and was sick?"

"Why was your husband not along on that occasion?" Mr. McKenna asked.

"There were other people around... he didn't come because he was sick."

No Daily Drink

When Mr. McKenna asked if her husband took a drink every day, she replied: "I wouldn't say that."

Mr. McKenna: "When he did take a drink it was usually rum, wasn't it?"

Mrs. Mudge: "Not necessarily."

Mr. McKenna: "Was rum your husband's favorite drink?"

Mrs. Mudge: "He liked it." The widow denied that her husband had been drinking "heavily" prior to the shooting.

Mr. McKenna: "Had he been drinking more than usual?" Mrs. Mudge: "I didn't notice."

Mr. McKenna: "Didn't you tease him about it?" Mrs. Mudge (wearily): "Oh, I don't remember."

Beating Described

Earlier, she told how, after the shooting of her husband and her father, 69-year-old John Brand, Till beat her about the head and shoulders and three times tried to have intercourse with her.

Mrs. Mudge, who came to Victoria with her father from England in 1947, was asked by Mr. McKenna what kind of education she had.

She said it was the equivalent of a Grade XII schooling in Canada.

"Did you ever take a course in memory training?" asked Mr. McKenna.

"No," Mrs. Mudge replied. The widow testified that when she and Till left the house at Metehosin after the shooting he asked her for the key to the station wagon and said he would "never get a licence now after what he had done."

Talk Recalled

"Did you make that statement at the preliminary (RCMP) court hearing?" asked Mr. McKenna.

"No," she replied.

"What made you think of it today?"

"I don't know what brought it into my mind."

"Are you saying these were the exact words he (Till) used on that occasion?"

"Yes, I think so."

Dealing with Mrs. Mudge's evidence that when she came to in the basement, she heard her husband groaning on the floor nearby, Mr. McKenna asked: "How did you know it was Mr. Mudge—did he groan differently from anyone else?"

"I don't know," Mrs. Mudge answered. She recalled that when she heard her husband groaning his head was closer to her than his feet. She was lying at the foot of the basement stairs.

Mr. McKenna: "Do you remember being dragged down the stairs into the basement?" Mrs. Mudge: "No, I came to lying on the basement floor."

Mr. McKenna: "Then you relapsed again?"

Pool of Blood

Mrs. Mudge: "Yes... there were periods when I was not conscious of what was going on. When I came to in the basement, I remember my head was lying in a pool of blood."

John Till, she said, was beating her about the head and shoulders as she lay on the floor.

Mr. McKenna: "What did John say to you in the basement?"

Mrs. Mudge: "He said he wanted me."

Mr. McKenna: "I suggest your memory of what happened on that tragic occasion is not very clear, and that you remember 'some things only vaguely.'"

Mrs. Mudge: "Some things, yes."

The widow said she remembered that some of her clothes were taken off her in the basement.

Mr. McKenna: "When you were upstairs in the bedroom, did you say anything when he (Till) was trying to have intercourse with you?"

Mrs. Mudge: "I don't remember. I was still very stunned."

Mr. McKenna: "When you asked for a glass of milk did you know where Johnny got the milk?"

Mrs. Mudge: "It is usually kept in the fridge."

Mr. McKenna: "Was there any milk in that bottle when, as you say, he hit you over the head with it?"

Hit Many Times

Mrs. Mudge: "I don't know." She added that Till hit her several times with the bottle before it broke. She felt sick and faint.

Mrs. Mudge said Till did jobs around the house and was paid for his services.

"What was he paid for these services?" asked one of the 12 jurors.

Mrs. Mudge: "My husband paid him; I don't know how much."

The widow walked slowly out of the courtroom at 3.30 p.m. She began her testimony Tuesday afternoon and returned to the stand when the trial reopened at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Dr. N. B. Reilly, Mrs. Mudge's physician, said he scarcely recognized her when he saw her at St. Joseph's Hospital the night of the shooting.

"She was lying on the operating table in the emergency ward... I could scarcely recognize her because her face was so swollen and her hair was matted with blood."

Rink Not Shelved Says Jaycee Boss

Reports that Memorial Arena Annex project had been dropped by the Jaycees were scotched today by president Ray Rawnsley.

... unanimous rejection.

Labor Won't Endorse Ald. Ramsay

Former city alderman Charles Banfield lost hands down Wednesday when he called on Victoria Labor Council to support Ald. Hugh Ramsay in the Dec. 11 civic elections.

Without a dissenter, the 65 delegates voted down the motion.

The council has already nominated its secretary-treasurer, A. W. Toone, as its candidate for alderman. Mr. Banfield, who proposed Mr. Toone and is his campaign manager, wanted the delegates also to throw their support behind Ald. Ramsay.

"Ald. Ramsay has consistently tried to help labor during his term of office," he told them.

But woodworkers' delegate Ed Haw, spearheading the discussion that defeated the motion, said he was "not too concerned about what Mr. Ramsay has done in the past."

"I have not read in the press that he has proposed any legislation that will help labor," he said.

Toone Joins Campaign By Jubilee

Victoria Labor Council agreed Wednesday to allow secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone to serve on the executive committee of Royal Jubilee Hospital's $2,000,000 building project.

The request for Mr. Toone's presence on the committee came in a letter to council from hospital administrator George Masters.

He wrote that the hospital was "anxious to proceed in the near future" with building another hospital wing, and that Mr. Toone's participation would assist the project.

In other business, council decided to send a resolution to the B.C. government urging it to participate in the federal government's winter work program by paying 40 per cent of municipalities' labor costs.

Delegates noted the Bennett administration's "healthy financial position" and thought it could well afford to take part in the federal program.

Veteran Mayor Re-Elected By Hamilton

HAMILTON (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Jackson, one of the most durable major city leaders in Canada, was re-elected for a two-year term Wednesday with a big majority over his sole opponent.

The 70-year-old mayor, who has held the post longer than any other man in Hamilton's history, was favored 5 to 3 by the turnout of fewer than 50,000 of the city's 135,128 eligible voters. He was opposed by former councillor William Harris.

Bridge Delayed

VANCOUVER — Dominion Bridge Company said Wednesday completion of the new Second Narrows Bridge will be delayed the length of time the royal commission investigating the bridge's collapse "held up the damaged steel." This would delay the bridge's opening to near the end of 1959.

Credit Union 'Bank' Set

Attorney General Robert Bonner said Wednesday a five-man credit union reserve board will be named soon.

He said the board will be operated like a central reserve bank "guaranteeing deposits to credit unions which might get into financial difficulties."

All B.C. credit unions would contribute an amount not exceeding one-fifth of 1 per cent of their share capital and money on deposit. The board was approved at the last sitting of the legislature, which required that 85 per cent of B.C. credit unions—representing 85 per cent of the total share capital—approve. Mr. Bonner said more than 85 per cent have signified approval.

"Consideration will be given to members of the board prior to the proclamation of the statute," he said.

700 SUBS BY 1960 IN SOVIET ARSENAL

STOCKHOLM (Reuters) — Russia will have about 700 submarines by 1960—20 times more than Germany had when the war began in 1939—according to the latest issue of the Swedish naval yearbook. The yearbook said Russia is building atomic submarines.

'Never, Never Will Be Slaves'

The municipality of Oak Bay favors independence and is envied by counterparts elsewhere in Canada for civic sense and success.

This was the consensus at the annual "stewardship" meeting Wednesday.

Candidate for reeve, Coun. Patrick Burley, speaking to the 100 ratepayers present, said, "When Canada amalgamates with the U.S. then it will be time for Oak Bay to amalgamate with Victoria."

His opponent in the contest for the reeveship, Coun. George Murdoch, said—it would be "suicide" for Oak Bay "to even think of amalgamation."

Reeve Fred Norris, retiring this month, said amalgamation "would bankrupt many of our taxpayers."

The question of municipal amalgamation, he said, could be best solved by re-defining municipal boundaries rather than by "abandonment" of the existing municipal system.

In his farewell address, Reeve Norris warned that a major adjustment of the present school taxation formula was "a must."

FREE OF CRIME

A police commission report showed the municipality the past year had been free of major crime and traffic fatalities, though there had been an increase in traffic infractions accounting for 217 of 227 police court convictions. There were 34 persons injured on Oak Bay streets last year.

Fire loss totalled $17,445, or $1.16 for each of Oak Bay's 15,000 residents.

Candidate for council, a newcomer to municipal politics, Gordon Elworthy, summed up views of those present: "All Canada envies us. I'm for leaving things as they are."

'Martian' Says Space Is Sacred

LONDON (UPI)—Self-styled Martian ambassador George King last night revealed the reason the United States lunar probe attempts have so far failed—the Interplanetary Parliament on Saturn has decreed that terrestrial man may not land on the moon or "any other inhabited planet in the galaxy."

King was "transmitting a message from the space people to the people of earth" at a meeting of the Aetherius Society in London's Caxton Hall.

The Aetherius Society—Aetherius is a space man from Venus and one of King's chief contacts—is working to create favorable conditions for "closer contact with and ultimately meetings with people from the other planets." And, according to secretary Grace Abercrombie, "we are preparing a world platform for the coming master."

Miss Abercrombie, who opened the meeting at which 250 persons paid 35 cents each to attend, said that King's contact for tonight, known as Mars Sector Six, was "at present circling the earth in a space craft we call the third satellite sending great spiritual waves to earth."

The lights in the hall were dimmed and King went into his trance and said:

"This is Mars Sector Six reporting from Satellite Three, now in Magnetization Orbit Terra."

Mars Sector Six went on to warn earthmen that they would not be allowed to land on any inhabited planet in the galaxy until they turned from "their present materialist worship and ungodlike behavior to the gentleness of the exactitude of the laws which are God."

The cosmic voice went on in this vein for some 20 minutes before signing off and informing the audience that the transmission came to them through the courtesy of the Interplanetary parliament on Saturn.

SCREENED OFF

Miss Abercrombie placed a small screen around King to shield him as he came out of his trance.

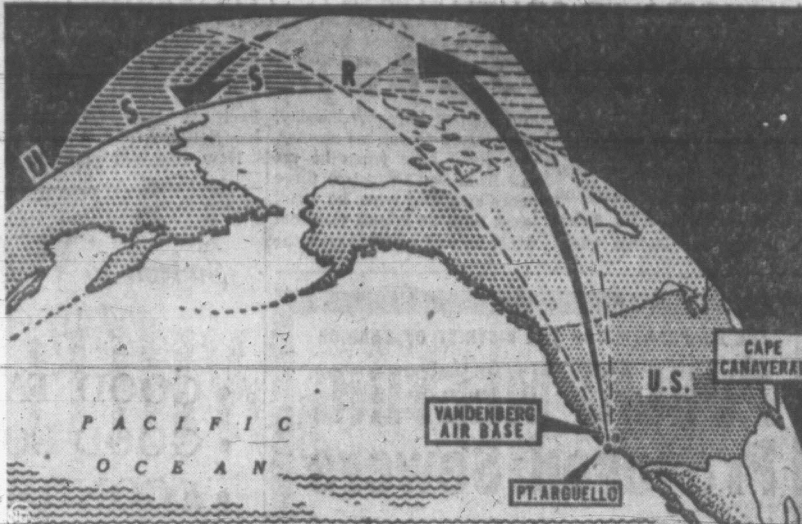

When he had regained his composure, King said he was going to make an announcement which would be the most important news the world had heard since John the Baptist announced the coming of Jesus Christ.

"Anyone who wants to take flash photographs can now do so," he said.

King revealed that Aetherius, in a closed session, announced the coming of a new Christ who "will stand tall among men with a shining countenance."

DOOM THREATENED

"His magic will be greater than any upon the earth—greater than the combined materialistic might of all the armies, and they who heed not His words shall be removed from the earth."

Mouse Scares 'Gassed' Cat

NEW YORK (AP)—A U.S. Army general said Wednesday the army is experimenting with a gas that it hopes will put an enemy to sleep without serious harm.

Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, deputy chief of ordnance, emphasized that the army is a long way from such a goal. He discussed the attempts, along with the army's basic research program, before the 40th annual meeting of the American Ordnance Association.

Schomburg showed a brief film of a cat which backed away in fright from a mouse after the cat was sprayed with an unspecified gas. Army chemical research on various nerve gasses have been reported for years.

In the film, the cat first pounced on the mouse. Then, after being sprayed, its courage vanished and it kept its distance from the mouse as if terrified.

'BANISH HUNGER'

BENGOUGH, Sask. (CP)—CCF House Leader Hazen Argue called on the federal government to join with other governments in a global campaign to banish hunger by 1963.

"Let 1963 be the year to end hunger," he said at a public meeting.

The 20th anniversary of the Food and Agriculture Organization will be celebrated in 1963.

Mr. Argue said two of three people in the world go hungry but the Canadian government "wrings its hands" over surpluses.

NOT FORGOTTEN, SAYS MARTIN

Private Hospitals 'In'

There will always be a place in B.C. health services for private hospitals, particularly in the care of the elderly and the chronically ill, Health Minister Eric Martin said Wednesday.

He was addressing a meeting of the Private Hospitals Executive Division of the B.C. Hospitals Association in the Pacific Club.

The meeting was attended by 45 delegates representing the 41 private hospitals in B.C. and featured a panel of instruction headed by Andrew Rose of Vancouver, inspector of private hospitals under the British Columbia Health Insurance Scheme.

He was assisted by Corinne Erikson of the BCHIS nursing staff, and Mrs. Bernard Jacks, BCHIS dietitian.

Kenneth Conibear, executive secretary of B.C. Hospital Association, said the division was the only one of its kind in Canada affiliated with a provincial group and cared for 75 per cent of the province's welfare cases.

Asia covers 17,000,000 square miles compared to 11,500,000 for Africa.

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's leading Arctic expert today disagreed with a British Columbia geographer's statement that the Canadian Arctic "isn't worth anything."

Indians Reach 'New Milepost'

Kelly Urges Brotherhood
Prove Itself Worthy of Benefits

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Indians of British Columbia must prove that they are ready for the next step in their fight for equality, Rev. Dr. Peter Kelly told the convention of the British Columbia Native Brotherhood here.

Dr. Kelly, chairman of the brotherhood's legislative committee and a United Church minister at Nanaimo, said that the setting up of a parliamentary committee at the request of Citizenship Minister Ellen Fairclough to reconsider the whole position of the Indian in Canada was a "new milepost reached by the Indians of this country."

The convention should buckle down and think of reasonable matters that should be presented to the committee, he said.

"We must prove that we are ready, that we are worthy to take advantage of the offer that will be of benefit to the welfare of Indians."

"We are going to be heard in the House of Commons and in the Senate. Only through organization did we gain the benefit we have today."

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The native Indian must make his wants known on liquor legislation if changes are to be made, the B.C. Native Brotherhood Conference was told Wednesday.

William H. Murray, member of the legislature for Prince Rupert, told the 125 delegates: "You must go further than mere resolutions and motions from meetings."

The Indian's position on the over-all subject of liquor had never been fully outlined to the provincial government, he said. A 1953 plebiscite held under the Liquor Act saw different areas of B.C. express their views on a local-option basis.

Mr. Murray said the natives of B.C. should make a similar effort among themselves to obtain a full and clear picture.

Full-Ton Conventions Kick Proves Hectic for Victoria Man

By HAL MALONE
(Times Business Editor)

Conventions leave many people with nothing but headaches. But to Charlie Moore, a convention is a thing of joy, a soothing addition to a hotel's bank account.

Mr. Moore is assistant manager of conventions at the Empress Hotel.

The Empress Hotel looks to conventions for 25 per cent of its gross revenue.

Without them and Mr. Moore, the Empress Hotel would use huge amounts of red ink in recording its profit and loss statements.

For seven years Moore has been in the convention "kick."

Four or five times a year he travels to Vancouver, through Washington and Oregon, preaching the advantages of the Empress and Victoria as a convention site.

It's a hectic life but it doesn't seem to have had any wearing effects on him. Unless, of course, you overlook the fact that there is a bald patch where his hair used to be.

Convention seeking is a highly-competitive business, he admitted. The Canadian Pacific Railway, which owns the Empress and a few other residences across Canada, has two men who do nothing but solicit conventions.

One works in eastern Canada, the other in the west.

Moore has enjoyed considerable success in enticing out-of-town groups to convene here.

He has kept the Empress in front of the larger Hotel Vancouver (480 rooms) and Seattle's Olympic (1,100 rooms). The latter, he says, is a newcomer to the convention-luring business and is pouring money and effort into promotion.

Many groups convene here because of the quiet atmosphere and outside attractions. While female conventions are rare, women have a great deal to do with many conventions which come to Victoria.

"They love the city as a place to shop," Moore says. "Where else would they find stores such as we have?"

But Victoria has its disadvantages as a convention site, he confessed. "Transportation is the principal one."

He waved a frustrated hand over his exposed skylight.

"I work with our western representative," Moore said. "Sometimes he lines up a group and then I step in to finish the job."

This chore includes telling and selling a group on the facilities at the Empress and of the opportunities for recreation in Victoria.

Among other things, groups learn that the Empress sleeps 650 persons. Accommodation is made up of twin beds, 63 per cent; three single beds, 4 per cent; double beds, 10 per cent. The Crystal Ballroom and tearoom can accommodate 800 persons at a reception. The Empress even arranges for baby-sitters.

$9 MILLION STEEL JOB

MONTREAL (CP) — Webb and Knapp Canada Ltd. announced it has awarded a $9,000,000 structural steel contract for the first phase of its Place Ville Marie project, a 42-story building planned for midtown Montreal.

The joint recipients were Dominion Bridge Company and Dominion Structural Steel Limited. The announcement said the contract is the largest ever let in Canada for a commercial enterprise.

NATIONAL TRUST APPOINTMENT

Percy K. Gardiner, director of the Bank of Nova Scotia, has become the largest Christian investor in State of Israel bonds in Canada through a $75,000 purchase. In making his purchase, Mr. Gardiner referred to Israel as "the strongest friend of democracy in the Middle East."

What does management do in a case like that?

"We had to refund over $300 to complaining guests," Moore said. "But the playboys suffered. We charged it to them. And they paid."

FOREIGN TRADE DEFICIT DOWN FOR 10 MONTHS

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's foreign trade deficit was sharply reduced in the first 10 months of 1958, the Bureau of Statistics has reported.

Imports were valued at $4,313,400,000 compared with exports of $4,071,800,000.

Thus the 10-month deficit—excess of imports over exports—was $241,600,000, down sharply from $733,300,000 in the comparable period of 1957.

The "import balance" also was down in October. A preliminary survey showed exports rose 12 per cent during the month compared with October, 1957, while imports were up only slightly more than four per cent.

The rise in imports was the first recorded in corresponding-month comparisons since September, 1957, and brought the monthly total to the highest level since May, 1957.

Pipe Lines Chief Quits

TORONTO (CP) — Nathan E. Tanner of Calgary today resigned as chairman of the board of directors of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.

Charles S. Coates, president since 1957, succeeded Mr. Tanner as chairman and James W. Kerr of Hamilton was appointed president by the board of directors.

Mr. Tanner, formerly mines minister of Alberta, joined Trans-Canada as president in March, 1954, and was elected chairman last year. He will remain as director and will maintain his office in the company's Calgary branch.

INCONVENIENT TIME

Dennis Brown, public relations manager, said that although Mr. Tanner's resignation came at "a rather inconvenient time" it was in no way connected with the recent Borden commission hearings in which Mr. Tanner was criticized.

"The change was a move in company organization and had been brewing for quite a while," Mr. Brown said.

Mr. Tanner was criticized for taking a stock option on Trans-Canada stock in 1954 when he knew that the federal government was helping to set Trans-Canada up.

Mr. Kerr, 44-year-old native of Hamilton, takes over the Trans-Canada presidency after 21 years with Canadian Westinghouse Co. Ltd., the last two of which he served as vice-president and general manager of the company's apparatus products group.

Mr. Coates, a native of Waco, Texas, joined Trans-Canada as executive vice-president and general manager in 1954 and was appointed president in June, 1957.

He directed the design, engineering and construction of the 2,290-mile Alberta-Quebec natural gas transmission system which was completed and placed in operation last October.

Striking Miners Get Food, Clothes

TORONTO (CP) — Eight hundred Sudbury miners who came to Toronto, seeking government action in their strike against the International Nickel Company prepared to head home today with food and clothing for their families.

Premier Frost told a delegation from the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) the government "has no intention whatever" of taking over INCO's Sudbury and Port Colborne plants as a method of ending the walkout, in its 72nd day.

The food and clothing were solicited in handbills distributed by 200 union members at plants of 15 major industries here after a two-hour meeting with Mr. Frost at Queen's Park.

The 200 brought sleeping bags and spent the night in various union halls. Today they were to retrace their steps, picking up the donations. Two 15-ton trucks had been obtained to transport the material to Sudbury.

The United Electrical Workers in Peterborough, Ont., Guelph, Ont., and Toronto, collected 10 tons of food for the strikers following an appeal a few days ago.

'NO PRANK'

Time Bomb Planted In Stadium

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A time bomb found under a cheer-leader's stand in Memorial Coliseum could have killed or maimed many people, police say.

The device, contained in a cigar box, with a time clock attached, was found Wednesday.

"This was no prank," said D. A. Wolfer, police crime laboratory explosives expert. "It was the real thing. The time clock was set for 2 p.m., which is kickoff time at football games. It could have been planted for the Southern California-Notre Dame game, last Saturday."

The device was wired to explode when two photo flash bulbs were touched off.

Wolfer said police tested the explosive — a greyish, sandy powder — with two electric bulbs and it detonated. He said the two bulbs found in the time bomb were burned out and he does not know why they did not set off the bomb.

ICE SHIP NEVER MADE

2 Million Ton Plane Carrier Wartime Idea

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Habbakkuk, a book of the Old Testament, records at chapter 1, verse 5: "For I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you."

From the book was taken the code name and from the quoted verse the vision of one of the most fantastic projects of the Second World War.

Habbakkuk was to have been a 2,000,000-ton aircraft carrier made of ice which would cruise the North Atlantic as a floating anti-U-boat base.

Probably the first drawing of this projected vessel ever to be made public has recently been published in the Crow's-nest, monthly magazine of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The project was the subject of Anglo-American discussions and Canada became the site for development. Canada's National Research Council took over the project in the fall of 1942. Because ice is not a particularly good building material, scientists looked for something to add to it to obtain the necessary answer.

The answer, supplied by Dr. Herman Mark of New York, was wood pulp.

The mixture of ice and pulp was called Pykerete, after Geoffrey Pyke.

Experimental work at Patricia Lake near Jasper, Alta., and Lake Louise during the winter of 1942-43 resulted in the building of a small prototype.

Mountbatten has related that he had a chunk of Pykerete at the Churchill-Roosevelt con-

A bullet fired at it bounced off and, Mountbatten said, persons outside the room thought the British and United States chiefs of staff were arguing so bitterly that they had started shooting at each other.

Pykerete was as strong as concrete and melted only slowly, even in warm water.

The Habbakkuk carrier was to have been 2,000 feet long, 300 feet wide and 200 feet deep. It was to have been kept from melting by refrigeration units and driven by electric engines or towed by tugs.

It was planned to build Habbakkuk along the northern Newfoundland coast where plenty of pulp was available.

In his book Scientists at War, Wilfrid Eggleston says the floating airfield would have been hollow and the bulkheads surrounded by an "insulating skin" kept permanently frozen by artificial means.

TORPEDO MENACE

Eggleston says Habbakkuk was vulnerable to torpedoes because even a three-foot hole would have pierced the skin and led to eventual melting.

Estimate of the cost of the "ice lozenge"—Churchill's phrase—was roughly $70,000,000.

It appears the main reason for the abandonment of the project in 1943 was that the Allies began to win the upper hand in the Battle of the Atlantic in that year.

Also, it was realized that it would take as long to build Habbakkuk as a conventional aircraft carrier of steel.

The fact remains, however, that the project was undertaken most seriously. If the German U-boats had continued to hold the upper hand Habbakkuk probably would have actually sailed the North Atlantic.

There would have been no problem of disposal after the war. With refrigeration removed, Habbakkuk would have gone the way of all icebergs.

GOOD TENNIS 'MUDDER'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., generally is regarded as the world's top tennis player on rain-soaked clay. He is especially sharp at the net on "off" courts and his volleys are worked up by careful approach shots.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Walt Norwood, aged 11, of Colfax, Iowa, for his question:

Is the Echidna a Mammal?

A baby echidna is fed on its mother's milk. Therefore it must be a mammal. In fact, along with the duckbilled platypus, he is classed as the simplest of all mammals.

Mammals are usually born as live, helpless babies. The echidna begins life as an egg, a round, large yolked egg with a parchment-like shell. It is more like a snake's egg than a bird's.

Mrs. Echidna usually lays just one egg at a time, though once in a great while she lays two. She puts her precious egg into a pouch formed by a flap of skin over her tummy. After a few days in this warm, cosy cradle the egg hatches into a small furry echidna.

Mama wears a fur coat, too, though, chances are, you would never notice it. For, poking up through the fur are long, sharp spines. In fact, in his native home the echidna is sometimes called a porcupine. He is also known as the spiny anteater.

Junior stays in Mama's pouch, feeding on her milk and growing strong. Soon some of his fur begins to get tough and hard. He, too, is growing a coat of protective spines. Mama becomes uncomfortable when Junior's spines poke into her pouch. She removes him and leaves him safely at home in a cosy burrow.

Junior is a very playful fellow and, when he has a twin, the pair of them romp and frolic like puppies. He takes his time growing up and it is quite a while before Mama produces a new baby. When fully grown the young echidna will be about 20 inches long.

He has a long, slender nose, rather like a bird's bill. His legs are too short to be noticed and his feet are rather like spades. After all, he uses them as spades. The echidna is a great digger and burrower. When threatened his four feet go to work digging out dirt in all directions as the spiny back disappears deeper and deeper into the ground.

Breaks Up Ants' Nests

The spade-like feet are also used to break open the nests of ants and termites. As the panic-stricken insects scurry around, the echidna darts out his tongue and crushes them against the roof of his mouth. For he has no teeth.

Echidnas are found in Australia, Tasmania and New Guinea. The echidna of Tasmania is a little larger and much less spiky than his Australian cousin. In fact, only a few spikes poke up from his thick dark fur. The echidna of New Guinea may be 30 inches long, ten inches longer than his Australian cousin, and his long, slender beak bends in a curve. All three cousins are burrowing land-lubbers and all of them live on a diet of ants and termites.

perishes. We hate to see a beautiful forest tree destroyed and, to a lumber man, this is very wasteful.

The destruction of a tree is also a tragedy to countless little forest creatures. To them it was home, a kind of apartment house. Insects lived in its bark, a woodpecker used it as a restaurant, a chipmunk spent the winter between its roots, a squirrel had a nest high in its leafy boughs and many birds built nests in its branches. The porcupine who destroyed the tree was a very unpopular fellow, indeed.

Re-Admittance Of Sorokin Up to Ottawa

The provincial government is leaving to Ottawa the decision on whether Stefan Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors may be re-admitted to Canada.

He has been in South America for several years after travelling there to seek a new colony site for the sect. Recently he indicated he would like to return here.

Attorney General Robert Bonner Wednesday said, "It is correct that Sorokin has applied to the national government for re-entry to Canada. Views of the province were sought on the question... but the matter must remain with the national government (for decision)."

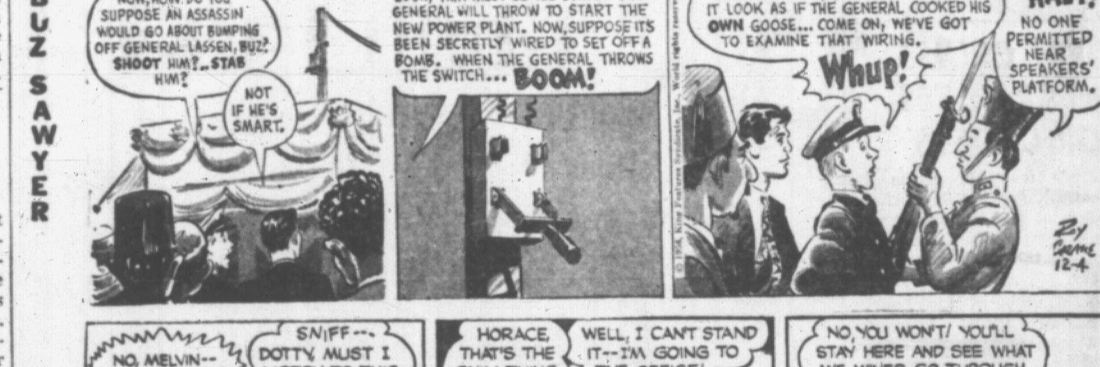

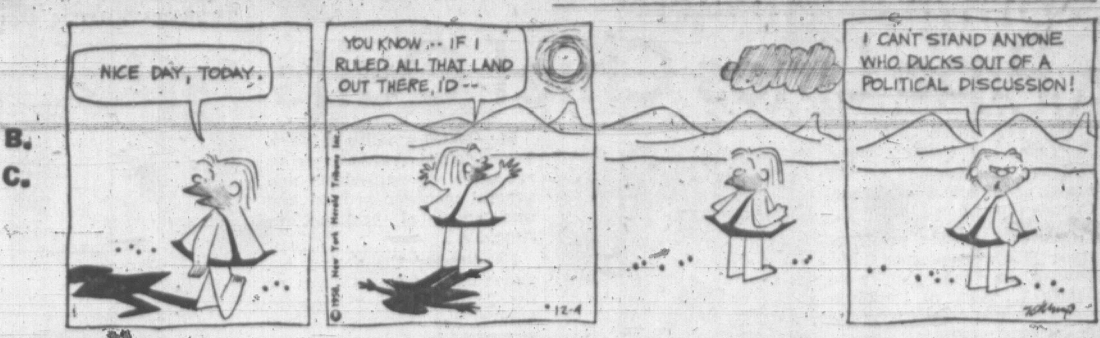

Trees need their bark just as we need skin. When the bark is removed completely around the trunk a tree

'Hobo' Helped by John D. Meets Him Again on Tour

CANBERRA, Australia (CP)—A man who once was a Canadian hobo during the depression tonight had a reunion with John Diefenbaker, who lent him $25 to help him get a job during the hungry '30s.

At a reception the touring Canadian prime minister immediately recognized Dr. Munro MacLennan, 59, here as a wildlife expert with the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization.

Diefenbaker recalled how he met MacLennan on a road near Prince Albert, Sask., in 1931. The Scottish-born Mac-Lennan, with bachelor of science and master of arts degrees was working as a farm laborer.

He said he lent MacLennan $25 as fare to go to Ottawa to get a federal government job.

MacLennan told reporters: "I was sort of a hobo working as a farm laborer or anything I could get." He said he repaid Diefenbaker out of his first month's pay cheque. He said Diefenbaker recognized his name when he was introduced at the reception.

Prominent Sidney Pioneer James J. White Dies at 90

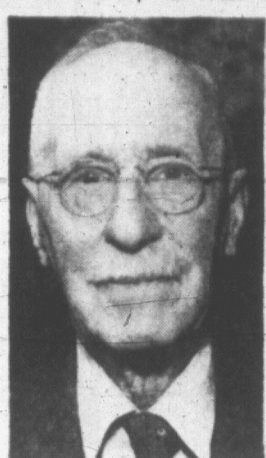

SIDNEY — James Johnson White, pioneer businessman here and active in affairs of the village all his life, died Wednesday at Rest Haven Hospital, just four days after his 90th birthday.

He was born in Madoc, Ont., and arrived in Sidney in 1892 to join his uncle in the saw-milling business. In 1893 he became first station agent of the Victoria and Sidney Railway, and in 1894 took a part-time post as Sidney's first customs officer.

He started in business with a general store that amalgamated with the Sidney Trading Co., and was a founder of the Saanich Canning Co., which canned clams, and later turned to strawberry and loganberry canning until the early 1940s.

For a time he was postmaster and sub-collector of customs, and eventually gave up active participation in business to become the first full-time customs officer here. He retired in 1934.

In 1895, Mr. White married Estelle Brethour, granddaughter of Samuel Brethour, original settler in the area, and daughter of Henry Brethour.

JAMES J. WHITE
... local leader

first school teacher in North Saanich.

They built a home, "Winola," on Second Street, where Mr. White lived until taken to hospital some weeks ago. Mrs. White died in 1955.

A Liberal all his life, he was an honorary life member of the B.C. Liberal Association, and a member of the Laurier Club.

He was a member and past president of Ardmore Golf Club, member of the Alpine Club of Canada, and honorary life member of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club. He belonged to the Saanich Pioneers' Society, and was an honorary member of Sidney Rotary Club.

VILLAGE COMMISSIONER

In 1952, when Sidney was incorporated as a village, Mr. White was appointed a commissioner and then was chosen by his fellow commissioners as chairman. He did not stand for re-election.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lorna McKenzie of Sidney, and Mrs. J. McDaniel, Seattle; a granddaughter, Mrs. T. B. Toye, Sidney; two great-grandchildren, and four sisters.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in St. Andrew's Anglican Church; Sidney, and will be followed by cremation.

CLC Probes Raiding Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Labor Congress confirmed today that it is investigating a complaint by the Teamsters union of raiding activities on the west coast by the Canadian Brotherhood of Transport and other General Workers.

Relations between the two unions have been strained over St. Lawrence Seaway jurisdiction and other matters. Now an open break has developed over the brotherhood's action in signing up 24 employees of Vancouver-Alberta Freight Lines Limited.

The Teamsters said at Vancouver Wednesday night that while their members were picketing the west coast firm, the brotherhood "walked in the back door at the invitation of the management."

CHARGE DENIED

The brotherhood, which last month changed its name from that of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other Transport Workers, denied the charge today in a statement accusing the Teamsters of "cry baby" tactics.

"The members in question were unorganized and were given the option of joining the Teamsters of us," said national vice-president Elroy Robson. "They chose us."

Mr. Robson said the Teamsters had been picketing for six months by their own admission, without even, apparently, "bothering to get the employees directly concerned."

The employees had signed in the normal way and there was "no backdoor deal" with management.

Casino Owner, Wife Slain

PHOENIX, Ariz. (CP)—Gus Greenbaum, wealthy former Las Vegas gambling casino proprietor and Phoenix bookmaker, and his wife were found slain in their home Wednesday.

Detectives said they had been murdered. Their throats were slashed.

Mrs. Greenbaum, her hands tied behind her with a black necktie, was found sprawled in the family den. A blood-stained knife was lying near her body.

Greenbaum was found in a nearby bedroom.

Greenbaum was reported to have been the head of Phoenix bookmaking operations before he acquired Las Vegas's Flamingo Hotel in 1948. He sold the hotel-casino in 1954 for a reported $9,000,000.

Chest Appeals Over Top In 80 Canadian Centres

OTTAWA (CP)—At least a dozen of the 80-odd centres across Canada conducting community fund drives this fall have reached their objectives and many others are nearing their goals.

This was shown in a survey by the Canadian Press of Community Chest and United Appeal campaigns which were seeking a combined $28,000,000.

The most spectacular showing was by the United Appeal in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., which realized $232,346 in a lightning two-week drive, going far beyond the objective of $150,000.

Second Canadian centre to top its goal was Chatham, Ont., which in three weeks reached its target of $80,000.

THREE TIED FOR THIRD

Three cities—Toronto, Ottawa and Brantford, Ont.—finished in a virtual dead heat for third spot, all surpassing their objectives within about a month and by their campaign deadlines.

Toronto, which has the biggest community fund drive in the country, piled up a total of $8,761,697. Its goal was $8,750,000. The Ottawa objective of $752,100 was exceeded by $6,692 and Brantford came up with $484 more than the $166,000 sought.

In these concerted campaigns local health, welfare, recreation and character—building agencies get together in one big fund-raising drive each year instead of staging separate appeals.

THESE CO-OPERATE

Organizations most often found co-operating include Children's Aid Societies, the YMCA and YWCA, the Red Cross, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Boy Scout and Girl Guide associations, the St. John Ambulance, the Canadian Mental Health Association, Family Service Agencies, day nurseries and hospitals.

The records for western Canadian centres, with their reported totals and in parenthesis their objectives:

Regina, $342,000 ($342,000); Medicine Hat, Alta., $36,700 ($36,700); Winnipeg, $1,000,000 ($1,120,000); Saskatoon, $125,000 ($140,105); Edmonton, $483,000 ($550,643); Lethbridge, Alta., $78,400 ($83,000); Vancouver, $2,587,000 ($2,906,000); Victoria, $270,000 ($300,000); New Westminster, B.C., $245,000 ($285,000).

Community funds got their Canadian start in Montreal in 1917. In the 1930s there were about 15 centres with community fund drives, immediately after the Second World War about 50, and now more than 80.

Their over-all goal has climbed from $16,000,000 in 1955 to this year's estimated $28,000,000.

$25,000 Bail Fixed In Real Estate Case

From CP Dispatches

NEW WESTMINSTER — Bail of $25,000 was set in police court here Wednesday for W. A. Price, 24, faced with six charges of false pretences with intent to defraud and one charge of attempted fraud, but his counsel argued property sureties of $10,000 should be sufficient.

Price was returned to Oakalla prison in nearby Burnaby. Price was a salesman for Western United Construction Corporation, Limited, here and was allegedly involved with two company directors in fraudulently real estate dealings.

Also charged are Homer Angus Scobie, 59, and Frank A. Dawson, 29, directors of the firm. Each is charged with false pretences with intent to defraud involving $800. The company is charged in each case.

Bail was first set at $15,000 for Scobie and Dawson, but Scobie was later released on $10,000 bail. Dawson is still in custody at Oakalla.

Technician Found

PRINCE RUPERT — A two-day search for a missing department of fisheries technician on Porcher Island, near here, ended Wednesday afternoon when the man—Edgar Rhodes Jeffers—was found.

Jeffers, 49, was found to be suffering from exposure but his condition in hospital here Wednesday night was reported good.

The search was instituted Sunday when Jeffers failed to return to a fisheries department patrol vessel anchored off the island, 20 miles south of here.

Mishaps Kill 798

VANCOUVER — Accidents have taken the lives of 798

British Columbians in the first 10 months of this year, the B.C. Safety Council reported today.

Of these the biggest portion were caused by traffic — 221 deaths. Accidental falls ran second at 130 deaths and close behind was drowning, which caused 120 deaths.

Automatic Dairies

KELOWNA — Automation may take over the Okanagan Dairy Industry, reducing milk distribution costs.

R. H. Cull, sales manager for North Okanagan Co-operative Association, Wednesday left Minneapolis to investigate possibility of installing coin-operated milk-vending machines.

It costs six cents a quart to deliver milk in the Kamloops-Okanagan area. Milk is delivered five times a week. With vending machines it would be available every day.

Woman Attacked

VANCOUVER — A Burnaby woman told police Wednesday she was attacked on a railway right-of-way near Second Narrows Bridge early Tuesday and robbed of $8 and two rings valued at $300. The woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, 29, said she lay on nearby flats for nearly five hours before regaining consciousness.

Britain Censured On Cyprus Action

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus

(Reuters)—A British coroner says an "entirely unjustified" degree of force was used on some persons arrested here on Oct. 3 in a mass roundup of Greek Cypriots conducted by British troops.

Coroner James Traynor, presiding at an inquest Wednesday into the death of one of two Greek Cypriots who died during the action, noted the arrests followed "the most ghastly and brutal murder it has ever been my lot to inquire into"—the shot-in-the-back slaying of a British sergeant's wife while she was shopping.

BID IN VAIN

The coroner, recalling the mass-arrest bid to catch the killer of Mrs. Catherine Cutcliffe, said "one can fully understand the horror, disgust and anger which filled the minds and hearts of everyone that day."

But, nothing can justify the assaults "on those who were not responsible for the shootings of Mrs. Cutcliffe and another woman and who had done nothing to warrant such assaults."

The coroner said it was "obvious that during the arrests and afterwards there was used on some of those arrested a degree of force which would be entirely unjustified."

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, told the British House of Commons on Nov. 4 that he was "satisfied that in view of the speed with which it (the roundup) had to take place, the larger numbers who had to be arrested in so short a time and the fact that many sought to resist or escape arrest, some use of force was inevitable."

Lennox-Boyd said that in the course of the roundup two Greek Cypriots died, "a number" were hurt and 21 were detained in the hospital. He said reports of ill treatment were "deliberately and systematically fabricated or exaggerated."

Library Pact Hoped In Effect Shortly

Mayor Percy Scurrah today said he hopes the new library agreement will be ratified soon by three outside municipalities.

He added he would make a statement Friday on the subject when it comes up at an intermunicipal meeting.

Negotiations on the draft agreement and its revisions have been going on for more than four years.

So far only Victoria and Saanich have approved the terms. Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Central Saanich have not taken any action.

The present arrangement allowing residents of outside municipalities to use the Victoria library assesses them on the basis of circulation. Representatives of the outside municipalities on the library board have no voting powers.

The new agreement would give Victoria three votes on the board, Saanich two and the other three municipalities one each.

The five municipalities would share capital and operating costs by paying 50 cents per capita annually with the balance assessed on the basis of circulation.

The new agreement would bind all municipalities to the partnership for 12 years, until the $350,000 addition completed in 1951 is paid off.

Victoria ratepayers approved the proposed agreement in a referendum last year.

Since then, amendments to the Municipal Act have empowered the other municipalities to ratify the agreement without a referendum.

Saanich approved the draft last week.

Victoria has almost $1,000,000 invested in the library. The staff was increased to provide the service for the outlying municipalities which have no libraries of their own.

Prince Being Trained For Democratic Rule

EDITOR'S NOTE: Britain's Prince Charles was 10 years old on Nov. 14. What kind of a boy is he? What kind of training is he receiving for the unique job he one day will hold? These are some of the questions answered in this authoritative two-part series.

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON (NEA) — For a future king, Britain's Prince Charles currently has a rather common ambition.

He wants to get into long trousers.

After all, he is said to remind his parents, that he now is 10 years old, and four boys in his class at Cheam boarding school already have graduated out of shorts.

While Charles hasn't yet added the long pants to his wardrobe, he has added since his ninth birthday two new titles to those he has held since birth as Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland.

Not So Flattering

The new ones are Prince of Wales—the traditional one of the male heir to the throne—and "Fatso"—a traditional one among schoolboys. His mother bestowed the first and a school friend the second when the chunky prince came down hard on his foot during a game of soccer.

The other boy yelled, "Get off my foot, Fatso," and Charles immediately let it be known with his fists he wasn't fond of the new nickname.

But while this pudgy youth is acting in so many ways like any other 10-year-old, he is in reality the guinea pig for a daring experiment.

He is the first direct heir to the British crown to be educated in a boarding school, rather than by private palace tutors. This, in itself, amounts to a revolution.

Although Charles is only in his second year at Cheam, in the Berkshire hills, the experiment already is beginning to pay off.

Changes for Better

His parents have been quick to note the changes in Prince Charles when he comes home to Windsor Castle. He insists upon making his own bed, a rather sumptuous affair compared to his monastic iron cot at Cheam with its wicker thin mattress.

He hangs up his clothes, instead of strewing them over the floor for servants to pick up. (At Cheam, he has been taught to keep his personal belongings in a wicker basket, known as a "dog basket.") He is more thoughtful, considerate.

As a student, Prince Charles is not much above average.

That "first" in geography which he won last term is not surprising since he has followed his parents on their Commonwealth travels via postcards and maps ever since he was old enough to look at pictures.

'No Accountant'

"Mathematics? I don't think he would make an accountant," his math teacher observes cautiously. But then his mother, the Queen, was never able to progress beyond the simplest elements of arithmetic.

His very averageness augurs well for his future kingship, it is said here. The British do not like their monarchs to be brilliant. If they are geniuses, they would not be representative.

What about his disposition? "He is a very gentle boy and has a kind heart, which, I think, is the essence of everything," says Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, but then grandmothers are inclined to be partial.

The Queen Mother might have had occasion to revise her opinion of her grandson's gentleness had she ventured into his dormitory one afternoon recently, as did the prince's hairdresser from Harrods, the exclusive London department store.

A 'Regular Guy'

The hairdresser who had come to give Charles his fortnightly "short back and sides," was horrified to find that the princely head was being held under a bath tap by one of the older boys, while His Royal Highness shrieked blue murder.

An instant later the barber's eyes boggled even further, for by a neat body block, Charles managed to tumble his tormentor fully clothed into the filled bathtub. "Bravo," cried the hairdresser, momentarily forgetting himself. The only flaw was that Charles lost his balance and fell in, too.

Prince Charles' ability to "take it" has earned him the popularity of his schoolmates, who now look upon him as "a regular guy."

It would be idle to pretend, however, that Prince Charles is an average boy getting a normal education. He is never entirely free from the glare of publicity; his every move is watched with nation-wide interest.

No boy of 10 who has a private income of $28,000 a year, who greets grown-ups with phrases like, "I never forget a face," who kisses the hand of his mother in public can be considered entirely normal. Prince Charles was born to be different, just as surely as one member of a hive is fed royal jelly and designated as Queen Bee.

So far, the force-feeding of royal jelly has been kept to a minimum, and the youthful Prince of Wales shows every sign of being Britain's most democratic monarch, when he one day ascends the throne.

Bonner Silent On Outstanding Bribe Charges

Attorney General Robert Bonner would not comment Wednesday on possibility of further prosecution of defendants not cleared but not convicted in the recent bribery conspiracy trial.

He said earlier, decision to prosecute or dismiss 19 charges upon which a jury could not agree, would be delayed for "some time."

Asked to explain why the delay was necessary, Mr. Bonner said, "I am not discussing that any further. I'm not giving any reasons. It is in the hands of legal advisers. It's a big problem."

The jury disagreed on two counts against former minister of lands and forests Robert Sommers, although he was convicted on five counts, now being appealed.

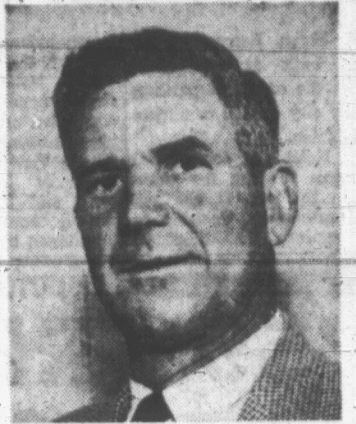

There was disagreement on two charges against H. Wilson Gray, who was convicted and is appealing eight charges. Pacific Coast Services, disagreement on one count and guilty on eight.

Evergreen Lumber Sales Ltd., guilty on two, disagreement on one.

Charles D. Schultz, not guilty on four, disagreement on five. C. D. Schultz & Co., same as Schultz.

B.C. Forest Products Ltd., not guilty on five, disagreement on one.

John M. Gray, not guilty on two and disagreement on two.

Criticism of Parking Plan Refuted

Ald. Hugh Ramsay today struck back at an attack against the off-street parking plan by city council candidate Elgin Neish.

Mr. Neish, a commercial fisherman running for alderman in the Dec. 11 election, urged ratepayers Tuesday to vote against the $1,000,000 money-bill which would start off the plan.

Mr. Neish said council should make a levy against downtown merchants and use present meter revenues to pay for the View Street project instead of increasing meter rates and borrowing money when householders were threatened by increased taxes through provincially ordered assessment hikes.

"It seems strange that Mr. Neish would play on voters' emotions by suggesting taxes would go up when at the same time he advocates a method that would definitely increase taxes," Ald. Ramsay, who is running for re-election, said. "Present meter rates go into general revenue. If we used them for financing the plan it would raise taxes by $3 per thousand of assessment," he said.

"That would put the load on the homeowners instead of on the people who would benefit," Ald. Ramsay said council's financing plan will make motorists and merchants who benefit pay for the facilities.

"The motorists will pay through the higher meter rates and the merchants will pay their share by validating shoppers' parking stubs. The homeowner won't have to pay anything."

He added that under the Municipal Act, council has no power to make local improvement levies against merchants to raise the money.

Salesman Acquitted

A Vancouver advertising salesman was acquitted in city police court Wednesday of a charge of obtaining by fraud $151.23 in lodgings at the Empress Hotel.

Thompson did not learn, until his return to Vancouver Nov. 10, 1956, that a cheque for $228, which was to have been deposited to his account, was worthless.

Magistrate H. C. Hall gave Thompson the benefit of doubt in the matter and dismissed the charge.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Van Nes and their seven children, who lost many of their possessions in a fire in their rented home last Thursday, moved Wednesday into a house at 2652 Millstream Rd.

They have been staying at Craigflower Auto Court since the fire, which destroyed much of their clothing and bedding. These were largely replaced by donations.

Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee meets for the last time this year Friday at 2:30 p.m. in City Hall.

All provincial jails and municipal lockups will be required to make special report to the attorney-general in future whenever any prisoner is in custody awaiting trial for longer than one month.

The order was issued Wednesday by Attorney-General Robert Bonner. He noted in a prepared statement that in recent months two instances have occurred where prolonged delays in arranging trial had resulted in extended jail time for prisoners.

Legal counsel for B.C. Power Commission in the Shrum Royal Commission inquiry into power matters will be Vancouver lawyer C. K. Guild, QC.

The appointment was announced by BCPC chairman T. H. Crosby Wednesday. The hearings open in Vancouver Dec. 11 and continue there for two days, then move to Victoria Dec. 17 and 18.

Appointment of a successor to Victoria police court magistrate H. C. Hall may take "two or three months" Attorney-General Robert Bonner said Wednesday. The magistrate, who was to retire this month following his 75th birthday, has been given an extended term in office until the end of February.

No Case Put Up by CPA TCA Counsel Maintains

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian Pacific Airlines satisfied some of the government's requirements for permitting competition in cross-country air services, Trans-Canada Air Lines argued on Wednesday.

J. G. Edison, TCA counsel, urged dismissal of a CPA application to break TCA's transcontinental passenger monopoly as the Air Transport Board concluded hearings begun October 6.

The board reserved judgment and Chairman Clarence Shepard said the three-member body will "make what haste they can" in rendering a decision.

DIRECTIVE BY HEES

Mr. Edison argued that Transport Minister Hees publicly laid down a directive last January that envisaged the board's study being conducted on the basis of:

1. The demand for competition,
2. Active competition,
3. The economic consequences of introducing competition.
4. The competitor assuming some of the load of unprofitable routes now carried alone by TCA.

The inquiry has shown there was no market potential of the size to justify competition, Mr. Edison said. CPA had not advocated active competition but rather had urged that TCA back out of some of its profitable cross-country routes and desists from establishing any parallel competitive services with proposed CPA routes.

HIGHER FARES SEEN

He said the economic consequences were shown to be deficits for both airlines and such a situation was not in the public interest. He foresaw a higher pattern of fares or government subsidy resulting from approval of the CPA application.

In rebuttal, Ian Sinclair, CPA counsel, said the controlled competition advocated by CPA was merely for a brief transitional period to ease the impact of introduction of competition.

He said CPA president Grant McConachie made it clear during the hearing that CPA seeks no subsidy and is ready to take all the risks involved in providing TCA with competition.

"Subsidies don't run in the Canadian Pacific blood but competition does and we want to keep it that way."

INSIDE STAFF CONTRACT SET

Strike Curb at City Hall

City Hall inside staff's association will become the third civic employees' union to sign a no-strike contract with the city.

A bylaw authorizing the contract is being prepared for presentation to council, probably at its next meeting.

Terms of the contract, approved in principle by both council and the union, will provide: binding conciliation of all disputes; payment of union dues by all 165 members of the inside staff; maintenance of union membership at a minimum of 80 per cent.

The 96-member policemen's union and the 87-member firemen's union entered no-strike contracts several years ago.

The three unions include about 62 per cent of the total number of civic employees.

People and Things

LONDON — For six years Mrs. Margaret Lingham-French took husband John his morning cup of tea in bed. She was still doing it this morning though they were divorced nine days ago.

"It's hard to break the habits of six years of marriage," explained Mrs. Lingham-French, dark-haired and 36. "Even though we are divorced, I still cook his meals and do the washing up. And when I've done the washing up, I'll be darned his socks."

Mrs. Lingham-French won her divorce on the ground of cruelty and moved into another bedroom. But she can't move out of the house because she hasn't yet found an apartment she can afford on the £5 a week he agreed to give her for herself and their three children, Margaret 5, Hillary 4, and Katrina 2.

Wednesday she went back to the divorce court and got an order forbidding John from molesting her while they are under the same roof.

"I'm still very fond of him," she said. "When he's being pleasant, he can be very good company."

LONDON—Mrs. Jean Barnes won a divorce Wednesday after the judge said her husband's refusal to speak to her from October to January was "enough to drive any woman round the bend."

LATINA, Italy — A young bride swallowed her house key to stop her husband going out with the boys.

"My husband wanted to go out with his friends for the first time since we were married a month ago," 21-

year-old Adriana Segala tearfully told doctors at hospital, where she was taken for surgical treatment.

"I wanted him to stay at home with me. He insisted on leaving so I grabbed the key and swallowed it."

The husband had to break down the door to take his wife to the hospital.

AUSTIN, Tex. — President Eisenhower has been asked to write a happy ending to the life story of author O. Henry. The Texas Heritage Foundation appealed to the president this week to grant a full pardon for the short story writer, who served a five-year sentence on a charge of embezzling $854.08 from an Austin bank. He died in 1910 at the age of 48.

CHICAGO—Four children—cheered on by mobs of Christmas shoppers, were turned loose in the dazzling world of downtown toy departments Wednesday with permission to "take all you can in five minutes, free."

The haul? Bicycles, dolls, trains, balls and a wagon amounting to more than $1,379 retail.

The kids, three boys and a girl, aged 9 to 12, won a State Street council contest to name the elf-like figures atop new light poles down the loop thoroughfare. The council footed the bill.

ILLEGAL GIFTS UP TO ONTARIO

Bonner Mum on Liquor

Attorney General Robert Bonner declined comment today on a statement by the Ontario Liquor Control Board that accepting a bottle of liquor as a Christmas gift is just as illegal as giving it.

"This is an Ontario matter and I do not wish to be quoted on it," Mr. Bonner said.

The attorney-general made the same reply when asked concerning a statement from Toronto that the Ontario attorney-general's department is prepared to fight an Ontario Supreme Court judgment which could eliminate the careless driving charge—one of the most widely used sections of the Highway Traffic Act.

"That again is an Ontario matter," Mr. Bonner said.

The Ontario Liquor Control Board spokesman said under the Liquor Control Act the onus is on the person with the liquor to prove it has been obtained legally.

The question came up when one of Canada's major distilleries mailed thousands of illustrated brochures to Ontario residents suggesting its products for gifts.

In regard to the careless driving charge, Ontario Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said the province's careless driving law is invalid because it trespasses on criminal legislation passed by Parliament.

Unemployment has been increasing recently by about 6,000 a week and now stands at 65,000 in a nation of 4,315,000. At this time last year there were 44,000 jobless.

Fire Victims Final Rites

CHICAGO (UPI)—Funeral services were to be held today for three nuns and three of their 87 young charges who perished in Monday's fire in the Our Lady of The Angels School.

Services will be held Friday for 57 of the boys and girls killed in the fire, including a requiem mass to be offered by Archbishop Albert G. Meyer at the northwest armory. Twenty-eight families agreed to the mass services to be held at the armory, while 29 arranged for private services.

Manitoba Area Belted By Another Blizzard

WINNIPEG (UPI)—Blocked highways and gale-force winds plagued southern Manitoba today in the wake of its third blizzard in 17 days.

The latest snowstorm was driven by winds up to 70 miles an hour and dumped as much as six more inches of snow in parts of the province overnight.

Canada Bond Issue Sold Out In Hour

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Bank of Canada Wednesday night reported that books were closed on the new $400,000,000 issue of Government of Canada bonds one hour after they went on sale.

The issue was over-subscribed, the bank said. Finance Minister Donald Fleming said the bond sale would be used to pay off a $400,000,000 short-term bank loan obtained last July.

The snowfall ceased today as the storm swept eastward into Ontario, but winds up to 50 miles an hour continued to cause serious drifting problems in both rural and urban areas.

Police reported today that many of the province's highways were nearly closed to traffic because of extreme drifting conditions.

The RCMP said that abandoned cars added to the traffic hazards and again urged motorists to keep off the roads. Two more inches of snow fell on Winnipeg during the night, but 6.2 inches was reported at Gimli, Man.

No further snow was forecast for the Manitoba storm belt today, but continued northeast winds were forecast along with falling temperatures. Readings as low as 15 below in the Carman area and five below zero in Winnipeg.

A-ARMED PLANE CRASH COULD 'TOUCH OFF WAR'

LONDON (AP) — Russia claimed today that an accident to a nuclear-armed U.S. plane—such as took place last week at Lake Charles, La.—could one day accidentally touch off world war.

An air force B-47 medium jet bomber caught fire on the flight line at Chennault Air Force Base Nov. 26 while carrying a nuclear weapon. The fire did not reach the weapon. The U.S. government has said repeatedly there is no possibility of an atomic or hydrogen bomb being exploded accidentally.

"Accidents of this kind have become routine events in the U.S. Air Force," said Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, as quoted by Moscow Radio.

Till 'Explosive Type' Psychologist Tells Court

(See Wednesday afternoon trial report Page 21)

Murder suspect Matthew John Till was described in assize court today as "above average intelligence but liable to erupt explosively if aroused or severely frustrated."

Victoria College psychology professor, Dr. W. H. Gaddes, who examined the 16-year-old boy, said the effect of alcohol on the accused "in certain circumstances" might bring "his more primitive drives to the surface."

The jury also heard that Till's father, an alcoholic, escaped while on parole from Essondale mental institution and accused his wife of trying to poison him.

Later, during questioning of the college professor by Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie, defence counsel Joseph McKenna stood up and told the court—"My defence is not insanity."

Till is charged with the Sept. 13 murder of his foster father, Charles Mudge, 38, found shot at their 3460 Metchoshin Road home. John Brand, 69-year-old father of Mudge's wife, Phyllis, was also slain by gunshots the same day.

No Levity

The boy listened attentively with head slightly cocked as evidence of his mental condition and that of his father was given on the eighth day of the trial.

A packed public gallery strained to hear every word as first the superintendent of Essondale, then the psychologist, took the stand. Once, when Mr. McKenna commented that "we might all be psychopaths," the spectators laughed and Mr. Justice J. G. Rutman warned he would clear the court "if there is any further levity."

Dr. Thomas Gilbert Caunt, Essondale medical superintendent for six years, told the court Curtis Anthony Till, the boy's father, was committed to the institute Aug. 1, 1951, when he was aged 58.

He was discharged on probation for six months July 11, 1952, and discharged in full Jan. 11, 1953.

Dr. Caunt described Till senior as a "psychopathic personality without psychosis, with evidence of chronic alcoholism."

Mr. McKenzie: "What is a psychopathic personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "There are many definitions. This man was not psychotic. He did not have delusions or hallucinations. He knew where he was all the time. You could talk to him, he was not confused. He was aware of a situation or an environment but indifferent to the generally accepted rules of society."

Not Uncommon

Mr. McKenzie: "Is not this a commonplace type of personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "It is not uncommon."

The prosecutor asked whether it was not true that "there are very many psychopathic personalities running around who have never been exposed to mental treatment."

Dr. Caunt agreed that such "advanced cases" were committed only when they became difficult or abnormal.

Mr. McKenzie then suggested "ne'er-do-wells—a husband and father who drinks too much" might be a psychopathic personality, and that high-pressure salesmen "who will do anything to sell their products" could be classed in the same psychopathic group.

Dr. Caunt: "Not necessarily."

Mr. McKenzie asked whether many psychopathic personalities were also chronic alcoholics.

Dr. Caunt: "I don't know."

He said a psychotic person was different from a psychopath in that a psychopath might commit an act but not care about the consequences. A psychotic, he said, would care.

A report made by Essondale authorities revealed that Till senior escaped from the institution while on parole. He sent the hospital a letter saying he had obtained $150 from a finance corporation and was "taking an airplane out of B.C."

In his letter Mr. Till said he had "waited too long for discharge." Later his wife phoned from Squamish to say her husband was standing on the doorstep "and what was going to be done about it?" He was returned to Essondale by the RCMP.

'Poison Bid'

The institution described Mr. Till as "unpleasant" in character on April 17, 1952. In July of that year he was graded "reasonably pleasant and co-operative," but "you cannot believe anything he says."

MATTHEW JOHN TILL ... "If aroused"

Officials said he was a "nuisance" to his wife and family but that he was worthy of discharge.

In January, 1953, they reported that Mr. Till had "complained his wife had tried to poison him."

Dr. Gaddes testified he examined Till "with tests" on various occasions between Sept. 16 (three days after the killings) and Oct. 8, including a three-hour session at Oakalla Prison.

He based his examinations, he said, on intelligence and personality, with emphasis on personality.

"I found him above average intelligence; with good ability to reason and good ability in mathematics. His verbal abilities, including imagination, were only average."

Not Cold-Blooded

"He seemed to be suffering from a basic personality conflict. He had a strong need for affection and the conflict arose from his inability to get it, to get acceptance."

"I felt he would erupt explosively if aroused and seriously frustrated. It would be in the nature of a spontaneous outbreak, not a cold-blooded vicious attack."

"He was completely co-operative, but with difficulty in showing feelings of any depth."

In reply to Mr. McKenzie, Dr. Gaddes said there was no evidence of psychosis in the boy's make-up.

Mr. McKenzie: "Wouldn't you expect him to do everything to please his foster parents?"

Dr. Gaddes: "I am not qualified to infer that. I have never met his foster parents."

He added that the accused "in certain situations and circumstances" might not be able to govern his emotions.

Mr. McKenzie: "Would his passions be inflamed in those certain situations?"

"Yes."

"Would his audacity be increased?"

"Yes."

"Would his self-control be reduced?"

"Yes."

The psychologist said he did not question Till about his drinking habits.

Effect of Alcohol

Mr. McKenzie: "What would be the probable effect of alcohol in such a situation as you mention?"

Dr. Gaddes: "It might bring his more primitive drives to the surface."

In reply to further questioning, he agreed the youth might also take excessive risks, readily yield to an influence and may be prone to commit a crime.

He said the youth was not "in a state of natural imbecility, and had no disease of the mind."

When the prosecutor began to read an interpretation of insanity from the Criminal Code, section 16, subsection 2, Mr. McKenna said that was a matter for the court to decide, not for Dr. Gaddes to decide.

The judge said that at one time—until fairly recently—Mr. McKenna's objection would have been in order but that the law governing the matter had been changed.

Mr. McKenzie then read the description of insanity as defined by law:

"... subject to be in a state of natural imbecility, or disease of the mind to such an extent that he would be incapable of realizing the nature and quality of an act, or its omission, or to know that it is wrong."

At this point Mr. McKenna got up to point out that "my defence is not insanity."

Civic Race Entries Closed Off

No dark horse candidates were expected to enter the city election races before nominations closed today.

Two Victoria trustees, on Greater Victoria school board were expected to be re-elected by acclamation. They are Mrs. E. M. Mansell and Walter Thomson, only ones to take out nomination papers by noon.

Seven previously-announced candidates filed their nomination papers for the aldermanic contest where four seats are at stake.

No others took out nomination papers by noon. Nominations were to close officially at 2 p.m.

Nomination forms for the council elections were filed early by: Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. A. I. Curtis, Ald. Hugh Ramsay, Ald. Elmer McEwen, Victoria Labor Council official A. W. Toone, housewife Mrs. Sally Rogers and commercial fisherman Elgin Neish.

'Zorro' Car Slashers Hit 3 Times

A gang of juvenile slashers are suspected responsible for a spate of property damage in the Rockland area Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Two car owners reported seat upholstery slashed and a third found a hat left in her car had been cut.

Mrs. Laura Diamond, Apt. 4, 1575 Rockland, told police her car seat cover was cut between 5 and 7.15 p.m. Wednesday as the auto was parked in her driveway.

A calling card which said "Zorro Will Travel," was left in the car.

A half-hour earlier, at 6.55 p.m., John Spoor, 1021 Pemberton, complained his car seat covers were ripped between 5 and 9 p.m. the night before.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, 941 Darwin, said a hat left in her car which was parked at Rockland and Gonzales between 7 and 10 p.m. Wednesday was slashed and a note indicating juveniles was left behind.

Man Fined $300 For Taking Car, Impaired Driving

A 26-year-old itinerant with no fixed address was fined a total of $300 in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday when he appeared for sentence for impaired driving, taking a car without the owner's consent and driving while suspended.

Lionel James Scott pleaded guilty to all charges last week and was remanded in custody for sentence.

Police said Scott took the car from outside a Happy Valley home where an auto salesman had driven to see a prospective customer.

Scott was stopped by an RCMP patrol at Colwood Corner a few minutes after the salesman reported his car missing.

TRAFFIC FINES

NELLES SEES SAANICH TAX UP SHARPLY

Saanich taxes will jump "at least 25 per cent" in 1959 on the basis of its provisional budget, Coun. Charles Nelles revealed today.

He said he would take the newly-completed provisional budget to an amalgamation forum tonight at 8 in St. George the Martyr Church hall, Cadboro Bay and Maynard.

Coun. Nelles and Coun. Leslie Passmore, hard-hitting opponents in amalgamation debates, are scheduled for a return match at the Saanich Voters' Association-sponsored meeting.

"I just got hold of this provisional budget today," he said.

"And, although it's much too modest for our needs, it still indicates in black and white that there will be a tax increase in Saanich next year."

City Anxious? Nonsense, Says Mayor

Mayor Percy Scourrah today angrily denounced "nonsense talk" from Saanich anti-amalgamationists.

"I'm getting tired of all this nonsense talk from certain people in Saanich that the city is anxious for amalgamation," he said.

He said the city agreed to having a study of amalgamation "only at the insistence of the reeve and council in Saanich."

"It wasn't us who started the ball rolling, it was Saanich. We agreed to go along only after months of campaigning for the study by the reeve of Saanich," he said referring to efforts of former reeve Arthur Ash.

Although he made no reference to Saanich Coun. Leslie Passmore, the mayor's criticism seemed directed at the councillor's repeated suggestions that Victoria was pushing amalgamation on Saanich.

Victoria Labor Council jumped feet first into the current B.C. power controversy Wednesday.

It labelled the proposed royal commission "a whitewash commission," called for a special house committee of the legislature to investigate power matters in the province—then decide to invite former B.C. Power Commission manager H. Lee Briggs to address the delegates.

(Mr. Briggs said Tuesday he would not accept any further speaking engagements other than those he had already promised).

Some council members also suggested Premier Bennett be asked to speak to the council, but this proposal was not acted on.

The invitation to Briggs came after council secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone reported the premier's secretary had acknowledged a council letter calling for wide terms of reference for the royal commission.

The council executive recommended the acknowledgment be "received as progress."

'Progress' That Premier Answered

Protested a delegate, "I see little progress in the receipt of an acknowledgment. It is an explanation from the premier that we want."

Council vice-president E. T. Staley said the executive used the expression "received as progress" with some cynicism.

"Some of our letters to the premier never got an answer at all," he explained. "The fact that he has even acknowledged this one instead of waiting six months must be considered progress."

The description "whitewash commission" came from builders' delegate Percy Rayment, who charged the premier "was trying to avoid a full power investigation."

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie agreed the terms of reference of the royal commission "fell far short of what this council asked for."

(The council wanted the commission to probe cost of obtaining and distributing power, along with an investigation into its financing).

Socred Chiefs Briggs' Target

With two public addresses left before he quits his grass-roots "politicking," former B.C. Power Commissioner H. L. Briggs stated today he has no quarrel with any political party, but "certainly with the leaders of the Social Credit Party."

Mr. Briggs will make his last scheduled Victoria speech at Victoria High School tonight at 8. The meeting is sponsored by a non-partisan citizens' committee and is open to the public.

Friday night he will address the Farmers' Union at Chilliwack.

"This winds up my present speaking campaign," Mr. Briggs said.

Realistic View Urged

Mr. Briggs addressed an enthusiastic crowd of nearly 300 in Nanaimo Wednesday night. He appeared a trifle worn by events since he was fired Nov. 14 for criticizing Social Credit policy. But he spoke decisively on the need for "a realistic view" on power and development of the North country.

In his address he publicly apologized to Premier Bennett for falsely estimating cost of a Social Credit booklet, but said he had spoken in good faith on information from a publisher.

Earlier, Mr. Briggs had said that the booklet "Six Years of Social Credit" cost one dollar a copy for the 400,000 copies circulated.

Since then he had been told the cost would be 11.7 cents a copy.

In an angry rebuttal to the $1 a copy charge, Premier Bennett said Tuesday the cost of the booklet was 6½ cents a copy.

Mr. Briggs also stated that he will insist that Premier Bennett testify before the Shrum Royal Commission into B.C. Power Commission financing.

"I shall engage a lawyer to represent me when I appear before the commission," Mr. Briggs said.

Of the premier, he stated: "It was his politics which were involved. Of course, he should be called."

Labor Adds Voice to Battle Against Sikh 'Discrimination'

Alleged racial discrimination against a young Sikh couple by some Westall Ave. residents was angrily denounced Wednesday night by Victoria Labor Council.

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie said Ajeet Bawa, 28-year-old Canadian-born East Indian, was a member of the International Woodworkers of America—"and I defy anybody to say he is any worse or any better than any one of us."

Council went on record as "deploring" the incident.

Meanwhile Ajeet, forced to leave his Westall Ave. home because neighbors didn't want him, has had offers of accommodation in several other Victoria areas.

"I got an offer of a house on Rockland Avenue," he said, "but it was much too large. I also had an offer of a house on Moss Street."

COMMUTING

Still living in Duncan, and commuting daily to his job at a sawmill on Plummer Bay at Craigflower, Ajeet doesn't have time on weekdays to view the offers or enquire about other prospects.

Doing some of the spade-work for him now is the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which Wednesday set up a committee of house-hunters.

TOO FAR AWAY

Ray Rawnsley, president, said he had received offers of many homes, but they were located too far from his work.

"You would be surprised if I told you the location of some of the homes which were offered to Ajeet," said Mr. Rawnsley. "Some of these are located in quite nice areas."

He said he had made a personal investigation into what appeared to be race discrimination.

"I questioned some of the Westall neighbors," he said, "and I'm certain many of the residents today are sorry they opposed the family moving into their district."

Hundreds of citizens and many organizations continue to protest the action of the Westall residents.

HOSPITABLE

Col. G. S. Scott, 4412 Wilkinson, who commanded tough hillmen troops on the north-west frontier of India and was a recruiting officer in the Punjab, home of the Sikhs, said:

"I know the Sikhs well. They are among the most hospitable and friendly people I ever met. They are hard working. I used to mix with them in their villages."

Col. Russel B. Ker, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, said: "We had nothing whatsoever to do with this."

Mrs. G. Howland, an official of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, said she was not surprised that racial discrimination existed in Victoria.

"There is certainly racial discrimination against our own native Indians," she said. "It also exists against other races to a lesser degree. The society is against any racial or color discrimination."

Reg Reid, social studies and English teacher at Victoria High School, said it was unfortunate that such a case had arisen in Victoria.

"High school students don't suffer from race discrimination," he said. "This sort of thing comes from adults."

Lew Baxter, 1459 Westall, a Yorkshirer, said he was not a member of the group that opposed Ajeet.

"I never knew a thing about it until I read it in the paper," he said. "I favor the Sikh family coming into our district."

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Just dropped into a store on Yates to watch people recording Christmas greetings for shipment to friends and relations in distant places.

The drill now is you enter a mechanical recorder resembling a phone booth and put 50 cents in the slot. The robot whirs and clicks and then shows a green light which means you are "on the wax."

A red light flashes 20 seconds from the end.

Total playing time: 75 seconds.

I notice, incidentally, that canny Victorians usually write out their greetings first.

Visiting here from Idaho, J. G. Blandish commends this safety-first sign to motorists everywhere:

Arrive Alive, Don't Drink and Drive.

Mrs. Mildred Hudlin of 2727 Douglas, has identified the tiny tot whose picture appeared in this column Tuesday.

She is Debbie Lawrence, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence who lived in Victoria until Sept. 26 last. They are now at 1833 Barrington Street, Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. Dolly Perry of Sartia River, Vancouver Island, took a colored snap of Debbie in Victoria last summer and wanted to send a print to the family. She had lost their address and asked us to find it.

Just part of the service.

H. N. Simmonds of 8002 Edmond Street, Crofton, thinks I underestimate the number of veterans of the 30th Canadian Battalion now living on the Island.

"I don't know who gave you the figure 27, but I'm sure there are many more around. The trouble is we are getting too old to turn up at reunions," writes Mr. Simmonds.

I see the Empress is getting ready for another of its Olde English Christmases. As usual most of the bookings are from the United States, but a few Victoria couples with grown-up families regularly move into the hotel during the Yule season.

Seasoned regulars are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loughood of 902 McClure, who have spent the last seven or eight Christmases at the Empress.

Mr. Loughood arrived in Victoria from eastern Canada just 51 years ago and has never regretted it.

2 Experts Disagree On Value of Arctic

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's leading Arctic expert today disagreed with a British Columbia geographer's statement that the Canadian Arctic "isn't worth anything."

R. J. A. Phillips, chief of the northern affairs department Arctic division, said in an interview he would like to see the full text of Dr. Lewis Robinson's Vancouver speech Wednesday night, but he considered the Arctic to have much greater potential.

Dr. Robinson, chairman of the geography department of the University of British Columbia, said the Arctic's only economic resource is white fox. Mineral resources there would have to be richer than present reports indicate to make development worthwhile.

RESPECTS ROBINSON
Mr. Phillips said he is puzzled by the statements, "because I have high respect for Dr. Robinson."

Private enterprise was spending millions of dollars in searching the Arctic for minerals. There had been as many oil claims staked in the sub-Arctic as in all Alberta. "Whether or not there is anything in the Arctic will be decided by whether any interest is shown in developing it, and the interest certainly is there."

The Arctic's uniqueness—as a tourist attraction, for its game and for its Eskimo population and their work—also could be considered a valuable resource.

Indians Reach 'New Milepost'

Kelly Urges Brotherhood
Prove Itself Worthy of Benefits

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The Indians of British Columbia must prove that they are ready for the next step in their fight for equality, Rev. Dr. Peter Kelly told the convention of the British Columbia Native Brotherhood here.

Dr. Kelly, chairman of the brotherhood's legislative committee and a United Church minister at Nanaimo, said that the setting up of a parliamentary committee at the request of Citizenship Minister Ellen Fairclough to reconsider the whole position of the Indian in Canada was a "new milepost reached by the Indians of this country."

The convention should buckle down and think of reasonable matters that should be presented to the committee, he said.

"We must prove that we are ready, that we are worthy to take advantage of the offer that will be of benefit to the welfare of Indians."

"We are going to be heard in the House of Commons and in the Senate. Only through organization did we gain the benefit we have today."

Peaches' Baubles Auctioned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The jewels and baubles of the late Peaches Browning, a nostalgic name from the roaring '20s, were auctioned off Wednesday for an estimated $50,000.

Advance appraisals on the trinkets Peaches had collected in a career of four marriages had ranged up to $250,000.

Mrs. Frances (Peaches) Heenan Browning Hynes Civelli Willson died two years ago, at 46, in her New York apartment after a fall in her bathroom.

She had rocketed—to her place in jazz-age history 30 years earlier with the first of her marriages. She was 15 when she and Edward (Daddy) Browning, a free-spending and eccentric New York real estate millionaire, were wed. Browning was 51 then.

After her 1926 wedding to Daddy Browning ended she appeared for a time in vaudeville.

'Copter Crashes In Fog Into River

WASHINGTON (AP) — A United States navy helicopter crashed into the fog-covered waters of the Potomac River, Wednesday night, killing one man. Nine others aboard were rescued about four hours later.

Mining industries, led by copper, account for about 75 per cent of the total exports from Chile.

ON LIQUOR

Make Wants Known

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — The native Indian must make his wants known on liquor legislation if changes are to be made, the B.C. Native Brotherhood Conference was told Wednesday.

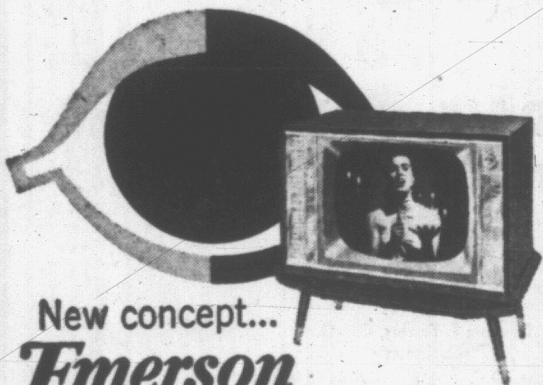

William H. Murray, member of the legislature for Prince Rupert, told the 125 delegates: "You must go further than mere resolutions and motions from meetings."

The Indian's position on the over-all subject of liquor had never been fully outlined to the provincial government, he said. A 1953 plebiscite held under the Liquor Act saw different areas of B.C. express their views on a local-option basis.

Mr. Murray said the natives of B.C. should make a similar effort among themselves to obtain a full and clear picture.

Convention 'Kick' Proves Hectic for Victoria Man

By HAL MALONE
(Times Business Editor)

Conventions leave many people with nothing but headaches. But to Charlie Moore, a convention is a thing of joy, a soothing addition to a hotel's bank account.

Mr. Moore is assistant manager of conventions at the Empress Hotel. The Empress looks to conventions for 25 per cent of its gross revenue. Without them, and Mr. Moore, the Empress Hotel would lose its identity in recording its profit and loss statements.

For seven years Moore has been on the convention "kick." Four or five times a year he travels to Vancouver, through Washington and Oregon, preaching the advantages of the Empress and Victoria as a convention site.

It's a hectic life but it doesn't seem to have had any wearing effects on him. Unless, of course, you overlook the fact that there is a bald patch where his hair used to be.

Convention - seeking is a highly-competitive business, he admitted. The Canadian Pacific Railway, which owns the Empress and a few other enterprises across Canada, has two men who do nothing but solicit conventions.

One works in eastern Canada, the other in the west.

"I work with our western representative," Moore said. "Sometimes he lines up a group and then I step in to finish the job."

This chore includes telling and selling a group on the facilities at the Empress and of the opportunities for recreation in Victoria.

Among other things, groups learn that the Empress sleeps 650 persons. Accommodation is made up of twin beds, 63 per cent; single beds, 4 per cent; double beds, 11 per cent, and single beds, 10 per cent. The Crystal Ballroom and tearoom can accommodate 800 persons at a reception. The Empress even arranges for baby-sitters.

Moore has enjoyed considerable success in enticing out-of-town groups to convene here.

He has kept the Empress in front of the larger Hotel Vancouver (680 rooms) and Seattle's Olympic (1,100 rooms). The latter, he says, is a newcomer to the convention-luring business and is pouring money and effort into promotion.

Many groups convene here because of the quiet atmosphere and outside attractions. While female conventions are rare, women have a great deal to do with many conventions which come to Victoria.

"They love the city as a place to shop," Moore says. "Where else would they find stores such as we have?" But Victoria has its disadvantages as a convention site, he confessed. Transportation is the principal one.

He waved a frustrated hand over his exposed skylight.

"I lost one convention the other day just because of the transportation problem. Worked three years to get this Washington group. Just when I thought I had it sewed up they called it off. When I asked why they pointed out their members could drive up to Vancouver in a few hours for a few dollars. But coming to Victoria meant extra passenger and auto fares and they didn't feel they could handle it."

The money stayed in the family, however. The CPR family, that is, Moore quickly lined up suitable dates for the group in the Hotel Vancouver.

Apart from their financial contribution, do conventions leave a trail of costly havoc? "Rarely," said Moore. "I can only recall one group that did us in a ditch. They just didn't believe in any sort of curfew. Ran around the hotel all night, disturbing other guests."

"What does management do in a case like that?"

"We had to refund over $300 to complaining guests," Moore said. "But the playboys suffered. We charged it to them. And they paid."

400-MILE SWIM TRY
DOWN FRASER STARTS

Prince George, B.C. (CP)—Dodging ice and fighting rapids, a 38-year-old French immigrant left Prince George today in an attempt to swim 400 miles down the Fraser river to the Pacific.

Louis Laurmais of Brittany stepped into the river at 9 a.m.

He was wearing a foam rubber frogman's suit. It is not watertight, but lying close against the body it possesses considerable insulation qualities.

A helmet of the same material fits tightly over his head.

The swimmer will sleep out of water each night during the swim.

Mrs. E. M. Maunsell and Walter Thomson were re-elected as Victoria trustees on the Greater Victoria school board by acclamation at 2 p.m. when nominations closed today.

No surprise candidates were nominated for the four-seat aldermanic race.—(See story Page 17.)

Dry Field Forecast for Shrine Game

TORONTO (CP)—Dry, crisp weather is in prospect for Saturday's Shrine East-West all-star football game at Hamilton, Ont., the chief weather forecaster for Ontario said today.

Ship's Steward Acquitted of Arson

VANCOUVER (CP)—A ship's steward was acquitted today of a charge of wilfully setting fire to bedclothes in a ferry cabin. Found not guilty was Warren Pasquill, Sumpter of North Vancouver.

HALIFAX (UPI)—The tug Foundation Vigilant, with the disabled German tanker Marie Louis Haltermann in tow, battled heavy seas and bad weather today as it steamed slowly toward Halifax.

LONDON (UPI)—A group of pacifists announced plans today to invade a secret U.S. missile base Saturday and halt construction of the multi-million dollar project by surrounding the concrete mixer.

Cost of Living
Keeps Climbing

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs rose for the fourth consecutive month during October, pushing the consumer price index to a record 126.3 on Nov. 1, up three-tenths of a point from 126 on Oct. 1, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Virtually all segments of the index, except in the food group, showed increases. Some foods rose but these were offset by declines in other food items.

All told, the price index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, climbed by 1.6 points over the Aug. 1-Nov. 1 four-month period. It was the most protracted rise since last winter.

Meanwhile, the Canadian industrial wages trend seemed to indicate that many consumers are losing some purchasing power. Average wages seem to be easing while prices continued to rise.

For example, the average weekly industrial wage Sept. 1 was $66.67, down from $66.66 Aug. 1. Translated into 1949 dollars, it meant the purchasing power of this weekly wage had dropped to $53.08 from $53.40. It was the third consecutive monthly decline from the high of $54.40 June 1.

Prices rose during October for rents, home ownership, new model automobiles, hospital rates, theatre admissions, drugs, tobacco, haircuts and costs of personal care, along with beef, bananas, oranges, tomatoes, potatoes, celery,

Colombia Foils
Political Coup

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—President Alberto Lleras Camargo and the army ruled Colombia under a modified form of martial law today after arresting former dictator, Gustavo Rojas Pinilla on charges of plotting a coup. In a broadcast, Lleras Camargo said the attempt to overthrow his government was scheduled for next Saturday. He proclaimed a state of siege and warned against public gatherings that might indicate subversion. The nation remained calm. Troops were posted throughout Bogota.

'WELL, THERE
SEAGULL ...'

NANAIMO (CP)—Vernon Frank Wright's case will probably be dismissed.

Wright appeared in court for Shirley Lorraine Johnson, who, as registered owner of a car, was accused of double parking Sept. 28. He said at that time she was his fiancée, and they've since been married.

Wright said he was driving at the time. "There was a sick seagull on the road ahead, and I knew you can be fined $50 for killing a seagull."

The car was stopped, he said, merely to give the ailing bird time to move.

The case was argued in advance of next Wednesday's trial.

Snow
Here
Soon?Rival Air Masses
Race to City

A large-scale war between two conflicting weather systems could mean snow within "a day or two," weatherman William Mackie said today.

Participants are the cold air that is making most of the Prairies miserable today, and a storm centre over the eastern Pacific Ocean.

"Both are heading for the coast, and the cold air has reached the Cariboo," he said. "If the cold air gets here first, then the onset of the storm over it will mean snow for us."

The forecast, however, is for some cloud tonight and partial clearing with sunny periods Friday. Winds will be light, and temperatures will range between 25 degrees in the coldest areas tonight, and about 45 degrees Friday.

Unstable weather conditions today accounted for a smattering of sleet in mid-morning, Mr. Mackie said. Minimum temperature recorded here Wednesday night was 26 degrees.

70 GIRLS FLEE
BLOCK FIRE
IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seventy girls, most of them in their nightclothes, escaped early today when fire shot through a west-end apartment block.

A fireman said later: "Five minutes more and it would have been a tragedy."

The working girls live in four-bed suites in the block, the Stadscona Business Girls' Residence.

Cause of the fire was not yet known. Wardens believe the furnace blew back and flames shot quickly up a light well to the roof.

Careless Driving

TORONTO (CP)—No arrests for careless driving are to be made pending an appeal of an Ontario Supreme Court ruling that the charge is invalid, Deputy Attorney-General W. B. Common announced today.

He said police have been instructed to issue summonses for the offence instead of arresting violators.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said in a ruling handed down Wednesday the province's careless driving law is invalid because it trespasses on criminal legislation passed by Parliament.

The Chief Justice said in his written judgment that every case coming under the careless driving section could be prosecuted under the criminal negligence section of the Criminal Code of Canada "even where death ensued."

Heavy Fog
Ties Up
London Area

LONDON (Reuters)—Trains ran late, planes were grounded and motorists crawled to work this morning when fog blanketed large areas in the midlands, east and South England.

Both London Airport and its reserve field at Gatwick in Surrey were shut down. For the third day, shipping was halted in the Thames.

The port of Liverpool and the River Mersey area was clear for the first time for nearly a week. Liverpool Airport resumed normal operations.

Cardinal Dies

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, 82, archbishop of Santiago and oldest member of the Roman Catholic Church's Sacred College of Cardinals, died today.

Prince Philip has visited

Royal Tour Dates
Set by Ottawa

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will almost certainly visit Victoria when they make their Canadian tour next summer.

This means they will be the first royal visitors to the new Government House, now nearing completion. They stayed at the old mansion, since destroyed by fire, when they came to Victoria in 1951 before Elizabeth's accession to the throne.

A broad outline of plans for the tour was announced in Ottawa today and it set mid-July for the royal visit to B.C. and northern areas.

Earlier reports stated that the royal couple planned to visit all 10 capitals of the province after the Queen officiates at the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

A spokesman at Government House in Victoria said there has as yet been no official schedule of the B.C. tour visit, but final plans were expected soon.

The official announcement in Ottawa was signed by Lt.

Gen. H. D. Graham, commissioner for the royal visit.

He laid stress on the efforts planners are making to allow the Queen and Prince Philip to see as much as possible of Canadian life and industry.

"Emphasis is being placed on providing opportunities for the royal visitors to see places off the beaten track if possible; industries of various kinds in operation; how the great mass of Canadians live, through visits to villages, farms and townships; and in every instance to meet some of the persons engaged in these activities."

'Precedent In Informality'

The tentative program announced in Ottawa today calls for visits to Newfoundland, Quebec and Ontario in June; B.C. and northern areas until mid-July; prairie and maritime provinces until the end of July.

Tour officials say the visit will set "a precedent in informality."

They will travel by aircraft, boat, train and automobile as necessary.

They will arrive at Torbay, Newfoundland, by air in mid-June. The royal yacht Britannia will cross the Atlantic and be boarded at Seven Islands, Que., after the couple have visited Newfoundland and other Atlantic provinces.

Some of the off-beat spots to be visited will include iron ore workings and a pulp and paper town.

Official opening of the Seaway will take place at Montreal. It is hoped that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and President Eisenhower will be aboard the Britannia for ceremonies officially opening the power phase of the Seaway at Cornwall, Ont.

THIRD VISIT

The trip will be the third to Canada for the Queen and the second since she ascended the throne. She was in Ottawa last year to open the Canadian Parliament and, when still a princess, made a cross-country tour in 1951.

The Royal couple will leave the Britannia at the Great Lakes and travel by train through the prairies to the west coast. There they'll switch to a plane for a northern swing, probably to Whitehorse in the Yukon Territories and Inuvik, the new townsite for Aklavik on the Arctic coast.

Prince Philip has visited the north previously. He made a tour in 1954 when he came to Canada alone.

From the north, the royal couple will be flown out to a prairie centre. From there they'll proceed to the Maritimes to reboard the Britannia.

Keep Nerve,
Adenauer
Tells Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told West Berliners today to keep their nerve and pledged that the Western allies will overcome the Soviet threat to the isolated city.

Standing bareheaded on misty Tempelhof Airport, after flying in for a two-day visit, the 82-year-old chancellor declared that "Soviet Russia threatens the freedom and security of Berlin."

"If we do not become frightened then we and our Western allies will master the situation," he said.

Adenauer arrived in West Berlin just three days before crucial municipal elections. The West and the Communists are pointing to Sunday's elections as a plebiscite on the Soviet bid to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city.

People and Things

LONDON — For six years Mrs. Margaret Lingham-French took husband John his morning cup of tea in bed. She was still doing it this morning though they were divorced nine days ago.

"It's hard to break the habits of six years of marriage," explained Mrs. Lingham-French, dark-haired and 36. "Even though we are divorced, I still cook his meals and do the washing up. And when I've done the washing up, I'll be darned his socks."

Mrs. Lingham-French won her divorce on the ground of cruelty and moved into another bedroom. But she can't move out of the house because she hasn't yet found an apartment she can afford on the £5 a week he agreed to give her for herself and their three children, Margaret 5, Hillary 4, and Katrina 2.

Wednesday she went back to the divorce court and got an order forbidding John from molesting her while they are under the same roof.

"I'm still very fond of him," she said. "When he's being pleasant, he can be very good company."

LONDON—Mrs. Jean Barnes won a divorce Wednesday after the judge said her husband's refusal to speak to her from October to January was "enough to drive any woman round the bend."

LATINA, Italy — A young bride swallowed her house key to stop her husband going out with the boys.

"My husband wanted to go out with his friends for the first time since we were married a month ago," 21-

year-old Adriana Segala tearfully told doctors at hospital, where she was taken for surgical treatment.

"I wanted him to stay at home with me. He insisted on leaving so I grabbed the key and swallowed it."

The husband had to break down the door to take his wife to the hospital.

AUSTIN, Tex. — President Eisenhower has been asked to write a happy ending to the life story of author O. Henry. The Texas Heritage Foundation appealed to the president this week to grant a full pardon for the short story writer, who served a five-year sentence on a charge of embezzling $854.08 from an Austin bank. He died in 1910 at the age of 48.

CHICAGO—Four children—cheered on by mobs of Christmas shoppers, were turned loose in the dazzling world of downtown toy departments Wednesday with permission to "take all you can in five minutes, free."

The haul? Bicycles, dolls, trains, balls, and a wagon amounting to more than $1,379 retail.

The kids, three boys and a girl, aged 9 to 12, won a State Street council contest to name the elf-like figures atop new light poles down the loop thoroughfare. The council footed the bill.

ILLEGAL GIFTS UP TO ONTARIO

Bonner Mum on Liquor

Attorney General Robert Bonner declined comment today on a statement by the Ontario Liquor Control Board that accepting a bottle of liquor as a Christmas gift is just as illegal as giving it.

"This is an Ontario matter and I do not wish to be quoted on it," Mr. Bonner said.

The attorney-general made the same reply when asked concerning a statement from Toronto that the Ontario attorney-general's department is prepared to fight an Ontario Supreme Court judgment which could eliminate the careless driving charge—one of the most widely used sections of the Highway Traffic Act.

"That again is an Ontario matter," Mr. Bonner said.

The Ontario Liquor Control Board spokesman said under the Liquor Control Act the onus is on the person with the liquor to prove it has been obtained legally.

The question came up when one of Canada's major distilleries mailed thousands of illustrated brochures to Ontario residents suggesting its products for gifts.

In regard to the careless driving charge, Ontario Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said the province's careless driving law

Fire Victims Final Rites

CHICAGO (UPI)—Funeral services were to be held today for three nuns and three of their 87 young charges who perished in Monday's fire in the Our Lady of The Angels School.

Services will be held Friday for 57 of the boys and girls killed in the fire, including a requiem mass to be offered by Archbishop Albert G. Meyer at the northwest armory. Twenty-eight families agreed to the mass services to be held at the armory, while 29 arranged for private services.

Manitoba Area Belted By Another Blizzard

WINNIPEG (UPI)—Blocked highways and gale-force winds plagued southern Manitoba today in the wake of its third blizzard in 17 days.

The latest snowstorm was driven by winds up to 70 miles an hour and dumped as much as six more inches of snow in parts of the province overnight.

Canada Bond Issue Sold Out In Hour

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Bank of Canada Wednesday night reported that books were closed on the new $400,000,000 issue of Government of Canada bonds one hour after they went on sale.

The issue was over-subscribed, the bank said.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming said the bond sale would be used to pay off a $400,000,000 short-term bank loan obtained last July.

The snowfall ceased today as the storm swept eastward into Ontario, but winds up to 50 miles an hour continued to cause serious drifting problems in both rural and urban areas.

Police reported today that many of the province's highways were nearly closed to traffic because of extreme drifting conditions.

The RCMP said that abandoned cars added to the traffic hazards and again urged motorists to keep off the roads.

Two more inches of snow fell on Winnipeg during the night, but 6.2 inches was reported at Gimli, Man.

No further snow was forecast for the Manitoba storm belt today, but continued northeast winds were forecast along with falling temperatures. Readings as low as -15 below in the Carman area and five below zero in Winnipeg.

A-ARMED PLANE CRASH COULD TOUCH OFF WAR

LONDON (AP) — Russia claimed today that an accident to a nuclear-armed U.S. plane—such as took place last week at Lake Charles, La.—could one day accidentally touch off world war.

An air force B-47 medium jet bomber caught fire on the flight line at Chennault Air Force Base Nov. 26 while carrying a nuclear weapon. The fire did not reach the weapon. The U.S. government has said repeatedly there is no possibility of an atomic or hydrogen bomb being exploded accidentally.

"Accidents of this kind have become routine events in the U.S. Air Force," said Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, as quoted by Moscow Radio.

Crisis in Finland As PM Resigns

HELSINKI (AP)—Finnish Prime Minister August Fagerholm resigned today.

Fagerholm quit after the five Agrarian party members of the cabinet resigned, taking away the coalition government's majority in Parliament.

Fagerholm handed his resignation to President Urho Kekkonen, who asked him to stay on until a new government can be formed. Fagerholm agreed, at least for the remainder of the week.

Fagerholm also will take over the post of foreign minister in the interim. Foreign Minister Johannes Virolainen led the walkout of his Agrarian colleagues.

BRING PRESSURE

Till 'Explosive Type' Psychologist Tells Court

(See Wednesday afternoon trial report Page 21)

Murder suspect Matthew John Till was described in assize court today as "above average intelligence but liable to erupt explosively if aroused or severely frustrated."

Victoria College psychology professor, Dr. W. H. Gaddes, who examined the 16-year-old boy, said the effect of alcohol on the accused "in certain circumstances" might bring "his more primitive drives to the surface."

The jury also heard that Till's father, an alcoholic, escaped while on parole from Essondale mental institution and accused his wife of trying to poison him.

Later, during questioning of the college professor by Crown prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie, defence counsel Joseph McKenna stood up and told the court: "My defence is not insanity."

Till is charged with the Sept. 13 murder of his foster father, Charles Mudge, 38, found shot at their 3460 Metchisin Road home. John Brand, 69-year-old father of Mudge's wife, Phyllis, was also slain by gunshots the same day.

No Levity

The boy listened attentively with head slightly cocked as evidence of his mental condition and that of his father was given on the eighth day of the trial.

A packed public gallery strained to hear every word as first the superintendent of Essondale, then the psychologist, took the stand. Once, when Mr. McKenna commented that "we might all be psychopaths," the spectators laughed and Mr. Justice J. G. Rutan warned he would clear the court "if there is any further levity."

Dr. Thomas Gilbert Caunt, Essondale medical superintendent for six years, told the court Curtis Anthony Till, the boy's father, was committed to the institute Aug. 1, 1951, when he was aged 38.

He was discharged on probation for six months July 11, 1952, and discharged in full Jan. 11, 1953.

Dr. Caunt described Till senior as a "psychopathic personality without psychosis, with evidence of chronic alcoholism."

Mr. McKenzie: "What is a psychopathic personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "There are many definitions. This man was not psychotic. He did not have delusions or hallucinations. He knew where he was all the time. You could talk to him, he was not confused. He was aware of a situation or an environment but indifferent to the generally-accepted rules of society."

Not Uncommon

Mr. McKenzie: "Is not this a commonplace type of personality?"

Dr. Caunt: "It is not uncommon."

The prosecutor asked whether it was not true that "there are very many psychopathic personalities running around who have never been exposed to mental treatment."

Dr. Caunt agreed that such "advanced cases" were committed only when they became difficult or abnormal.

Mr. McKenzie then suggested "ne'er-do-wells—a husband and father who drinks too much" might be a psychopathic personality, and that high-pressure salesmen "who will do anything to sell their products" could be classed in the same psychopathic group.

Dr. Caunt: "Not necessarily."

Mr. McKenzie asked whether many psychopathic personalities were also chronic alcoholics.

Dr. Gaunt: "I don't know."

He said a psychotic person was different from a psychopath in that a psychopath might commit an act but not care about the consequences. A psychotic, he said, would care.

A report made by Essondale authorities revealed that Till senior escaped from the institution while on parole. He sent the hospital a letter saying he had obtained $150 from a finance corporation and was "taking an airplane out of B.C."

In his letter Mr. Till said he had "waited too long for discharge." Later his wife phoned from Squamish to say her husband was standing on the doorstep "and what was going to be done about it?" He was returned to Essondale by the RCMP.

'Poison Bid'

The institution described Mr. Till as "unpleasant" in character on April 17, 1952. In July of that year he was graded "reasonably pleasant and co-operative," but "you

Former Victoria Railwayman Dies In Ontario

G. Eric Whitehead, 59, who started a long career with Canadian National Railways here, died Tuesday in London, Ont., where he was district freight agent for the company.

Born in England but educated in Victoria, he was well known as a baseball player, having pitched in senior ball in the city during the 1920s. After working in the east for the CNR, he returned here from 1932 to 1939, then was transferred again.

Surviving are the widow, Barbara, in London, and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Whitehead, 501 Niagara Street.

MATTHEW JOHN TILL
... "if aroused"

cannot believe anything he says."

Officials said he was a "nuisance" to his wife and family but that he was worthy of discharge.

In January, 1953, they reported that Mr. Till had "complained his wife had tried to poison him."

Dr. Gaddes testified he examined Till "with tests" on various occasions between Sept. 16 (three days after the killings) and Oct. 8, including a three-hour session at Oakalla Prison.

He based his examinations, he said, on intelligence and personality, with emphasis on personality.

"I found him above average intelligence, with good ability to reason and good ability in mathematics. His verbal abilities, including imagination, were only average."

Not Cold-Blooded

"He seemed to be suffering from a basic personality conflict. He had a strong need for affection and the conflict arose from his inability to get it, to get acceptance."

"I felt he would erupt explosively if aroused and seriously frustrated. It would be in the nature of a spontaneous outbreak, not a cold-blooded vicious attack."

He was completely co-operative, but with difficulty in showing feelings of any depth."

In reply to Mr. McKenzie, Dr. Gaddes said there was no evidence of psychosis in the boy's make-up.

Mr. McKenzie: "Wouldn't you expect him to do everything to please his foster parents?"

Dr. Gaddes: "I am not qualified to infer that. I have never met his foster parents."

He added that the accused "in certain situations and circumstances" might not be able to govern his emotions.

Mr. McKenzie: "Would his passions be inflamed in those certain situations?"

"Yes."

"Would his audacity be increased?"

"Yes."

"Would his self-control be reduced?"

"Yes."

"The psychologist said he did not question Till about his drinking habits."

Effect of Alcohol

Mr. McKenzie: "What would be the probable effect of alcohol in such a situation as you mention?"

Dr. Gaddes: "It might bring his more primitive drives to the surface."

In reply to further questioning, he agreed the youth might also take excessive risks, readily yield to an influence and may be prone to commit a crime.

He said the youth was not "in a state of natural imbecility, and had no disease of the mind."

When the prosecutor began to read an interpretation of insanity from the Criminal Code, section 16, subsection 2, Mr. McKenna said that was a matter for the court to decide, not for Dr. Gaddes to decide.

The judge said that at one time — until fairly recently — Mr. McKenna's objection would have been in order but that the law governing the matter had been changed.

Mr. McKenzie then read the description of insanity as defined by law:

"... subject to be in a state of natural imbecility, or disease of the mind to such an extent that he would be incapable of realizing the nature and quality of an act, or its omission, or to know that it is wrong."

At this point Mr. McKenna got up to point out that "my defence is not insanity."

Civic Race Entries Closed Off

No dark horse candidates were expected to enter the city election races before nominations closed today.

Two Victoria trustees on Greater Victoria school board were expected to be re-elected by acclamation. They are Mrs. E. M. Maunsell and Walter Thomson, only ones to take out nomination papers by noon.

Seven previously-announced candidates filed their nomination papers for the aldermanic contest where four seats are at stake.

No others took out nomination papers by noon. Nominations were to close officially at 2 p.m.

Nomination forms for the council elections were filed early by: Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. A. I. Curtis, Ald. Hugh Ramsay, Ald. Elmer McEwen, Victoria Labor Council official A. W. Toone, housewife Mrs. Sally Rogers and commercial fisherman Elgin Neish.

'Zorro' Car Slashers Hit 3 Times

A gang of juvenile slashers are suspected responsible for a spate of property damage in the Rockland area Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Two car owners reported seat upholstery slashed and a third found a hat left in her car had been cut.

Mrs. Laura Diamond, Apt. 4, 1575 Rockland, told police her car seat cover was cut between 5 and 7.15 p.m. Wednesday as the auto was parked in her driveway.

A calling card which said "Zorro Will Travel," was left in the car.

A half hour earlier, at 6.55 p.m., John Spoor, 3021 Pemberton, complained his car seat covers were ripped between 5 and 9 p.m. the night before.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, 941 Darwin, said a hat left in her car which was parked at Rockland and Gonzales between 7 and 10 p.m. Wednesday was slashed and a note indicating juveniles was left behind.

Man Fined $300 For Taking Car Impaired Driving

A 26-year-old itinerant with no fixed address was fined a total of $300 in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday when he appeared for sentence for impaired driving, taking a car without the owner's consent and driving while suspended.

Lionel James Scott pleaded guilty to all charges last week and was remanded in custody for sentence.

Police said Scott took the car from outside a Happy Valley home where an auto salesman had driven to see a prospective customer.

Scott was stopped by an RCMP patrol at Colwood Corner a few minutes after the salesman reported his car missing.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: E. H. Campbell, 1075 San Marino, $10 for making an illegal right turn on a red traffic light.

Philip D. Martin, 3684 Cottonwood, $15 for speeding over 30.

Joseph Carl Pollard, 3214 Glasgow, $15 for driving through a red light.

Tony Pastro, Sidney, $10 or three days for driving without one headlight. (Elected to serve time.)

Martin H. Smith, 3163 Camma, $35 and licence suspension; Ronald J. Johnston, 3576 Richmond, $50 and licence suspension, for careless driving.

Robert Thomas Kellington, 3025 Balfour, $10 for driving without a rear plate light.

NELLES SEES SAANICH TAX UP SHARPLY

Saanich taxes will jump "at least 25 per cent" in 1959 on the basis of its provisional budget, Coun. Charles Nelles revealed today.

He said he would take the newly-completed provisional budget to an amalgamation forum tonight, at 8 in St. George the Martyr Church hall, Cadboro Bay and Maynard.

Coun. Nelles and Coun. Leslie Passmore, hard-hitting opponents in amalgamation debates, are scheduled for a return match at the Saanich Voters' Association-sponsored meeting.

"I just got hold of this provisional budget today," he said.

"And, although it's much too modest for our needs, it still indicates in black and white that there will be a tax increase in Saanich next year."

City Anxious? Nonsense, Says Mayor

Mayor Percy Scurrell today angrily denounced "nonsense talk" from Saanich anti-amalgamationists.

"I'm getting tired of all this nonsense talk from certain people in Saanich that the city is anxious for amalgamation," he said.

He said the city agreed to having a study of amalgamation "only at the insistence of the reeve and council in Saanich."

"It wasn't us who started the ball rolling, it was Saanich. We agreed to go along only after months of campaigning for the study by the reeve of Saanich," he said referring to efforts of former reeve Arthur Ash.

Although he made no reference to Saanich Coun. Leslie Passmore, the mayor's criticism seemed directed at the councillor's repeated suggestions that Victoria was pushing amalgamation on Saanich.

House Committee Urged by Labor

Victoria Labor Council jumped feet first into the current B.C. power controversy Wednesday.

It labelled the proposed royal commission "a whitewash commission," called for a special house committee of the legislature to investigate power matters in the province—then decide to invite former B.C. Power Commission manager H. Lee Briggs to address the delegates.

(Mr. Briggs said Tuesday he would not accept any further speaking engagements other than those he had already promised.)

Some council members also suggested Premier Bennett be asked to speak to the council, but this proposal was not acted on.

The invitation to Briggs came after council secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone reported the premier's secretary had acknowledged a council letter calling for wide terms of reference for the royal commission.

The council executive recommended the acknowledgment be "received as progress."

'Progress' That Premier Answered

Protested a delegate, "I see little progress in the receipt of an acknowledgment. It is an explanation from the premier that we want."

Council vice-president E. T. Staley said the executive used the expression "received as progress" with some cynicism.

"Some of our letters to the premier never got an answer at all," he explained. "The fact that he has even acknowledged this one instead of waiting six months must be considered progress."

The description "whitewash commission" came from build-ers' delegate Percy Rayment, who charged the premier "was trying to avoid a full power investigation."

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie agreed the terms of reference of the royal commission "fell far short of what this council asked for."

"The council wanted the commission to probe cost of obtaining and distributing power, along with an investigation into its financing."

Socred Chiefs Briggs' Target

With two public addresses left before he quits his grass-roots "politicizing," former B.C. Power Commissioner H. L. Briggs stated today he has no quarrel with any political party, but "certainly with the leaders of the Social Credit Party."

Mr. Briggs will make his last scheduled Victoria speech at Victoria High School tonight at 8. The meeting is sponsored by a non-partisan citizens' committee and is open to the public.

Friday night he will address the Farmers' Union at Chilliwack.

"This winds up my present speaking campaign," Mr. Briggs told The Times today, "but if circumstances arise I still have the right to get up and express my views."

Mr. Briggs reiterated his former statement—that the only solution for rank-and-file Social Crediters is to cross the floor of the legislature. "Otherwise they will get caught in a landslide that will put them where they belong," he said.

Realistic View Urged

Mr. Briggs addressed an enthusiastic crowd of nearly 300 in Nanaimo Wednesday night. He appeared a trifle worn by events since he was fired Nov. 14 for criticizing Social Credit policy. But he spoke decisively on the need for "a realistic view" on power and development of the North country.

In his address he publicly apologized to Premier Bennett for falsely estimating cost of a Social Credit booklet, but said he had spoken in good faith on information from a publisher.

Earlier, Mr. Briggs had said that the booklet "Six Years of Social Credit" cost one dollar a copy for the 400,000 copies circulated.

Since then he had been told the cost would be 11.7 cents a copy.

In an angry rebuttal to the $1 a copy charge, Premier Bennett said Tuesday the cost of the booklet was 6½ cents a copy.

Mr. Briggs also stated that he will insist that Premier Bennett testify before the Shrum Royal Commission into B.C. Power Commission financing.

"I shall engage a lawyer to represent me when I appear before the commission," Mr. Briggs said.

Of the premier, he stated: "It was his politics which were involved. Of course, he should be called."

Labor Adds Voice to Battle Against Sikh 'Discrimination'

Alleged racial discrimination against a young Sikh couple by some Westall Ave. residents was angrily denounced Wednesday night by Victoria Labor Council.

Woodworkers' delegate Jack MacKenzie said Ajeet Bawa, 28-year-old Canadian-born East Indian, was a member of the International Woodworkers of America—"and I defy anybody to say he is any worse or any better than any one of us."

Council went on record as "deploring" the incident.

Meanwhile Ajeet, forced to leave his Westall Ave. home because neighbors didn't want him, has had offers of accommodation in several other Victoria areas.

"I got an offer of a house on Rockland Avenue," he said, "but it was much too large. I also had an offer of a house on Moss Street."

COMMUTING

Still living in Duncan, and commuting daily to his job at a sawmill on Plumper Bay at Craigflower, Ajeet doesn't have time on weekdays to view the offers or enquire about other prospects.

Doing some of the spade-work for him now is the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which Wednesday set up a committee of house-hunters.

TOO FAR AWAY

Ray Rawnsley, president, said he had received offers of many homes, but they were located too far from his work.

"You would be surprised if I told you the location of some of the homes which were offered to Ajeet," said Mr. Rawnsley. "Some of these are located in quite nice areas."

He said he had made a personal investigation into what appeared to be race discrimination.

"I questioned some of the Westall neighbors," he said, "and I'm certain many of the residents today are sorry they opposed the family moving into their district."

Hundreds of citizens and many organizations continue to protest the action of the Westall residents.

HOSPITABLE

Col. G. S. Scott, 4412 Wilkinson, who commanded tough hillmen troops on the north-west frontier of India and was a recruiting officer in the Punjab, home of the Sikhs, said: "I know the Sikhs well. They are among the most hospitable and friendly people I ever met. They are hard working. I used to mix with them in their villages."

Col. Russell B. Ker, president of the Victoria Real Estate Board, said: "We had nothing whatsoever to do with this."

Mrs. G. Howland, an official of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, said she was not surprised that racial discrimination existed in Victoria.

"There is certainly racial discrimination against our own native Indians," she said. "It also exists against other races to a lesser degree. The society is against any racial or color discrimination."

Reg Reid, social studies and English teacher at Victoria High School, said it was unfortunate that such a case had arisen in Victoria.

"High school students don't suffer from race discrimination," he said. "This sort of thing comes from adults."

Low Baxter, 1459 Westall, a Yorkshireman, said he was not a member of the group that opposed Ajeet.

"I never knew a thing about it until I read it in the paper," he said. "I favor the Sikh family coming into our district."

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—After touching a designated point on a sheet of paper which embodies a "horse race" game, sparks proceed away from the point along definite routes, leaving behind trails of burned paper. What specific chemicals could one apply to paper to prepare routes for such sparks? H.M.M.

A.—Brush on a solution of potassium chlorate or potassium nitrate along the route you want the sparks to take.

Q.—What is the national unemployment insurance fund total?

A.—As of March 31, it was $741,500,000.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Just dropped into a store on Yates to watch people recording Christmas greetings for shipment to friends and relations in distant places.

The drill now is you enter a mechanical recorder resembling a phone booth and put 50 cents in the slot. The robot whirs and clicks and then shows a green light which means you are "on the way."

A red light flashes 20 seconds from the end.

Total playing time: 75 seconds.

I notice, incidentally, that many Victorians usually write out their greetings first.

Visiting here from Idaho, J. G. Blandish commends this safety-first sign to motorists everywhere: Arrive Alive, Don't Drink and Drive.

Mrs. Mildred Hudlin of 2727 Douglas, has identified the tiny tot whose picture appeared in this column Tuesday.

She is Debbie Lawrence, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawrence who lived in Victoria until Sept. 26 last. They are now at 1833 Barrington Street, Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. Dolly Perry of Sartia River, Vancouver Island, took a colored snap of Debbie in Victoria last summer and wanted to send a print to the family. She had lost their address and asked us to find it.

Just part of the service.

H. N. Simmonds of 8002 Edmund Street, Crofton, thinks I underestimate the number of veterans of the 30th Canadian Battalion now living on the Island.

"I don't know who gave you the figure 27, but I'm sure there are many more around. The trouble is we are getting too old to turn up at reunions," writes Mr. Simmonds.

I see the Empress is getting ready for another of its Olde Englishe Christmases. As usual most of the bookings are from the United States, but a few Victoria couples with grown-up families regularly move into the hotel during the Yule season.

Seasoned regulars are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loughheed of 902 McClure, who have spent the last seven or eight Christmases at the Empress.

Mr. Loughheed arrived in Victoria from eastern Canada just 51 years ago and has never regretted it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Lloyd Belfry, 28, of 1137 North Park, was taken to Jubilee Hospital with a deep cut over the eye after falling 10-12 feet to a concrete driveway Wednesday at 9.20 p.m.

Police said the man had a possible leg injury also after his tumble from a porch.

George Seaton, of Langford, was fined $25 and $5.50 costs in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday on a charge of failing to file 1956 income tax return.

Annual dinner of the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Authors Association will be held in the YWCA on Friday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m.

Annual Fall Fair of the Craigflower School PTA realized more than $500 which will be devoted to the group's fund for school improvements.

A dining lounge licence for the sale of wine, beer and cocktails has been granted to the Thistle Room at the Glenisiel Hotel in Victoria the B.C. Liquor Control Board announced today.

A meeting of the Sangster School PTA will be held Friday at 7.30 p.m. in the school.

Trans-Canada Air Lines publicity officer Ross Smythe will speak on "Past and Future of Commercial Aviation" at a Lions Club meeting Friday noon, in the Empress Hotel.

Fred Manning, vice-president of British America Paint Co., Ltd., will address the Kismen Club today on his son John's lengthy trip through the South Pacific and Japan.

The meeting will be in the Pacific Club, at 6.30 p.m.
